New Men to be Brigaded with British Soldiers in Order to Hasten Training.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Transportation of American troops to France already is proceeding at the accelerated rate contemplated by the speeding-up measures taken after the battle of Picardy began. Acting Secretary Crowell made this statement today, but would give no details.

For military reasons, the extent of the increased troop movement has not been made public.

After the conferences between Secretary Baker and Allied officials, orders were given under which a [illegible] official statement was issued saying American forces were to be brigaded with British troops in order to hasten American participation in the war. Officials explained the process to be followed was similar to that adopted in placing American troops in the front lines with the French for training.

It has been estimated that thirty days' training of this character, with American battalion units assigned to the British organizations, will fit the newcomers for active duty. All battalions now moved from this country are composed of men who have had several months' preliminary training and who need only final in-

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, April 8.—A large German patrol attempted a surprise attack on the American outposts in the sector northwest of Toul early this morning, but was dispersed without being able to reach any of the American positions.

A corporal in a listening post, seeing the Germans approaching, waited until they were but a few yards away and then challenged them. The enemy answered with rifle fire, whereupon the American outposts opened with heavy machine-gun and automatic fire, scattering the Germans and driving them back to their own lines.

A violent artillery duel went on all through the night along the whole length of the American front. The Germans threw more shells into the American positions than in any similar period for the past few months. The American batteries replied vigorously.

Teuton Commanders Figured on Rapid Advances and Open Fighting.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Statements of German prisoners have convinced French military critics that the real objective of the great German offensive was Paris and that so far from expecting checks, which would make Amiens the goal of bloody and undecisive battles, the Teutonic high command sent its forces forward prepared for rapid advances in open warfare.

"In order to alleviate the march of the troops," says an official dispatch received today from France, "the order was given to prepare for their departure and to organize the convoys in such a way as only to carry with them what was indispensable. The remaining was to be stored at a depot designed by the divisions. The loading carriages, the munitions to be carried, the equipment and arming of the men all had been carefully planned as well as the distribution of maps of the country to be invaded. The men were to carry reserves of food, enough to last two days, and two flasks, the usual food for a day, following them in rolling kitchens and provisions for three days in company convoys.

"In short, every arrangement shows that the German command had decided to resort to open warfare. It is certain that the military situation after more than fifteen days of operations is one of extreme disappointment to the German command."

POSITION BETTER DAILY.

Every day finds the Allies in a better position to resist with definite success the greater offensive, according to an official review today by the British military attaches. French, British and American reserves are pouring in daily to help check the German drive, the review declares.

"The opening of the third week of fighting east of Amiens," says the review, "finds the position of the Allies steadily improving.

"A very strong effort by the enemy to drive down the Somme to Amiens, during which he used about twenty-five divisions on a front of a few miles was stopped last week with complete success; only in one place was the German line advanced and then only to a depth of less than a mile on a narrow front.

"North of Albert, the British advance beat off repeated and vicious attacks without bending.

NOWHERE NEAR AMIENS.

"Near Montdidier, the French withdrew a short distance to strong positions. The enemy is nowhere within nine miles of Amiens; he is still three miles distant at his furtherest point of advance from the main Amiens-Paris railway, the cutting of which would bring him no real victory. The best proof of his discomfiture is the use that he is making of minor incidents for window-dressing purposes.

"A short time ago in the course of the steady advance of the British army in Palestine a small force was thrown across the Jordan to cut the Hedjaz railway. Its work done, it retired from the waterless waste through which the railway runs and rejoined the army. This retirement was advertised by the Germans as a triumph for the Turks, who are alleged to have thrown the British force back over the Jordan.

VALUELESS "SUCCESSES."

"Similarly, the Germans are gloating today over the capture of Pierremande and Folembray, in the neighborhood of Chauny, and the forest of Courcy. As a matter of fact these 'successes' are valueless, such advance as they imply is at the extreme south of the battle zone some forty-five or fifty miles from Amiens; its tactical value is no greater than its strategic value. Pierremande and Folembray are only outposts of the real French position in that neighborhood and there is no reason to believe that they were more than lightly held.

"Doubtless, the Germans will make further great efforts before they acknowledge the failure of their great spring drive, but it is safe to say that each day that passes finds the Allies in a better position to resist with definite success. Each day their reserves, which are already considerable, are being swollen by fresh contingents from their own armies and that of the United States."

PARIS, April 8.—Shortly following the action of President Poincare in refusing clemency to Bolo Pasha, convicted of treason in acting as the agent of German propaganda in France, which caused the expectation that his execution would not be long delayed, it was announced today that the military judicial authorities had granted Bolo a reprieve. Their action was based upon the representation of his attorney, Albert Salles, that the convicted man had revelations to make to the authorities.

Several evening newspapers say the execution of Bolo Pasha had been ordered for this morning.

Germans Use Twenty-five Divisions in Vain Effort to Break Line.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, Sunday, April 7.—Twenty-five divisions have been used by the Germans in the last four days in efforts to break through the French line and reach the railroad running south from Amiens. All attacks have been checked by the wonderful resistance of the French, some of whom were thrown into the line as soon as they arrived on the battlefield.

The Germans are obtaining only insignificant results in their attempts to advance, considering the number of troops engaged, as the German force is at least three times as great as the number of French defenders.

The cheerfulness and confidence with which the French troops go into action is remarkable. They feel they are better than the enemy and make light of the German superiority in numbers.

The French command continues to work on the principle of using the smallest possible number of troops to stay the German rush, thus retaining the reserve for possible attacks some place else.

Powerful trench mortars have made their appearance behind the German infantry, but up to this time have not influenced the situation to any extent and in some places the guns have been unable to approach within an effective range.

TRY IN SMALL GROUPS.

On the other hand, an enormous number of machine guns pour an intense barrage into the French lines and at the same time the German infantry attempts, under cover of this fire, to get close to the French line in small groups and establish pockets from which to leap forward at the proper moment.

This procedure was quickly neutralized by the French and the Germans are now resuming massed attacks in which their men come under direct fire of French machine guns, rifles, grenades and 75's, which inflict terrible losses. The 75's do terrific execution, cutting wide lanes through the enemy ranks.

The enemy commanders appear to pay little attention to this slaughter, their aim being to reach the objective whatever the cost.

SANGUINARILY REPULSED.

Late last night, the enemy again attacked in the region of Grievesnes, but were repulsed sanguinarily and forced back to their own lines with greatly diminished numbers. Farther south, in the vicinity of Noyon, they at first succeeded in entering the French positions. Later, after the most severe fighting they were compelled to retreat, leaving the situation unchanged.

Mont Renaud, near Noyon, saw repeated attacks from the Germans throughout Saturday, but all were equally futile. The hill was the first point where the French barred the German advance through the Oise Valley toward Compiegne and Paris. When the Germans first swept down from Noyon the hill changed hands repeatedly. The ground thereabouts shows striking evidence of the fearful nature of the battle in the number of German bodies that can be seen.

FRENCH HAVEN'T BUDGED.

Since March 30 the French have not budged. In fact, they have gained some ground on the northern slopes of the hill. The Germans occupied two hills overlooking Mont Renaud, which possess little practical value, although they afford a view of what is going on in Noyon and slightly beyond that town.

Farther eastward, along the Oise, the French fell back Saturday from the dangerous salient north of Amigny. Fighting all the way, they retired to better positions, which had been prepared along the Ailette River.

GERMAN LOSSES AT LEAST 300,000.

American Officer Returns from Picardy Battlefield with Estimate.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, April 8.—An American officer who has just returned from the battlefields of northern France, where he has been since virtually the beginning of the German offensive, estimates that, thus far, the Germans have lost at least 300,000 men in killed, wounded and missing. This officer formerly was in the British army and is familiar with all the conditions.

BATTLE SUMMARY.

The Associated Press, in its summary last night of the battle situation in France, says:

Facing American, French and British troops strongly intrenched and well equipped for battle, the German army has for the moment given up its direct drive against Amiens. After utter repulse in his efforts to smash straight through to his objective, the enemy now is attempting a new maneuver which is intended to broaden the field of action and reduce the menace of a counter-offensive that would nullify all the gains made by the Teutons since March 21.

Reports from the battle line in Picardy disclose the first stages of this new German offensive aimed at either side of the salient in the Allied lines. From La Bassee Canal in the north, to the sectors east of Laon, the great artillery forces of the enemy are thundering, with the bombardment deepening at places to the intensity of drumfire.

FRONT LENGTHENED.

The length of this front is approximately 120 miles. North of Lens, east of Arras, along the new front running through Bucquoy to Albert, south of Montdidier and thence eastward past Lassigny and Noyon to a point far beyond Chauny, the Germans are hammering the Allied lines in an attempt to break the defenses and prepare them for the infantry assault which may be expected at any moment.

On the western "elbow" of the salient in the Allied lines the Germans are forced to fight uphill. Their advance across the lower ground along the Somme, Ancre, Avre and Luce rivers has carried them up to a parapet of hills, which sentinel the road to Amiens. The attacks along this natural bulwark have netted the enemy only insignificant gains at a horrible cost.

SHARP SALIENTS.

At points the German efforts have gained, but these gains have resulted only in the formation of sharp salients, which are swept by rifle and machine gun fire and tempests of shells whenever enemy troops are seen forming for an attack.

There is a wholesome respect in the German General Staff for the Allied reserve army, which as yet appears to have been drawn upon lightly to meet the Teutonic attacks. The attack on the French lines southeast of Chauny is for the purpose of removing a menacing salient and the gaining of better protection to the German left flank.

ASSAULT STILL ON.

This assault is still going on, and it has made considerable progress. The Germans struck through the lower forest of Coucy, and have reached a point south of the village of Folembray. The Berlin official statement claims that 2000 prisoners have been taken.

That an attack of large dimensions is planned for the front of Arras northward to Lens is considered probable by military experts. As long as this front is in its present position, the Germans cannot exert their full strength on the line before Amiens. The cannonade in this region may be the prelude of a massed attack such as bent the British line during the latter days of March.

Huns Heavily Bombarding with Gas Shells Over an Extensive Area.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, April 8.—Intense artillery work has been proceeding at various points along the British battle front throughout the night and this morning. North of the River Scarpe and south of the Somme River German divisions are conducting an unusually heavy bombardment, such as heretofore has indicated an impending attack.

From 8 o'clock last night until midnight, the enemy heavily bombarded with gas shells the area between Cite St. Emilie and La Bassee Canal in the Lens sector. The Germans also threw large quantities of gas east of Armentieres. The hostile artillery fire was above normal along the whole stretch of battle front north of the Scarpe.

Late last night the German guns also were very active in the area south of Villers-Bretonneaux, below the Somme. Again this morning at 4:50 o'clock the German gunners opened a terrific fire southwest of Hangard wood. About an hour later the hostile artillery broke out against the French front just south of the British.

Throughout Sunday the German cannonade was unusually heavy in the region of Arras.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, April 7.—Attacks and counter-attacks continue to spring up at various points along the British battle front. While none of them has seemed large, as compared with the intense conflict waged in the first days of the German offensive, yet all of them are important in that they represent the foundation work for bigger events to come.

Twice last evening and again this morning the Germans undertook to advance at points in the sector north

MOSCOW IS EXCITED AT VLADIVOSTOK LANDINGS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

MOSCOW, Saturday, April 6.—The Japanese landing at Vladivostok has created great excitement in Moscow. The people's commissioners held a session, which lasted throughout Friday night, considering the situation.

M. Tchitcherin, the Acting Commissioner of Foreign Affairs, summoned the French, British and American diplomatic representatives to the Foreign Office for a conference. Col. Raymond Robins, head of the permanent American Red Cross mission to Russia, attended unofficially. Consul Grenard acted for France and R. Lockhart of the British Embassy for Great Britain.

M. Tchitcherin made an emphatic protest against the entry of foreign troops into Russia and expressed regret that the Entente permitted such action. He said the only solution was the immediate withdrawal of the troops.

Although without official advices from their governments concerning the situation at Vladivostok, the representatives of the three countries expressed the opinion that the situation was purely a local one, requiring temporary policing and not a general movement of Allied troops into Siberia, as the commissioners seemed to believe. All three gave it as their opinion that the incident might be settled satisfactorily at an early date.

The Russian papers of all parties generally express fear that the Vladivostok movement is the first step in the Japanese occupation of Siberia, and the idea that has been prevalent in the Russian press constantly for months.

The Siberian central executive of the Workmen's and Soldiers' Deputies immediately organized a Red Army to resist the Japanese and has protested against the landing of forces as unwarranted interference not justified by the insignificant incident at Vladivostok.

RADICALS ARRIVING.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

VLADIVOSTOK, Monday, April 1.—Radical Bolsheviki are steadily arriving from Irkutsk and Blagovestchensk, sometimes accompanied by armed Austrian prisoners, with the avowed purpose of forcing the local Bolsheviki to adopt harsher measures. This has resulted in the seizure of the Russian volunteer fleet and the occupation of postoffices and telegraph offices. Despite the general feeling of insecurity, John K. Caldwell, American Consul in this city, Mrs. Caldwell and Mrs. Stryker of New Jersey, with a number of other Americans, have remained here.

The population is friendly to foreigners, but the Bolshevik press is printing critical articles relative to consuls. The Bolsheviki are levying large sums of money from Russian firms and threaten confiscation. A large number of Russians and some British are arriving and 2000 are clamoring for passage on the Hozan Maru, the only steamer sailing for Japan. Advices from Irkutsk state that a train of armed German prisoners, with machine guns, has arrived there.

Full American Approval Is Expected of Landing of British Forces at Vladivostok.

To Protect Life and Property.

BOLSHEVIKI'S OBJECTION MAY CAUSE DIFFICULTIES

Action, Following that of Japan, in an Effort to End Conditions of Anarchy, Unexpectedly Taken.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The landing of Japanese and British forces at Vladivostok and the Bolshevik objection to the move promise to cause the State Department some concern. When Japanese occupation in Siberia was proposed recently, this government assumed a "hands off" policy and the Russian National Council of Soviets has announced its purpose to protest to the United States against the present step.

America's attitude drew expressions of satisfaction from the Russian official press; but developments in Vladivostok have changed the situation. In the past the United States often has asserted its right to land naval forces to overcome conditions of anarchy existing at some foreign port where American lives and property were involved. In Vera Cruz large military forces were used for this purpose without violating the general principle of international law.

EXPECT FULL APPROVAL.

Assuming that the American Consul's report that Japanese citizens were killed and wounded at Vladivostok by unrestrained Russians is supplemented by evidence that the local Bolshevik officials either are powerless or unwilling to punish the guilty parties and afford adequate protection to foreign life and property, officials here feel that they cannot withhold full approval of the action of the Japanese and the British. The fact that the British followed the action of the Japanese gives an international aspect to the incident which also tends to deprive it of any appearance of a simple act of Japanese aggression.

DIFFICULTIES IN WAY.

Difficulties are anticipated by officials in communicating a sound and sane explanation of the attitude of this government to the Bolshevik authorities in Moscow. It is expected that there will be some communication from the Japanese and the British governments to the State Department here of the purposes of the naval commanders and officials hope they will allay the Bolshevik apprehensions that a military invasion of Siberia by Japan and Great Britain may have been started.

DETAILS OF LANDING.

News of the landing of the British force at Vladivostok, which followed a Japanese party into the city, reached the State Department officially today from the American Consul there.

Additional advices to the State Department said that only fifty sailors were landed from a British cruiser. They were sent ashore to guard the consulate. The Japanese force was increased Saturday by 250 men. No resistance was offered either to the landing of the British or the second Japanese force.

MINIMIZE SIGNIFICANCE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

MOSCOW, Sunday, April 7.—The Japanese representative at Vologda has sent a communication to Tchitcherin, the Russian Foreign Minister, minimizing the significance of the landing at Vladivostok, according to the Izvestia. The communication said that the incident was local and that Admiral Kato acted on his own initiative and without specific orders from his government. Tchitcherin, however, is reported to be skeptical.

BRITISH MARINES LANDED.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, April 8.—The landing of British marines at Vladivostok was principally to protect the railway station and the vicinity of the British Consulate, according to a Reuter dispatch from Tokio.

Board to Select.

MAY PICK COAST LINE AVIATION BASE HERE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—An order announcing the appointment of a board of four army officers and one civilian to select sites for two big aviation bases on the Pacific Coast line was received by the Western Department of the army here today.

One of the bases is to be located in what is known as the South Pacific district, which includes the California coast. The other is to be in the North Pacific district, which includes the coast of Oregon and Washington. Both bases are to be fully equipped with scouting and defense planes, according to the order. Army officials said today that the establishment of these bases is intended to release naval vessels in the Pacific for duty in the war zones.

Maj. Edward B. Lyon, aviation section of the Signal Corps, was named to head the board. The others are Capt. Frank Stockdale, Medical Reserve Corps; First Lieutenant C. G. Spencer, aviation section, Signal Corps; C. B. Faber, a civilian, and another army officer was to be named by Maj. Lyon later.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce has sent telegrams to Capt. H. Z. Osborne, Congressman for the Tenth District, and Carl McStay, representative of the chamber now at Washington, offering the services and facilities of the chamber to the board in selecting a site.

Maj. Lyon, mentioned in the dispatch, was one of the army officers who attended Lieut. Boyriven, the French aviator who inspected sites here and who was enthusiastic over the facilities offered by Southern California. Lieut. Spencer was also of this party and one of the board which recommended the Riverside aviation site.

James Connelly of New York, representing the Catholic hierarchy of America, called on Gen. Pershing at general headquarters today to outline the work which the Knights of Columbus are inaugurating in France.

Gen. Pershing offered every facility to expedite the work and promised the hearty co-operation of the army authorities.

Mr. Kernan announced that temporary headquarters already had been established in Paris, and that eighteen secretaries who arrived last week had been assigned to places at the main debarkation ports and with the field forces. Additional secretaries, he said, were on the way from the United States.

"Only by force can Germany be met, and with that force she will be met," declared Lord Reading. At another point he said:

AMBASSADOR APPLAUDED.

The Ambassador was applauded by the audience, composed largely of speakers gathered here for a conference preliminary to launching a new patriotic speaking campaign. In addition to the Earl of Reading, addresses were delivered by the Belgian and Serbian ministers, George Creel, chairman of the Committee on Public Information, and John Barrett, director of the Pan-American Union.

Explaining the entrance of Great Britain into the war, Lord Reading said his nation cast her lot with the Allies, not because she was bound by treaties, but because, like the United States, she could not stand by and see the smaller nations suffer from Germany's aggression. He urged the fostering of a spirit of self-sacrifice.

WORTH THE SACRIFICE.

"Is the sacrifice worth it?" he asked. "Yes, worth it again and again. It's worth it if we realized that we are fighting for liberty and justice. This war is a challenge of brutality to justice. If the Allies win—and they assuredly will—right and justice will triumph. Lend all your aid and all your power to it.

"And, by your assistance you will have done your part in driving down underground the power of wrong, and in upholding and enthroning on high, to shine forever in the world, the power of right."

SUBMARINE WARFARE.

While admitting the seriousness of the submarine menace, the Ambassador pointed out that Great Britain has transported millions of fighting men across the seas with a loss of only 13,500 of them, including the 550 wounded men who have gone down with torpedoed hospital ships. The cargo ships have suffered heavily, he said, but England has been able to move more than 130,000,000 tons of commodities overseas, despite the U-boats.

Both Great Britain and America are working feverishly on their shipping programmes, said the Ambassador, not with any idea of taking preliminary steps towards a post-bellum commercial rivalry, but to provide great fleets to take men, munitions and supplies to France.

"All ideas of commercial rivalries and jealousies disappeared in the war," he added. "We have but one idea—to win the war."

Lord Reading spoke of the third Liberty Loan and expressed England's gratitude to this country for the readiness with which the treasury has aided by frequent loans the purchase of British war materials in the United States.

Declaring that America's economic assistance is of the greatest value, the Ambassador urged the lecturers to disseminate the doctrine that "every stroke of the laboring man is equivalent to a shot at the enemy."

SERBIA'S MINISTER SPEAKS.

Minister, Michailovitch of Serbia declared that his nation made every effort, suffered every humiliation, in order to avoid the present war.

"When on the 23rd of July, 1914," said the Minister, "Austria addressed to Serbia the well-known ultimatum, my country knew that a powerful neighbor desired war. But she also knew that this war would set fire to the whole of Europe. She therefore decided to make every concession in order to avoid this tremendous conflict.

"Serbia consented to imprison innocent people; to discharge from the army officers who had committed no crime; to suppress patriotic societies; to offer apologies for deeds of which no one in Serbia was guilty; to revise the programme of her schools, and even to change the paragraph of the constitution in order to be able to suppress liberty of speech and of the press, as demanded by Austria-Hungary."

The Minister declared that Serbia acceded to demands which amounted to the imposition on her people of a reactionary system of government, "thereby submitting to the greatest humiliation for an independent state."

The Central Powers, said the Minister, viewed with much concern the entry of the United States into the war, "because their new enemy does not threaten them only with its military force, but also with the strength of the just principles it represents."

CREEL ANSWERS CRITICS.

Mr. Creel in his address, replied vigorously to critics of the administration, and particularly to Senators who have attacked the War Department. He scored those Senators who attacked the policy of arming the first American troops sent to France with British and French ordnance, pointing out that the Allied governments themselves suggested this course.

In reference to the airplane programme, which some Senators recently charged had almost completely broken down, Mr. Creel said that "in thirty days an airplane programme will be announced that will deserve the complete confidence of the American people." The Liberty motor is 100 per cent. perfect, he said, and in a week ample proof will be given of this fact.

WAR OFFICE STATEMENTS

BRITISH.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, April 8.—On the southern bank of the Somme the British last night made a small advance, it is announced officially.

The statement follows:

"We advanced our line slightly during the night on the south bank of the Somme, east of Vaire-Sous-Corbie.

"North of the Somme a few prisoners and a machine gun were captured by us in the neighborhood of Neuville-Vitasse.

"The enemy's artillery has shown increased activity during the night on the whole British battle front. Heavy hostile gas shelling has taken place also between Lens and La Bassee canal and east of Armentieres."

LONDON, April 8.—"Except for hostile artillery activity on different parts of the battle front and especially in the neighborhood of Bocquoy," says Field Marshal Haig's statement from France tonight, "there is nothing of special interest to report."

FRENCH.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, April 8.—Violent artillery engagements occurred last night, especially on the left bank of the Oise River, says today's official report.

No infantry actions on the principal battle front are reported. The statement follows:

"The night was marked by violent artillery actions, especially on the left bank of the Oise.

"French patrols were very active, bringing in prisoners.

"On the left bank of the Meuse, in the Argonne, German raids were repulsed.

"Everywhere else the night passed in quiet.

"Raids against our small posts in the Argonne and in the sector of Vaux-les-Palameix brought no result.

"On April 6 seven German airplanes and two captive balloons were brought down by our pilots. Our bomber dropped 5000 kilos of projectiles on enemy stations and cantonments.

"Eastern theater: There were skirmishes between patrols south of Demir-Hissar and near Lunzi and artillery duels west of Doiran and west of Monastir."

PARIS, April 8.—The War Office announcement tonight says:

"During the course of the day the enemy pressure continued north of the Ailette River in the region of the lower Coucy Forest. The advanced sections of our troops resisted and hindered the advance of the enemy, who was in greatly superior numbers, inflicting upon him heavy losses.

"On the Somme front between Montdidier and Noyon, there was no infantry action, but the two artilleries displayed spirited activity.

"In the Vosges an enemy attack failed north of Tete de Faux.

"Eastern theater, April 7: Patrol encounters took place along the Struma and artillery actions in the Vardar Valley, the Cerna Bend and north of Monastir. Enemy cantonments at Demir-Hissar were bombed by British airplanes."

GERMAN.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN (via London) April 8.—The powerful German pressure along the Oise is forcing the French back at the lower outskirts of Coucy Wood, according to the official report from general headquarters this evening, which says:

"In continuation of our attack on the southern bank of the Oise we drove the enemy out of his stronghold positions on the heights east of Coucy-le-Chateau."

BERLIN (via London) April 8.—The official communication from general headquarters today reads:

"On the battle front on both sides of the Somme the fighting activity remained limited to artillery duels.

"Local attacks by the British in Hangard Wood and by the French near Crisvesnes failed with heavy losses.

"On the southern bank of the Oise our successes of Saturday forced the enemy to evacuate parts of his positions between Bichancourt and Barisis on the night of April 6-7. Yesterday we continued our attacks and threw the enemy back to the western bank of the Ailette after having captured Pierremande and Folembray.

"Enemy columns retreating from Bichancourt along the Oise were attacked on the flank by our machine-gun fire from the north bank of the river and were shot down with the heaviest losses.

"Our troops, advancing on the eastern border of Coucy Wood, and by way of Bariris stormed a hillock northeast of Folembray and advanced as far as Varueuil. The number of captured prisoners has increased to more than 2000.

"Capt. Von Richthofen achieved his seventy-seventh and seventy-eighth aerial victories."

EX-GERMAN CONSUL NOW TO SERVE TERM.

KARL BUENZ, RECOVERED, WILL GO TO PENITENTIARY FOR EIGHTEEN MONTHS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 8.—United States Judge Harlan Howe announced today he would recommend to Atty.-Gen. Gregory that Karl Buenz, former German Consul-General and once head director of the Hamburg-American line here, is physically able to begin serving his sentence of eighteen months in the Atlanta penitentiary.

Dr. Buenz has been at liberty since his conviction last year of conspiring to defraud the government by issuing false manifests to ships with cargoes intended to supply German sea raiders. The defendant claimed to be suffering from a dangerous malady and in an appeal to President Wilson for commutation of sentence presented the testimony of thirty doctors that a prison term would cost his life.

Previous to Judge Howe's announcement, a letter from Dr. Buenz, saying he was ready to serve his sentence was placed in the Federal court records at the resumption of the hearing into his application for a respite.

WILSON SPEECH DOOMS THE HUN

America's Determination to Crush Militarism Clear.

President's Address Shows England Our Intentions.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, April 8.—The doom of the military power of Germany was pronounced by President Wilson in his speech at Baltimore, says the Morning Post.

"Whether or not the Allies are strong enough to break in pieces the German military powers remains to be seen," says the newspaper. "But, given time, that America is able to defeat the enemy, is as little doubtful as she is resolved to do it, however long the work may take.

"We can assure our American friends that their brave and simple declarations are inexpressibly encouraging. They look upon the war from a point of view which, after nearly four years of stupefying vicissitude, we have lost.

DUTY IN GOOD CAUSE.

"President Wilson from the first has insisted that before all it is a moral issue. There are millions of men among the Americans and the forces of the Allies who are fighting in the simple faith that they are doing duty in a good cause."

The Daily Mail says:

"In these hours of trial Great Britain feels the real meaning of American sympathy and aid. She is heavily engaged on many fronts and in many different ways, and on each front and in each sphere she is lavishly giving her blood.

"When President Wilson solemnly declares that in 'utter self-sacrifice and self-forgetfulness' America will give 'all that we love and all that we have to redeem the world and make it fit for free men like ourselves to live in,' we know that this pledge will be kept."

WITH UNANSWERABLE TRUTH.

The Daily News says:

"In his speech commemorating the anniversary of America's entry into the war, President Wilson with that dispassionate finality which always marks his utterances, stated the issue with unanswerable truth. It is whether the world is to be governed by the German military staff. Liberalism has tried to find an accommodation with despotism, but now it knows that no such accommodation is possible, and that if the world is to be made fit for free men to live in, military despotism and the whole institution of war must go, finally and irrevocably.

"It was the conviction of this fundamental truth which led President Wilson to break with the tradition of his country, and it is this conviction that kept him so loyal to the cause of Russia and the Russian revolution when other statesmen have faltered and lost faith. This moral leadership in the war is not the least of the debts which we owe to the intervention of the United States. It has been the cardinal mistake of Germany that she has never understood President Wilson, and never believed in the military value of American support.

ALLIANCE CONSOLIDATED.

"In disregarding the President's peace terms and insisting on the prolongation of the war and a decision by force, she has done an incalculable service to the cause of freedom. She has consolidated the alliance between the democracy of America and the democracies of Europe. If the war had been confined to European belligerents we could hardly have escaped an artificial settlement on the old scheme of European politics. With America as the dominating factor in the final stages this disaster is averted. It guarantees a world peace founded on the principles that secured the practical elimination of militarism from the American continent.

"Lincoln fought and won his war in order that the rule of righteousness should prevail in the western world. The greater task was never committed to wiser or more capable hands. We need not fear the result."

PARALLEL IN CRUSADES.

The Daily Telegraph says:

"America's day was celebrated on Saturday by the Lord Mayor's luncheon at the mansion house and by notable messages and speeches from the King, the Prime Minister, Mr. Balfour and the American Ambassador. It has historical importance of a singular and unexampled kind. There has been nothing quite like it before.

"Perhaps a not altogether inapt parallel might be found in the crusades. In the eleventh and twelfth centuries, the forces of Christendom were ranged to put an end to the barbaric domination of the power which was desirous to enslave, instead of redeem the territories which its eager murderous hand had usurped. As the objects of the great crusading enterprise touched the imagination of ardent believers, many centuries ago, so, too, the ordeals of the Entente Powers appeal to all that instinctive heroism and practical energy which characterize the republic in the west.

"America without any doubt has interpreted the campaign as a holy crusade of sustained, noble effort to push back the dark forces of cruelty and oppression and restore to humanity at large not only in Europe, but the world, as a safe place for liberty and justice. There can be no manner of question that the speeches of President Wilson and his clear enunciation of the principles which underlie the tremendous conflict have done the greatest service to humanity.

"Moreover nothing has further touched the feeling and stirred the gratitude of Entente Powers than the voluntary offer to allow American troops to be brigaded with British and French troops in order to give immediate assistance in the conduct of the campaign.

"The immediate and perhaps most enduring effect of America's intervention in the war is to raise still higher that sacred passion of patriotism to which it is given to surmount all difficulties and win the final triumph. America helps Great Britain and her allies, Great Britain and her allies help America in common sacrifice and in united faith."

UNCONQUERABLE RESOLVE.

The Times says:

"The anniversary of America's entry into the war has kept both sides of the Atlantic in the temper for which so great an occasion calls. The speeches of President Wilson at Baltimore and of the Foreign Secretary and the American Ambassador at London breathed the same spirit of absolute conviction and unconquerable resolve. They meet the last peace offensive of the enemy by an uncompromising refusal to credit his professions so long as his acts stand in flagrant contradiction with his words. President Wilson is, he acknowledges, utterly disillusioned. He recognizes that Germany has once more shown her faith that force alone must decide the high moral issues at stake. He declares sadly and reluctantly, but with unflinching firmness, that force must answer here and he pledges America to use force to the utmost without stint or limit. He sees that it is the enemy's purpose to build up a great empire of force, coupled with an empire of gain, stretching across the Slav lands into Asia.

"So vast are the possibilities of such a project that he suggests that the enemy might possibly propose favorable terms in the west were they left free to work out their schemes in the east. They will not be given that freedom. There is not enough room, said Mr. Balfour, for the ideals cherished by the German military and ideals cherished by the great free democracies of the world. One or the other must prevail. It is the realization of this truth by the peoples of the Entente and the United States which makes a peace by agreement out of the question.

"'We have found and taken our place,' said Ambassador Page, 'in the array of free nations.' That is what constitutes the moral greatness of America's action in siding with the Allies. The perfect co-ordination between the American Navy and our own and the spectacle of the troops of the three nations fighting as a single solid army in France are the result and the symbols of this conviction. So is the astonishing union of desire and purpose which exists in each of the nations themselves. President Wilson has the whole people behind him as Mr. Lloyd George has in England and Premier Clemenceau in France. That is more than either Washington or Lincoln had; more than the most illustrious of our own statesmen had in the sternest of our past wars.

"It is a new fact in the history of great peoples, wrought by the universal perception of what a 'German peace' would bring."

WHAT PARIS PAPERS SAY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, April 8.—All the Paris newspapers give a prominent place to President Wilson's Baltimore speech, the majority of them printing it in full, others giving long extracts of it with favorable comment.

Le Matin says that a year ago President Wilson declared war, and today he declares war to a finish.

"Finally, Germany's real character has been revealed to President Wilson as a monster nation, existing only by devouring others, until it shall devour itself."

Gaulois, referring to the evolution of President Wilson, says:

"Don't worry, but hurry. We can hold the flood now, but the help of American bayonets will be needed to break Germany's power."

CANADIAN OFFICERS PRAISE CAMP LEWIS.

ONE OF THE BEST TRAINING GROUNDS VISITED, THEY DECLARE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CAMP LEWIS (Wash.) April 8.—Camp Lewis was honored this morning with a visit by Brig.-Gen. R. A. Halmer, inspector-general of musketry in the Canadian army, accompanied by a major of the Canadian force who has seen overseas service.

Yesterday Col. McTavish and Maj. Dreskie of the Canadian Army Medical Corps, and Maj. Ritchie of the Canadian Engineer Corps, visited Camp Lewis and inspected the base hospital, calling on Lieut.-Col. Eugene G. Northington. They were escorted through the hospital by Lieut.-Col. P. C. Field of the division surgical staff.

All of the visitors were favorably impressed by the conditions at Camp Lewis, and declared that it is one of the best training camps they have visited.

THEY'LL TEACH HOW TO WIN THE WAR.

NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF LECTURERS IS OPENED AT WASHINGTON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 8.—A national conference of American lecturers, called to lay plans for the training of men and women to lead instruction on how to win the war, was begun here today. Sessions will last throughout the week, and the names of many persons of national repute appear on the programme as speakers.

George Creel, chairman of the Committee on Public Information, said:

"Those who criticise the use of broomsticks in training our armies are not seeking to win the war. They are trying to win other campaigns at a later date."

Creel declared it would be impracticable for the nation even to dream of sending 50,000 airplanes overseas.

"The Liberty motor is 100 per cent. perfect," he said, "and in a week ample proof will be given of this fact."

PLAN TO SPEED CONCRETE SHIPS

Hurley will Ask Congress for Fifty Millions.

Two Plants will be Built on the Pacific Coast.

Propose to Build a Large Fleet of Tankers First.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Fifty million dollars will be asked of Congress tomorrow by Chairman Hurley of the Shipping Board for development of concrete shipbuilding. The plan is to establish at once five government yards, two on the Pacific Coast and three in the South.

Sites for the plans already are under consideration and will be announced shortly. The three in the South probably will include one already planned for Wilmington, N. C. Transportation facilities and easy access to cement and sand will govern the selections.

The first vessels turned out by the government yards will be 7500-ton tankers, but because of the shortage of oil carriers and because in the present stage of concrete ship development the board is more confident of success with the tankers than with general cargo craft.

As yet concrete ships are admitted by experts to be "a gamble," because the behavior of such a vessel under load in a heavy sea is unknown. Success in the experiment is not guaranteed, but Mr. Hurley and General Manager Piez of the Emergency Fleet Corporation hold that in the present emergency, every possible means of adding quickly to the war tonnage should be utilized.

Greater chance of success is expected from the operation of concrete tankers because the liquid load will constantly seek a level and not entail the strain on the ship that a solid load would, in a heavy sea.

The concrete ship Faith, built on the Pacific Coast for private account, is almost ready to undertake a voyage. Engines probably will be installed by May 1. Preliminary reports on the launching of the Faith, which was witnessed by R. J. Wig of the Shipping Board have been very enthusiastic as to possibilities.

Mr. Hurley, Mr. Piez and Mr. Wig conferred today with Senators McCumber and Simmons, both of whom are understood to have agreed experiments on a large scale with the new construction should be made as soon as possible. The $50,000,000 requested will be spent almost entirely for ships, as each yard can be built for perhaps $25,000. The yards will have from four to seven ways each.

Locations in the West and South will be sought to avoid moisture and cold, which retard concrete pouring. It was said authoritatively that the Pacific Coast locations will be in Southern California.

Plans for the new 7500-ton vessels will be ready in six weeks. They will be equipped with oil-burning reciprocating engines, capable of driving the ship seven or eight knots an hour, which is regarded as fast enough for coastwise and nonhazardous service.

PLANT AT MARTINEZ.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—The Motorship Corporation will establish a plant for the building of concrete ships at Martinez, Cal., at the mouth of the San Joaquin River, immediately after the third Liberty Loan drive is finished, it was announced by Jesse Olney, general counsel for the concern.

Engineers of the corporation contend they have discovered a process for protecting reinforcing steel in concrete ships from corrosion. The corporation will direct its greatest efforts toward manufacturing cold storage ships, Olney said.

SAILORS RULE RUSSIAN SHIPS.

Discipline of Fleet Destroyed by Bolshevik Order.

Crew's Committee Governs Warship Officers.

Dirt and Squalor Cover Once Trim Cruisers.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONDON, March 20.—Discipline in the Russian navy had been destroyed even before the Kerensky government at Petrograd was overthrown by the Bolsheviki, writes a Helsingfors correspondent of The Observer. The sailors on some of the warships had organized "ship's committees" which decided in many cases whether the orders of the captains should be obeyed. Through these committees the sailors subjected their superiors to humiliation by refusing them permission to leave the ships or annulling their orders.

Describing his visit to a Russian battleship at Helsingfors, the correspondent wrote:

"I found dirt and squalor almost as bad as in Petrograd. The decks had not seen water or a broom for a long time. Everything one touched was dirty, black and grimy, and the whole aspect aboard ship was one of desolation and despondency. The sailors, free from all restraint and discipline, wore a sullen, sulky look.

My host, the commanding officer, explained the delicate position as regarded the Ship's Committee, and the care and tact that was required before issuing any order to the men in order to avoid the possibility of its being disobeyed or annulled, with consequent loss of prestige.

"There was even an absence of loyalty among the junior officers of the ship. A young officer, for instance, demurred to executing an order which the captain had given, on the ground that the ship's committee had expressed disapproval of such action. The captain insisted and the order was obeyed.

"One of the malcontents in the crew told an officer one afternoon that the Ship's Committee had passed a resolution to murder the captain and another officer. The officers set a guard around the captain's quarters, but the plan of the Ship's Committee was negatived by the receipt during the evening of the news that the Bolsheviki had overthrown Kerensky in Petrograd, this news being accompanied by a telegram ordering that no life was to be taken in the fleet until further orders had been received from Bolshevik headquarters.

"The constant humiliation to which the officers of the warships were subjected by their Ship's Committees knew no bounds. Many of the men delighted in their newly-acquired power and experimented with it as a child with a new top. Others used their position to pay back fancied grudges by subjecting their former superiors to constant minor indignities. Signals were frequently hoisted stopping the leave of all officers ashore and requiring them to present themselves to their committees for a permit to leave the ship.

"In one case an officer of high rank wanted a boat to go over to another ship. The request, which had to be made in writing to the committee, was refused, as the men had decided only to run the boats on specified regular trips at regular hours."

A Fine Opportunity

If you can't fight you can feed the fighters and feel that you are doing the most you can do for the country.

Like buying Liberty Bonds, it is not a sacrifice but a very profitable thing to do financially as well as for national and individual safety.

You help the country, build a business, make a home, have the benefit of high prices, and get the increase in value of the land for six years before you make the first payment on the principal. You have only the interest to pay until then.

You will need a reasonable amount of capital, however, to improve, develop and farm your place.

Prices Low—Going Up

The land is $450 an acre. It is in 10, 30 and 40-acre pieces. There is only a limited amount of it.

The valley is developing rapidly and prices are low now compared to what they will be in six to ten years, when you begin and finish your payments.

You won't be able to get tracts like this a great while longer without paying prices you wouldn't want to pay. And seldom, if ever, is it possible to get such terms as these for payment.

Positively now is the time to buy land here. Land prices have practically not gone up at all for several years, notwithstanding the high prices for all products and the coming of the greatest irrigation system on earth.

Building material also has, as yet, advanced less than most of the things we have to buy.

Now is the time of times to buy land near Los Angeles in the San Fernando Valley.

WAR AGENCIES DO TEAM-WORK.

Are Smoothing Out Numerous Difficulties.

President Now Virtually has Two Cabinets.

Each Aids America to Wage Struggle Against Hun.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The nation's war-making agencies have achieved close harmony of action in the last two weeks through the Wednesday conferences at the White House, which high officials said today has speeded the prosecution of the fight for democracy to the point of greatest efficiency yet reached.

Decisions of far-reaching importance have been made by close contact between the heads of the various branches involved, under the guidance of President Wilson, who is said authoritatively have smoothed numerous difficulties which might have resulted in delay of friction without a mutual understanding reached in conference.

The President now virtually has two cabinets, the first of which advises him on diplomatic and political questions, with the second discusses with the chief executive problems of mobilizing the industrial powers of the nation, without which there could be no war. The Cabinet proper, meets every Friday. The "War Cabinet" or "Industrial Cabinet," as it is becoming to be known, gathers at the White House every Wednesday, the director-general of railroads, the chairman of the Shipping War Industries and War Trade boards, the Food Administrator and the Fuel Administrator. At times when the army or navy has a special problem involving industrial questions Secretary Daniels or Acting Secretary of War Crowell attends.

The War Cabinet at no time has touched on political questions. This was learned today from a very high source. All of the War Cabinet's work has been to further the preparation of America to throw her entire resources into the scale against the Hun. So important has this work become that the prosecution of the war, except for direction of actual military and naval movements, now is intrusted to the little group of six men, representing the factors necessary to provide the fighting men with all they need to bring victory as quickly as possible.

Edward R. Stettinius, second Assistant Secretary of War in charge of all industrial and commercial aspects of the department, may be added to the Wednesday conferences because of the close connection of his work with that of Mr. Baruch of the War Industries Board and the other members of the War Cabinet. Mr. Stettinius is regarded as a virtual director of munitions.

Altogether, the result of the War Cabinet's work was described today by one of its members as having been to enable all of them to "keep step."

WHEAT PROSPECTS IN KANSAS GOOD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) April 8.—With a reasonably favorable spring season, Kansas has a prospect of producing 108,000,000 bushels of wheat this year, according to a report sent out today by E. C. Paxton, government field agent for Kansas.

Mr. Paxton based this statement on the government crop report sent out today from Washington, announcing the condition of Kansas wheat as 67 per cent. of normal.

More Houses for War Workers.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Increased housing facilities for munitions workers were recommended before the Senate Military Committee today by Bernard Baruch, chairman of the War Industries Board. At the Bethlehem Steel Company's plant he said housing accommodations should be increased to permit the addition of 6000 employees, which would increase the output of the plant 25 per cent.

Ambassador Delayed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BUENOS AIRES, April 8.—Dr. Romula S. Naon, Ambassador to the United States, has again postponed his departure for Washington to resume his post, which was set for this month, being detained by the work he is doing in the Foreign Office here. It seems probable now that he will remain here until late in May.

SAN DIEGANS ON CASUALTY LISTS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

OTTAWA (Ont.) April 8.—In today's casualty list appears the name of J. S. Smith of Cupertino, Cal., as a victim of gas poisoning.

The following American names appear in last night's casualty list:

Wounded: F. C. Kellon, San Diego, Cal.; V. C. Carmichael, Spokane, Wash.

Foe's Guns All Roar.

and south of Albert and each time they failed. At 8 o'clock this morning a considerable enemy force advanced for an attack in the vicinity of Bucquoy, north of Albert.

The Germans were seen coming while they were still a mile away and the British artillery and machine guns put down such an intense barrage among them that the projected assault was stopped. Some time afterward the enemy reformed his forces and made another effort, but this was checked without the use of infantry.

One of the attacks last evening was delivered southwest of Albert, where the enemy had been battling so determinedly to get a strong hold on the Albert-Amiens railway. Under cover of a heavy machine-gun barrage the German infantry surged forward against the British line, but was met with such a withering rifle and machine-gun fire that it was compelled to retire.

ANOTHER ONSLAUGHT.

The other onslaught was attempted near Serre, south of Hebuterne. Two short and intense periods of barrage fire were put down on the British defenses. At 7:30 o'clock the German infantry rushed forward in heavy force. As the Germans advanced they were caught in a tornado of British artillery fire which plowed mercilessly through their ranks and completely smashed them.

Further fighting occurred today at Hangard wood, which has been the scene of much cruel fighting in the last few days.

The British, in the early hours, delivered counter-attacks by which they forced the enemy back somewhat and took a few prisoners. According to the latest reports, the British are holding on to the western edge of this wood.

The German efforts today at Bucquoy and yesterday near Serre were continuations of their strenuous attempts to get themselves out of a nasty position in which they have been since the big drive was stopped in the last days of March.

HOLD SHARP SALIENT.

At this point the Germans are holding a very sharp salient along a line roughly represented by Bucquoy, Hebuterne, Colincamps, Auchonvillers and Hamel. This salient is somewhat saucer-shaped, the outer edge being on high ground. Upon these elevations the British have successfully defied the enemy to dislodge them.

Within the salient is an inhospitable zone which formed a part of No Man's Land in the first battle of the Somme. It is shell-torn and altogether is an unpleasant place over which to conduct operations. Not only is the ground bad, but the whole sector is dominated by British machine guns, which send never-ending streams of bullets swirling down into the enemy camps, which present excellent targets.

If the Germans were to start the second phase of their grand offensive now and were forced to "kick off" from their present position in this salient, they would encounter tremendous difficulties in maintaining satisfactory communications across the desert which lies just back of their front line. They need the high ground on the edge of their saucer before they can begin an attack so that they can get their guns forward, for otherwise the artillery would be outdistanced and everything would depend upon the infantry.

FRESH DIVISIONS.

It was because of this situation that attacks were made last Friday by the Germans. Four more or less fresh divisions were brought up and a huge number of guns were brought into play, especially over the back areas. Considerable quantities of gas also were thrown into the vicinity of Fonquevillers, indicating that the Germans did not intend to try to advance to a great depth, since this gas hangs about for a long time.

The enemy was trying to get a hold on the dominating ridges. They failed to advance at most points about the salient and even lost a considerable stretch of ground in a counter-attack by the British between Hebuterne and Rosignol wood, where the British pushed forward some 500 yards. At Bucquoy the Germans had some success and got a footing in some places, but their attack as a whole was a big failure. The enemy casualties were very heavy because of the dominating positions held by British machine gunners and riflemen.

Rosignol wood was found to be filled with German dead and the low lying German front of the German lines told an awful story. It seemed certain the Germans will try again to capture the heights for they can not sit where they are.

COUNTER-ATTACK.

The British counter-attack at Aveluy wood, south of Mesnil, yesterday, was an entire success and the old positions were returned. The men who went through this fight declare that the Germans lost three killed to one for the British. It was a desperate fight. The British stormed the wood after battling forward with machine guns and rifles and then continued the battle with hand grenades and bombs. The Germans clung tenaciously to their positions, but were gradually forced to fall back, leaving many dead.

Prisoners captured by the British say that the casualties among the German officers and non-commissioned officers have been very heavy since the beginning of the offensive, and that non-commissioned officers previously combed out because of age or wounds are being brought back into the line.

A German airman taken prisoner said that the British had more and better airplanes than the Germans. He said the Germans could not run the risk of wasting machines in this sort of warfare.

The prisoner, formerly a schoolmaster, was convinced that the war would end this year. He implied that he thought the Germans would wear the Allies out, for he declared that the Germans would keep on attacking.

CAVALRY'S PART.

No finer chapter has been provided from the story of the British defense since the German offensive began than that furnished by the cavalry.

Never during the present war had horsemen been given the chance which they had in this more or less open warfare, and they made the most of it. They have been here, there and everywhere, filling in gaps, strengthening the lines and covering the retirement of infantry. Their work has been brilliant and they thoroughly enjoyed every minute of it, despite the gruelling engagements.

The correspondent saw long lines of cavalry on the railroad yesterday They were battle-worn and plainly showed the marks of hard fighting. More than one trooper led a riderless horse. But the men's heads were up and their lances described defiant circles, while the horses cavorted as though they, too, were ready for more trouble.

In the first three days of the German drive the cavalry fought mostly on foot and did valuable work. It was dismounted cavalry that held the Ollezy-Ham line on March 22 while the infantry withdrew. There was terrific fighting here. One party of dragoons was cut off for a fight during which they were out in the open battling for their lives. Finally they cut their way through the German lines at Jussy by main force.

On the 23rd the cavalry came into its own, for the horses were brought forward and the troopers began a series of spectacular feats.

When Noyon was first threatened, cavalry was sent to hold the line of the Oise west of the town. The British infantry was forced to fall back on the 26th inst. and the cavalry was pulled back also, with the intention of occupying the ridge near the village of Porquericourt in the vicinity of Noyon. The Germans also were after this hill.

A race developed between the soldiers and the enemy infantrymen across the rolling ground. The Germans reached the northern part of the wood, but the cavalry arrived at the other side at about the same time and went rushing through the forest against the Germans. An intense battle at close quarters ensued, and the cavalry was doing great execution when the order came to cover the retirement of the infantry. The troopers withdrew from the wood and brought up the rear, pausing often to fight rear-guard actions with the hotly-pressing enemy.

March 30, when the Germans got into a wood northwest of Moreuil, there was another big action. Word came from the British commander that the wood must be cleared out. The position was filled with enemy infantry, with great numbers of machine guns, which were mounted in every available vantage point, even in trees.

The cavalry was called upon. They responded and came pounding up to the woods in a picturesque manner. Here a part of them dismounted and went on foot, but the Canadian soldiers tore on into the fight and hurled themselves on the enemy. One trooper later put it:

"There was a hell of a fight."

Step by step the Germans gave way before the onslaught until the western part of the wood had been cleared between Mereuil and Demuin. The cavalry held it until next morning, when the infantry took over the position.

On the 31st the Germans again attacked in force and once more the British infantry was compelled to pull back because of the overwhelming weight of the numbers opposed to them. During the afternoon the cavalry attacked here and drove most of the Germans back somewhat, but the enemy still clung to the high ground.

That night it was decided the cavalry should attack again the next morning, April 1. They did, and no more splendid sight has been seen along the front than that presented when they came charging across the field and drove straight into the banks of machine guns scattered among the trees. The first charge gave the horsemen a footing in the wood. They reformed and surged forward again. This time they got to the center of the forest.

Once more they drove their horses full tilt against the German line. The latter held for a little and then sagged and broke and the British stormed their way clear through to the eastern side of the wood, the enemy fleeing before them; behind them the ground was strewn with German dead and wounded.

The enemy immediately reorganized for a counter-attack and here the horse gunners got in some fine work. As the Germans massed in the open the artillerymen poured shell after shell into their ranks, one battery alone firing 2000 rounds at this magnificent target. For an hour the German infantry was marching under a hail of death. They kept coming forward, but only a few of them reached the wood and the attack was smashed easily by the troopers.

MRS. BELLE M. LOWE OF LONG BEACH DIES.

PIONEER RESIDENT WHO GAVE CITY ITS NAME SUCCUMBS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, April 8.— Mrs. Belle M. Lowe, pioneer resident, wife of the late Col. W. W. Lowe, first postmaster of Long Beach, died here late this afternoon.

Mrs. Lowe was one of the very first settlers on the broad expanse of sheep pasturage that in 1884 extended from the San Pedro hills along the coast to San Diego. It was her who suggested the name of Long Beach for this particular spot, which she watched grow from a colony of less than 200 souls to a metropolitan city of 40,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowe came to Long Beach from Nebraska in 1884, Mr. Lowe opening a general merchandise store at Ocean and Pine avenues, now the heart of the city. Mrs. Lowe started the city's first educational institution in a tent on Pine avenue, near Fifth street, which in those days was considered "out in the country."

Although she had been in failing health for several months Mrs. Lowe's condition did not became extremely serious until today, when she took a sudden turn for the worse.

Crop Report.

WHEAT NOW IN BETTER SHAPE.

Forecast of Department Cause for Much Optimism.

Increase Over Last Year will be Large, Says Report.

Greatest Acreage in History of American Agriculture.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Forecast by the Department of Agriculture today of a winter wheat crop of 560,000,000 bushels this year brought optimism to the Food Administration, and the prediction was unofficially made that if the spring wheat crop maintained the same ratio the next harvest will furnish sufficient wheat to take care of the needs of this country and the Allies next year.

The forecast indicates an increase of 142,000,000 bushels of winter wheat over last year's winter crop, which was 418,000,000 bushels. Assuming the spring wheat crop will yield the same ratio of increase, there will be a total crop of 850,000,000, or an increase of about 200,000,000 bushels over last year when the entire crop was estimated at 651,000,000.

In addition, there is an increase of 26,000,000 bushels in the prospective rye crop, or a total prospective increase over last year of about 225,000,000 bushels of bread grains.

There is also hope of an increase of 100,000,000 bushels of wheat over last year in Great Britain and France, and also an increase in Canada.

The necessity for rigorous saving between now and harvest is, however, in no way relaxed by harvest prospects, the public is warned.

Widespread interest centered in today's production forecasts of this season's winter wheat and rye crops, estimated by the Department of Agriculture from the condition of crops on April 1.

Winter wheat, sown last autumn on 42,170,000 acres, the largest area ever planted to that crop in the history of American agriculture, entered the winter with the lowest condition of record on December 1. In its December production forecast, the Department of Agriculture estimated the crop would be about 540,000,000 bushels. Efforts had been made in the early fall to stimulate production by heavy planting, but weather and other conditions were adverse.

The government board aimed to have a crop of 672,000,000 bushels of winter wheat and relied upon farmers to plant enough spring wheat to bring the country's wheat production this year to more than 1,000,000,000 bushels.

Early reports indicated that the winter wheat and rye had reached the spring in better condition than had been expected.

Condition of the winter wheat crop April 1 was 68.4 per cent. of normal; 1916 production was 480,553,000 bushels and the American condition 78.3, while the average ten-year April condition is 83.6 per cent. The crop's condition on December 1 was 79.3 per cent. of a normal.

Rye production will be about 86,000,000 bushels, its condition on April 1 being 85.8 per cent. of a normal.

Condition of winter wheat in the important growing States follows: Ohio, 80; Indiana, 94; Illinois, 88; Missouri, 92; Nebraska, 75; Kansas, 67; Oklahoma, 63.

LIVE STOCK LOSSES LOWER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Live-stock losses from disease and exposure during the year were lower than last year and also below the ten-year average, the Department of Agriculture announced today in its April live-stock report. Condition of animals on April 1 was higher than last year and also the ten-year average. Breeding sows were estimated at 9.5 per cent. more than a year ago.

SEDITION BILL NEAR PASSAGE.

Objections are Met in Senate After Lively Debate.

Lynching in Illinois Discussed by Sherman.

Disloyal Utterances will be Severely Punished.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Another day of lively Senate debate on the sedition bill which would punish disloyal utterances and attempts to hinder the army draft and Liberty Bond campaigns, resulted in the adoption of amendments designed to meet the objection of Senators that the measure might prevent legitimate criticism in the war.

The changes were in the clause penalizing "disloyal, profane, scurrilous, abusive or contemptuous language" directed at "the form of government, Constitution, flag or uniforms of the nation and calculated to bring them into contempt or scorn."

Senator Thomas of Colorado offered an amendment to provide that such acts should be "wilfull" and Senator Borah of Idaho proposed to substitute the word "intended" for "calculated." There were objections that convictions would be difficult to secure under such language, but both amendments were approved, that of Senator Borah by a vote of 34 to 28 with partisan lines disregarded.

HARDWICK'S AMENDMENT.

An amendment, urged by Senator Hardwick of Georgia, which led to a controversy between the Georgia Senator and Senator Poindexter of Washington, proposed that the words "cause of the" should be eliminated from the latter's amendment penalizing those favoring "the cause of the German empire." It was rejected without a record vote, after the two Senators became so pointed in their language that the chair called them to order. Senator Hardwick insisted that millions of people honestly differ on the cause of the war. Senator Poindexter retorted that the Georgia Senator had not "particularly supported" the war and cited his opposition to the draft law.

Senator Sherman, Illinois, denounced the recent lynching of a German at Collinsville, Ill., as a "disgrace" and criticised town officials for failing to protect the mob's victim. He urged that language of the bill penalizing "contemptuous and scurrilous" criticism should apply to disloyal utterances only, and said Assistant Secretary of Labor Post and George Creel, chairman of public information, in the past had written articles severely criticising the American form of government which would be punishable under the measure as now drawn.

GALLINGER TALKS.

Senator Gallinger, the Republican leader, also urged that the prohibition should be limited to disloyal utterances and suggested that as drawn, the clause might be construed to prevent legitimate criticism of the President in the approaching political campaign. Later he introduced a substitute bill embracing his ideas, but retaining substantially all other provisions. Senator France, Maryland, also offered an amendment providing that the bill should not limit the liberty or impair the right "of an individual to publish or speak what is true, with good motives and for justifiable ends."

Another unsuccessful effort was made during the day by Senator Overman of North Carolina, in charge of the measure, to secure unanimous consent to fix a time for a final vote. Objections immediately followed.

Referring to the discussion Saturday of Col. Roosevelt's statement that the bill would prohibit criticism of the President, Senator Myers of Montana said neither the pending bill nor the one proposed by him last August would prevent legitimate criticism and that even if the words "President of the United States" eliminated from the original draft, now were reinserted, such criticism would not be affected. He added, however:

"I believe that when we are engaged in war, anybody who uses vile language against the President ought to be punished. I believe it is just as offensive and disloyal language against the President as the same kind of language against the form of government. I believe it would be a better bill if the President were included."

Senator Sherman said he had heard more criticism of the government and the Supreme Court at meetings of the National League of Popular Governments than at Socialist meetings on the lake front in Chicago.

"Have you heard criticisms of the Supreme Court in this chamber?" said Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire.

"I have," was the reply.

An attack on Louis F. Post, Assistant Secretary of Labor, was made by the Illinois Senator, who said the Post family owns the publication called the Public, which he said was "a single-tax sheet and Socialist at heart," and the exponent and mouthpiece of every governmental error. Mr. Post, he continued, is contributor to that publication, as are "a great variety of social settlement workers, all of whom are high in this administration." Senator Sherman declared the bill, if passed, would be administered by "social settlement workers and not statesmen."

ROOSEVELT'S REPLY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OYSTER BAY (N. Y.) April 8.—Col. Roosevelt replied yesterday to United States Senator Overman of North Carolina, who charged that the colonel had made a false statement in declaring the sedition bill which would punish disloyal utterances would prohibit cricitism of the President.

"The clause containing the language I quoted," Col. Roosevelt said, "was in a bill introduced by Senator Myers of Montana and considered by the Judiciary Committee. All the newspapers I happened to see stated that the Judiciary Committee had adopted and reported the bill with this clause in it. Seeing it thus stated in all the various papers before me, I accepted the statement as correct. I am exceedingly pleased to find that the statement was incorrect and that the Judiciary Committee did not add the proposed provision.

"My article in the Kansas City Star should therefore be altered by substituting for 'Senate Judiciary Committee has just recommended passage of a law' into 'the Senate Judiciary Committee has had before it for consideration a law.'

"This makes not the slightest change in the sense of my article or in the need of writing it. It absolves the Senate Judiciary Committee of all blame and leaves that blame on the Senator who introduced that law and all who supported it."

CALIFORNIA BANKERS ATTEND CONFERENCE.

CHANGES IN THE FEDERAD RESERVE ACT ARE UNDER DISCUSSION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 8.—Three of the best-known California bankers are here to confer with the leaders in the Senate and the House and with the treasury and Federal bank authorities over proposed changes in the Federal Reserve Bank Act. J. F. Sartori, president of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, Los Angeles, is here with Mrs. Sartori, and the other two members of the committee are I. W. Hellman, Jr., of the Wells Fargo National Bank of San Francisco and John S. Drumm of the Union Trust and Savings Bank of San Francisco. These were appointed by the California Bankers' Association to come to Washington to confer with other similar committees from other States on the pending amendments to the reserve bank law.

One of the most important changes suggested in the law is a provision which permits the national banks of the various reserve districts to engage in the savings and trust business which heretofore has been monopolized by State and private banking institutions—national banks being barred by the present law from engaging in these lines. The committee will have a number of sessions, and the California members will be here several days.

GERMANS BEGIN TO FEAR PICARDY CHECK.

GENERAL STAFF'S INSTRUCTIONS BETRAY DISMAY OF THE PUBLIC.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 8.—A digest of German opinion on the situation in Picardy, given in an official dispatch today from France, says the German General Staff is instructing the military correspondents to reassure the public, and with over-emphasised explanations is betraying the dismay of the public at the prospect of a check of the great offensive. The dispatch follows:

"Among the descriptions of the war and the notices in the newspapers, the different currents of German opinion produced in Germany by the offensive can be defined. There is first the anxiety caused by the extent of the losses. The General Staff charges the Wolff Bureau and the military correspondents to reassure the public and to put them on guard against the enemy communiques.

"The staff no longer upholds, as on the first day, that the losses of the assailants had been a minimum, but it now affirms that they are normal and proportionate to the results obtained. Then as to the anxiety which the halt of the offensive excites, the General Staff explains to the impatient public what difficulties the transports are encountering in supplying the army, difficulties which have been augmented by the bad weather. It recalls the success of the preceding days and describes the demoralization of the enemy arms and the exhaustion of their reserves.

"These over-emphasized explanations and these encouragements betray the dismay of public opinion in Germany which begins to fear a check of the great German attempt on the west front."

ROME PAYS HOMAGE TO AMERICA AT WAR.

MARCONI SENDS MESSAGE TO WILSON THROUGH THE FREE WAYS OF SPACE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ROME, Sunday, April 8.—The anniversary of America's entry into the war was celebrated with an imposing manifestation in the Coliseum yesterday. Honor was paid not only to the United States and its efforts, but to the American Red Cross.

Government and city officials, diplomats, representatives of all regiments at the front and an immense throng of Roman citizens attended the meeting.

Guglielmo Marconi today sent by wireless to President Wilson a message expressing the sentiment of a great meeting, comprising the almost entire population of Rome, which is celebrating today the anniversary of America's entry into the war. The message reads:

"On this auspicious occasion I have been granted the distinguished honor of expressing by means of this message, transmitted through the free ways of space, the sentiments of sincere friendship and close solidarity binding the Italian people to the people of the United States, and of conveying to you our sense of deep admiration for your initiative which was inspired by the same principles that made Rome great and that are now strengthening our faith in the triumph of justice and civilization."

PRINTED PRO-GERMAN NEWS; SUPPRESED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 8.—President Chamorro has taken energetic steps to prevent the spread of German propaganda in Nicaragua, according to a report today to the State Department.

A Nicaraguan newspaper that last week published a full-page announcement of Germany's progress in the war, written from the German point of view, was ordered suppressed, and President Chammoro let it be known similar action would be taken in the future.

the front northwest of Toul Friday night the Germans attempted two raids, but both were repulsed. American infantrymen went out of their trenches on the second occasion and chased the Germans from the German first-line trenches into the support trenches.

Details of the action were made public in the following official report issued tonight:

"The enemy raided our trenches at two points. The first attack was repulsed easily. In the second the enemy was allowed to reach our wire entanglements. Then our fire opened and a moment later the American infantrymen rushed out in attack, driving back the foe. The pursuit was continued until the first enemy trenches were emptied and the Germans had been driven back to their support trenches.

"Enemy artillery activity was followed by extremely active shelling by our heavy artillery, which silenced two enemy batteries."

EFFICACY OF U-BOAT DOUBTED IN GERMANY.

PERSIUS SEES DANGER IN SIZE OF AMERICAN FORCES IN PICARDY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Word that American reinforcements are moving to the support of the Allies in Picardy, has revived argument in Germany over the efficacy of the submarine and drawn from Capt. Persius, military critic of the Berlinger Tageblatt, the comment that, after being persuaded to underestimate America, German opinion is undergoing a change.

An official dispatch from Switzerland today reviewing the latest discussions quotes Capt. Persius as follows:

"We were at first a good deal persuaded to underestimate the participation of America in the war. We begin now to note a change of opinion. It is beyond a doubt that it would be well to curb at the present time these more or less fantastic vagaries of persons discussing the submarine war. We cannot for the moment estimate when the United States will have ready the millions of men her population will permit her to raise, but it is certain America will, in the very near future, succeed in amassing armies, which, in any case, will constitute a very valuable aid for our enemies."

Capt. Persius concludes by noting that America is preparing for a war of long duration.

TO INCREASE MEAT SUPPLY.

Merritt Urges New Effort by Californians.

Cattlemen Hold Meeting at State University.

Berkeley Assumes the Lead Conserving Wheat.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—Immediate increased meat production in California will be urged tonight by Ralph P. Merritt, Federal Food Commissioner for California, in his address before a meeting of cattlemen at the University of California farm at Davis, Merritt said today.

All live stock associations of the State will be represented at the conference. According to Merritt, his address will emphasize that any meat surplus now existing would be consumed as a substitute for wheat under the new wheat conservation programme, and that the cattlemen should make plans to maintain an adequate meat supply during the war and after. The cattlemen also will be urged to organize an association through which they may keep in constant touch with the food administration.

Among other speakers at the conference will be Prof. Gordon H. True of the University farm; Prof. Elwood Mead of the California Land Settlement Board; Dean Thomas F. Hunt of the College of Agriculture of the University; and Dean H. D. Van Norma of the University farm.

Berkeley assumed the lead in the new wheat conservation programme today when it was announced by Mr. Merritt that approximately 1000 Berkeley families had pledged themselves to eliminate all foods containing wheat from their tables until the next harvest.

Reports received from other county food administrators indicated that households throughout the State were prepared to pledge themselves to abstain from eating wheat flour or wheat products during the present wheat crisis.

Bakers were warned again today that heavy penalties will follow violations of the baking regulations, which on April 14 increase the amount of wheat substitutes in bread and rolls from 20 to 25 per cent.

Use Doan's Kidney Pills. They have restored thousands to vigorous condition.

Praise from a Los Angeles woman.

Mrs. E. M. Hull, 225 N. East Lake Ave., says: "At times such severe pains would catch me in my back I would have to sit still for some time. I was often dizzy and nervous and I was surely miserable. I shall never forget those awful backaches; I had about given up hope of being rid of them. Nothing helped me until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. Two boxes cured me."

LOVE LETTERS FOR SOLDIERS.

Patriotic Waitresses and Maids Raise Tobacco Fund.

Notes to Cheer Lonely Men go with the Gifts.

Dog Proves Good Collector for Red Star Chapter.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, April 9.—Sending 150 pounds of tobacco to the soldiers in France, the women employees of the Hotel Huntington enclosed letters addressed to "A Soldier Who is Lonely." Eighty girls and women, employed as waitresses and maids, raised $141 among themselves to purchase the weed the soldiers crave. Auction bridge parties and a vaudeville entertainment of their own talent, for which they assessed themselves as do the hotel guests, created the funds.

The letters are interesting. Many of them are real love notes and contain photos of the writers. They tell the soldiers that they are doing their bit to help by not heeding a guest's request for three lumps of sugar in a coffee cup and in other ways. And all of them contain heaps of love and some kisses. The tobacco and letters in two big packing cases was received by the local chapter of the Red Cross yesterday and will be forwarded immediately to the Sammies in France.

SCHERER GOES EAST.

James A. B. Scherer, president of Throop College, left yesterday for Washington, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Isabelle Scherer. They will join Mrs. Scherer in the capital city. Miss Scherer is engaged to Ensign Frank Reid Mosher, son of Mrs. Sarah J. Mosher of Glendale, the date of wedding being set for the afternoon of May 1 at Washington. Mr. Scherer will return to Pasadena May 13, according to his present plans.

DOG IS COLLECTOR.

Patch, an American pit bulldog of the sex that isn't supposed to fight, and owned by Mrs. Stella Wilson of Los Angeles, has collected $560 for the Pasadena chapter of the Red Star. Carrying a basket in her mouth for the greater part of the day, and far into the night at times, Patch makes an unmistakable appeal for funds.

At the conclusion of a lecture at which the work of the Red Star is outlined and the story told of the suffering of dumb animals during the war, Patch does her stunt through the aisles with the collection basket. And she does not have to be told when to start. Sometimes she stops and holds the basket high before a prospective donator by standing on her hind legs. When she has made this particular appeal and there is no response, Patch has learned to look back for the second time at the person who couldn't give, and it is related that it is more difficult to down the impulse to place a dollar in the basket of the dog than to refuse the appeals of the attractive girl workers at the charity events.

Patch possesses other human traits. Forgetting the stern war work for a moment, she yields to temptation when a piece of candy is offered. But she never forgets that she is the custodian of the basket.

An auction bridge party is to be held this afternoon at the Hotel Maryland as a benefit for the Red Star.

BENEDICT FUNERAL.

The funeral of Mrs. Cordelia A. Benedict, pioneer woman, is to be held this afternoon from the chapel of Reynolds & Van Nuys. She was the widow of the late William G. Benedict and had been failing steadily since the death of her husband, three weeks ago. The Benedicts had been married fifty-nine years, celebrating their golden wedding anniversary at their residence, No. 1301 Alhambra road, in 1909. They were among the oldest residents of Pasadena.

PUPILS OF RIVERSIDE SCHOOLS IN PARADE.

SERVICE FLAG IS PRESENTED TO CITY AT PUBLIC CEREMONY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, April 8.—Three thousand public school children, each bearing a tiny flag and shouting defiance to the Kaiser, paraded the streets today in the interest of the third Liberty Loan. Their ranks were reinforced by their instructors and by 400 boys and girls from Sherman Institute.

The Sherman Indians, Riverside military and boys' high school bands furnished the music for the young patriots who marched to White Park to witness the impressive ceremony attendant on the presentation to the city of a service flag containing 570 stars, representing the boys who have gone to the front from this city. Mayor Horace Porter accepted the flag from A. B. West, president of the War Relief Council.

Beaumont is the first city in the county to go over the top for the loan, and accordingly will be awarded the honor flag offered by the committee. Blythe raised $15,000 in the first fifteen minutes of the campaign. Today's parade is the first of a series that is scheduled for every day of the week.

REDLANDS ORANGES BRING RECORD PRICE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, April 7.—D. C. Lefferts, the manager of the Redlands Orange Growers' Association, has just received word that a car of Redlands navels packed by his association has just been sold in Boston at an average of 4 cents for each orange in the entire carload. This is a high water mark for the sale of navels.

Local packing houses have finished packing navels and are practically finished with the sweets, seedlings and bloods. The Valencia comes next and pickers are now picking them. The Valencia oranges are far advanced this season and will be shipped much earlier than usual.

The local district has shipped fifty-five cars during the past week, making a total of 305 cars for the season. There will be a 60 per cent. of normal crop of Valencias.

PEACH GROWERS PLAN UNION SALES AGENCY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PORTERVILLE, April 8.—Robert Horbach and other of the leading peach growers of this district have started a movement for enlisting in the Tulare County Canning Peach Association all of the orchard owners of this section. The purpose of the expansion will be to place at least 90 per cent. of the output of the orchards for the ensuing year under control of a single selling agency.

Last year the price received from the canneries averaged around $50 per ton for the better grades of fruit. At this price there is a good margin of profit for the growers, even despite the increased prices of all character of orchard supplies.

RED CROSS AUCTION PLANNED ON RANCH.

COVINA, April 8.—Federal Inspector Ranger, with Policemen Saunders and Crozier, are today investigating a burglary of the Covina postoffice, which occurred some time about dawn this morning.

Reaching through the hole cut in a door for the deposit of parcels, the robber was able to slip the bolts on the inside of the door.

A note printed with a crayon pencil was addressed to the postmaster, telling him to put better locks on his doors. Another note addressed to the postmaster said: "This is the last time." Postmaster Stafford said that the office had been entered once before about a week ago, when a warning was posted to put better locks on the doors.

The visitor took about 100 stamped envelopes and carried them to the door of the First National Bank, where they were left on the doorknob, with printed instructions to return them to the postoffice. A similar bundle of stamps and envelopes was left in the doorway of a grocery. The big truck used for mail bags was taken from the building and trundled a block up the street and left in the middle of the road. All drawers and cupboards in the office were rifled. A revolver, a magnifying glass and two master mail bag keys were stolen.

RALLY IS ATTENDED BY EIGHT HUNDRED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BONSALL, April 8.—More than 800 residents of Northern San Diego county gathered Saturday at the home of Ben F. Thorpe on the C. A. Canfield ranch, to attend the patriotic rally and Red Cross benefit given by the Chamber of Commerce of Northern San Diego county. Maj. J. A. Howell of Camp Kearny explained the purposes of the third Liberty Loan, Maj. Moss of the medical department told what the people can do to help win the war, and Lieut. F. Reginer of the French army told what is being done over there. The musical programme was headed by Ellen Beach Yaw, assisted by the One Hundred Fifty-ninth Infantry band. A substantial sum was realized for the Red Cross work.

This will be the first vessel turned out at the Fulton plant since the launching of the Lucinda Hanify and Edna Christensen last summer.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, April 8.—Mrs. Mary E. Brainard died suddenly this afternoon as the result of injuries received at about 1 o'clock, when she was struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. Grace Walker. PISTOL FIGHT LANDS TWO IN CITY JAIL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, April 8.—Felis Campidonia and Robert Herman, both of Wilmington, are in the City Jail today, the former with a bullet wound in his wrist, after a battle, which took place last night and which the police say was caused by Campidonia's attentions to Herman's wife. Campidonia struck Herman over the head with a frying pan and Herman replied with a shot from a .41 caliber revolver. Both are charged with assault.

TWO HELD ON CHARGE OF SELLING LIQUOR.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN FERNANDO, April 8.—With the arrest of May and John Sulli, charged with conducting a "blind pig," and whose bail was set at $500 in each case, the record of San Fernando for the past two years is brought up to twenty-seven cases filed within twenty-four months. Out of this number sixteen convictions have been obtained.

No other town in Southern California, it is stated, can report so many convictions for this offense within this period in proportion to population. There has been an average of more than a case a month and a conviction about every six weeks.

The total months of imprisonment given to offenders has been just twenty-four in the twenty-four months. Fines during this period have aggregated $1405. San Fernando authorities state that they are planning to take even more vigorous precautions to keep the "lid" tight in the future in view of the closing of Los Angeles saloons.

Prayed for Baby in Vain.

"I have lost three children. I have prayed and prayed for a baby, but my prayer wasn't answered and so I took one. For I knew if I had a baby in our home my husband would love me all the more."

In these words Mrs. Hilda Custer of Tacoma, broke down and confessed to kidnaping the five days old baby of Clara D. Beal, which she was employed to nurse. Her husband, a Tacoma longshoreman, still maintains he knew nothing of his wife's action and that when she came home at midnight in utter exhaustion carrying an infant under her coat he believed her story that it was their baby.—[Spokane Spokesman-Review.

Baseball.

ANGELS MEET TIGERS TODAY.

Street Parade will Start the Ceremonies of Day.

Pete Standridge will be on Mound for Seraphs.

Jack Quinn Probably will Hurl for Tigers.

Today will be a real love feast for local baseball fans, when the Angels and Tigers hook up at Washington Park for a week of battling. The fans are looking forward to some real baseball for the next few days, and unless all signs fail they are likely to get it.

There probably will be more "pep" in the ceremonies today than at the season's opening a week ago. There will be a street parade and all the sports and dignitaries in town are slated to take part in it. It will move from the Washington-street grounds promptly at 12:30 o'clock and move through the principal downtown streets. Jim Morley, who introduced baseball in Los Angeles some time in the middle of the last century, is chairman of the executive committee and says the parade today will be a hummer.

The game will start at 2:45 o'clock instead of 3:30 as heretofore. This change has not met with unanimous approval, as numerous calls over the phone to the sporting department of The Times testify. Many fans say it is not in line with the general "Win the War" spirit. They say that the big major league clubs have not taken advantage of the daylight saving law which was passed to help win the war and not for the benefit of a few baseball managers. One fan over the phone last night said:

"The local clubs have got to fall in line with the other patriots if they want my money at the gate. To change the time fifteen minutes is out of tune with the spirit of the daylight-saving law."

The powers that be got busy with their dope sheets yesterday and announced that Pete Standridge will drape himself across the mound for the Angels in today's opener with Vernon, while Jack Quinn will hurl for the Tigers.

WOLTERS GOES TO SENATORS.

[DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, April 8.—Manager Bill Rodgers of the Sacramento team of the Coast League received a telegram this afternoon from President Charles Weeghman of the Chicago Nationals, stating that Harry Wolters has been released to the Sacramento Club. Rodgers announced that Right Fielder Forsythe would be used as utility man and pinch hitter, and Center Fielder Eldred will be shifted to right.

L.A.A.C.

STARS OF THE WATER IN NATIONAL CONTEST.

THE brightest galaxy of swimming stars ever seen in Southern California will shine in the Los Angeles Athletic Club plunge April 25. That evening the national 220-yard and national junior 500-yard A.A.U. championships will be held. Both are big events. The former is attracting attention even in the mid-Pacific isles, where the great Duke Kahanamoku, often spoken of as the human dolphin, hails from. He is now on his way from Hawaii for this meet.

In his particular distances, 50 and 100 yards, the Duke is conceded to be the greatest swimmer of all ages, and he is forging ahead in the longer distances. He appeared in the local pool several years ago and those who saw him then will not miss the opportunity to watch more of his wonderful strokes. He will compete with Norman Ross of San Francisco, the Olympic Club's all-around champion who established four world's records in the national A.A.U. meet in Chicago, April 4. One of these was the 220-yard, which he lowered to 2:20 2-5, which is 2-5 second under the old mark. The Duke will at least give him a sharp run for the title. Ross is at the zenith of his swimming powers. There will probably be at least two more entries in this event.

The Athletic Club will not figure in the 220, because Jerry Witt, the cleverest middle-distance man ever produced there, with the exception of Ludy Langer, has been forced to drop competitive aquatics. His doctor ordered an open-air job and Witt has connected with the Standard Oil Company and gone to Taft. His swimming this year has been better than ever and he would have competed in both events.

Guy Sylvester, W. Parker Lyons, Kenneth Carraher and Alfred B. Harrison will represent the L.A.A.C. in the junior 500-yard battle.

During the same evening there will be handicap races for men, including 50 and 100-yard free style, 150 back stroke, 100-yard breast stroke and plunge for distance. There will also be special ladies' races, 50 and 100-yard free style. A picked relay race by swimmers from the club team will conclude the programme.

The tournament will be open to the public.

ANGELS LOSE THIRD BASEMAN FOR TIME.

Pepe, the Angel third baseman, received a telegram last night from his home in Alabama stating that Mrs. Pepe is critically ill. Pepe left last night for the old homestead, bequeathing his corner of the diamond to Schick. Cooper will probably step into Schick's berth in centerfield.

KILBURN BACK IN GAME AT L.A.A.C.

Jack Kilburn, holder of the Southern California records for the fifty and 100-yard swims, has rejoined the L.A.A.C. and will appear in the championship events to be held April 25. Kilburn has been living in New Mexico, but decided to return here and get back in the merman game.

POLY-TOILER TOURNEY DOWN FOR APRIL 16.

After a great amount of deliberation Poly and Manual Arts have agreed to stage their copiously postponed track meet on Bovard Field Tuesday, April 16. This dual encounter was to have taken place about a month ago, the Artisans canceling the date because of an epidemic of the measles.

SPRINTER GOING IN FOR SWIMMING.

George Schiller, the sensational Poly sprinter, who hung up a new record in the 440 last Saturday, has decided to go out for the Mechanic swimming squad. If Schiller cuts through the water anything like he scuds down the straightaway several swimming marks will be seriously in danger.

BASEBALL PRACTICE.

Poly High and the Loyola (St. Vincent's) nine, will whack the horsehide in a practice game of baseball to be played on the Loyola diamond this afternoon.

SOCIETY TO GRACE DIVER BOXING BOUTS.

JIM JEFFRIES, JACK ROOT AND KID M'COY WILL HELP OUT.

Three old stand-bys of the boxing game, Jim Jeffries, Jack Root and Kid McCoy, will crawl through the ropes to do their bit by officiating at the boxing tournament which will be given under the auspices of the boys of the Submarine Base next Thursday night at Doyle's Vernon Athletic Club.

Six well known Pacific Coast boxers now giving their services to Uncle Sam, are matched to meet six equally well known civilian boxers. There will be five main events in the big show, and two interesting preliminaries.

A special division of the newly enlarged club will be set aside for women, as many of the wives, sisters and sweethearts of the navy men are anxious to see a real boxing card. Several prominent society women are arranging "ringside parties."

Charlie Murray will be on hand with his personally conducted megaphone voice to act as official announcer.

The bouts include the newsboy scrappers, Jaeger vs. Ensig; Phil Salvadore vs. Al McManus, Steve Dalton vs. Eddie Huss, Willie Meehan vs. Kid Savage, Sailor Kramer vs. Ted Frenchie, Monk Fowler vs. (to be selected.)

LOOK FOR KNOCKOUT AT VERNON TONIGHT.

One of the best four-round battles arranged for Jack Doyle's club in months is looked for tonight when Georgie Adams takes on Al Grunan of San Diego in the four-round main event. Adams is the best bantamweight seen here since the close of professional boxing. He packs a knockout wallop in either hand and there is much speculation as to how long Grunan will last. Grunan shaded Tommy Richards a few weeks ago in a fast battle. He is a clever boxer and, with about ten pounds advantage in weight, he may have a chance to grab the decision.

Kid Mende and Eddie McAuliffe, 118-pounders, will clash in the semi-wind-up. McAuliffe has been boxing in the north and is being touted as a world-beater. The preliminary programme is lined up as follows: Eddie Huss vs. "Seattle" Frankie Burns, 145 pounds; Charlie Roselli vs. Ted Frenchie, 116 pounds; Batling Frankie vs. Fred McManus, 125 pounds; Sidney White vs. Charlie Blair, 118 pounds. Dick Donald will referee.

MOORE AND ERTLE MIX IT TOMORROW.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 8.—Pal Moore and Johnnie Ertle are expected to dazzle Baltimoreans on Wednesday night. This is a bout which will offer more excitement and spectacular features than any staged this season if the past performances of these two little fellows can be taken as a criterion. It is of real championship caliber and the winner has a right to challenge Champion Pete Herman for his crown, as well as some right to claim it, whether Pete fights or not.

M'GOORTY IS STILL DEMON.

Terrific Blows Put Brennan Out in Second.

Oshkosh Fighter Same Hitter as of Yore.

Defeated Boxer is Simply Outclassed.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RACINE (Wis.) April 8.—Eddie McGoorty looked like the Oshkosh whale tonight while polishing off Frankie Brennan in a little over one round. A McGoorty left hook behind the ear, delivered as Brennan was off balance and partly turned away from his foe, spilled him for the ten count.

It was the first and only punch struck in the second session and happened a very few seconds after the bell.

McGoorty won the fight in the first period by flooring his black-haired Irish rival for two nine counts. Just after they got under way a left hook raised a big hump under Brennan's right eye. A punch to the back of the head knocked a tooth out of Frankie's jaw, then a short right uppercut to the chin at close range upset him. Brennan wisely took the count and got up to try and fight back. He slapped in a couple of lefts to Eddie's face then assimilated a one-two punch right on the jaw. That meant another nine count. The bell rescued Brennan in this crisis.

O'KEEFE WINS.

McGoorty won because he is still a great and terrific hitter. Brennan is no sucker, for he couldn't be to stick ten rounds with Harry Greb and other tough ones. Eddie scaled 159¾ to 157 for the Detroiter.

The semi-wind-up was not much of a battle. By uppercutting Russell to perfection in the last two sessions, Dennis O'Keefe of the Great Lakes station won a shade over the Chicago welter. This was O'Keefe's second professional fight and he showed it. He started off like a champion, but slowed up after the first round. Neither of the battlers showed much inclination to fight and the referee warned them twice to step in and mix it. O'Keefe gave Russell a bad beating in the last two rounds and deserved the decision.

CHICAGO REPRESENTED.

Frank Jummatti and Benny Vogel fought an eight-round draw. Vogel would have won the fight if he had stepped out and met Jummatti. While he landed the effective blows he was content to remain on the defensive.

The chilly evening did not help the attendance. The gathering numbered about 500. Eighty came up from Chicago. Probably fifty more steamed up in advance on the interurban special.

Promoter Wagner hired a quartette of sweet singers to entertain the early arrivals. Popular melodies were tossed unnoticed into the rafters by leather-lunged cabaret idols while the crowd waited for the entrance of the Chicago delegation.

EASY FOR MISKE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MINNEAPOLIS, April 8.—Dope suffered a considerable upset tonight, when Billy Miske handed the "kayo" to Tom Cowler, the English heavyweight, in the seventh round of their scheduled ten-round go. The burly Britisher had been widely touted as an invincible submarine, but Miske had him going from the fifth round.

In the seventh he sent him down twice for the count of nine and the referee stopped the mill.

Under the Minnesota law no decisions are given, but the action of the referee gives Miske what will stand as a knockout. Up to the fifth Miske had his work cut out, as the Englishman was dangerous at all times.

A.A.U. BOXING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, April 8.—Tommy Fall of Lowell, the only champion to appear to defend his title at the annual boxing tournament of the National Amateur Athletic Union, was eliminated in a preliminary tonight, when he was defeated by Owen McManus of Pittsburgh in the 108-pound class. The absence of title holders in the contest this year was ascribed to war conditions.

LEONARD WINS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, April 8.—Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion, completely outclassed Young Joe Borrell of this city in a scheduled six-round bout here tonight. The local man was given a bad beating.

BRYAN DOWNEY WILL TRY HAND IN EAST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 8.—Bryan Downey will move from these parts this week and has an eastern campaign mapped out, which will start in Boston, Wednesday evening, with one Tommy Robson of Malden, Mass., a gent of much local repute. Two years ago he fought Joe Welling as a lightweight and gave considerable promise. He has grown considerably since Joe trimmed him and is reported to be fast and clever. They are to go twelve rounds.

BEAUMONT REACHES LIBERTY BOND QUOTA.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BEAUMONT, April 8.—Beaumont is the first city in Riverside county to raise its quota for the Third Liberty Loan. Before noon of the second day of the drive an amount exceeding $22,650, 10 per cent. above Beaumont's allotment had been subscribed. Ten committees are canvassing this community.

The bonds are selling easier than in either of the previous campaigns. Dr. James A. Frances of Los Angeles, was the speaker at an enthusiastic patriotic meeting held this afternoon.

Dr. Frances spoke later in the afternoon in Banning and tonight he was billed for a meeting in San Jacinto.

Squared Circle.

JESS WILLARD FAVORS A TEN-ROUND BATTLE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 8.—A few remarks from Jess Willard after he got through doing a little preliminary training today, seems to indicate the champion of the world favors a ten-round bout against Fred Fulton for their championship battle.

"I'm sure ten will be just as fair a test as twenty rounds," declared the big fellow. "Then, besides, it can be held in some State where boxing is legalized and there can't be any interference. At that, I would just as soon have it twenty rounds and will leave all this to Col. Miller, who I feel will be able to promote the match without any assistance from the famous syndicates who have controlled big matches in the past.

"I'm just as favorable to make it a decision battle at ten rounds as I would in twenty and let Fulton win the championship if he beats me fairly and squarely. I know that I'll be in shape and feel sure I can beat my man."

There is no getting around the fact that Willard is sincere in his efforts to come out of retirement. He feels there is enough interest in Fulton as a challenger for the title to make the event worth his while and is anxious to have Col. Miller name the place so he will have nothing on his mind but the actual training, which he will do at his farm in Kansas.

Col. Miller is going to give three more spots out West the once over before he finally picks the exact spot for the heavyweight battle on July 4. One thing is certain, Col. Miller has decided to stage the battle himself. He is through with offering the battle to the highest bidder, because so many of the bids came from fellows who did not have a dime in the world to their name and were trying to promote on a shoestring.

"SECOND GOTCH" ISSUES CHALLENGE TO CADDOCK.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 8.—Claiming that John Pesek, the heavyweight wrestler of Helton, Neb., is a second Frank Gotch, Martin Slattery of Shelton and Larry Lichtenstein of Chicago, are offering a challenge to Sergt. Earl Caddock, champion of the world.

Not only are the two men issuing a challenge, but they claim they are ready to post a big side bet that Pesek can throw Caddock or any other heavyweight wrestler in the world.

Pesek met Caddock once before and the champion was to have thrown him twice in an hour. He failed to get a fall.

Pesek has been in forty-one matches, according to his manager, and has never lost a fall.

According to Lichtenstein, the Nebraskan does not bar any of the heavies and is now ready to meet Zbyszko, Lewis, Stecher or any of them, but prefers a match with the champion.

"Pesek is a second Frank Gotch," said Lichtenstein, "and he is ready at any time to meet any heavyweight in the world."

Belated news of a pathetic tragedy that befell the Los Angeles Gas and Electric baseball nine Sunday afternoon has just leaked out. JOHNNY DUNDEE ILL WITH PNEUMONIA.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 8.—Johnny Dundee, one of New York's leading lightweight contenders, is reported critically ill today with pneumonia. The boxer caught cold while training for several ring battles, the first of which was to have been in Boston next week.

ARMY-NAVY MEN TO ENTER FOR A.A.U.

Now the cinders are cleared for big A.A.U. meet to be held at Bovard Field next Saturday afternoon. Entries are expected from almost every temple of knowledge in the Southland in addition to a large number of army and navy performers. REDLANDS BASEBALL TO AID RED CROSS.

ALTADENA GOLF TO START ON TUESDAY.

TOURNEY TO LAST THREE DAYS; FINALS ON SATURDAY.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

The postponed Altadena Country Club's invitation golf tournament will take place this week beginning on Thursday, the 11th. It will be remembered that a young deluge intruded upon the previous date and discretion was the better part of valor.

The tournament will last three days, finals on Saturday. The 18-hole qualifying round may be played either morning or afternoon on Thursday, and there will be prizes for best gross and best net. There will be as many flights as there are sixteens, with two prizes for each flight. The first sixteen will play from scratch. The entrance fee is $1 and all funds go to benefit of the Red Cross.

Caddies are going to be scarce so players are recommended to take them along in their golf bags.

The finals of the first flight will be over 36 holes and the others 18 holes.

CONSOLIDATED MEET TO START APRIL 24.

The plans for the tennis tournament to be held at the Y.M.C.A. April 24, 25, 26 and 27, are going ahead rapidly.

At a recent meeting held jointly by the Southern California Lawn Tennis Association and representatives of the Southern California Interscholastic Federation, it was decided to combine the former Southern California interscholastic tournament and the Ojai Valley events and make one big affair out of it.

It was also planned to add intercollegiate events to the list, which now include men's open singles and doubles, women's open singles, mixed doubles, boys' interscholastic singles and doubles, girls' interscholastic singles and doubles, men's intercollegiate singles and doubles, and women's intercollegiate singles and doubles.

The Ojai Valley Tennis Club has also given its challenge cups to be contested for in the coming play. The winners of the interscholastic events will be eligible to compete for the State championship to be held at Berkeley next month.

S. M. Sinsabaugh, 210 Haas Building, is receiving entries and has twenty-six stenographers busy checking over the lists. Interscholastic entries must be approved by the principal and be in the hands of Mr. Sinsabaugh by April 18. All other entries close April 22.

POMONA BASEBALL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, April 8.—Clint Evans baseball nine will meet a team from the Beaumont High School on the Pomona High School diamond at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Bruce Findlay, former Pomona High School student, is now coach of the Beaumont team, and from his reports he will have a good team to go against the Pomona boys.

THE HEN COMES TO TOWN.

The Department of Agriculture says:

"In every household, no matter how economical, there is a certain amount of table scraps and kitchen waste. Poultry is the only class of domestic animals which is suitable for converting this waste material, right where it is produced in the city, into wholesome and nutritious food in the form of eggs and poultry meat. By keeping a back-yard poultry flock the family would not only help in reducing the cost of living, but would have eggs of a quality and freshness which are often difficult to obtain. Remember that eggs produced by the back-yard flock cost very little, as the fowls are fed largely on waste materials."

You may think that keeping chickens is not practicable for you personally. But it is easier than you think. If the idea interests you The Times is ready to send you free an official, illustrated book published by the Department of Agriculture telling just how it is done.

To get a copy of this free book send your name and address, with a 2-cent stamp for return postage, to THE LOS ANGELES TIMES' INFORMATION BUREAU, Frederic J. Haskin, director, WASHINGTON, D. C. Ask for the Poultry Book.

The big expense is lost time

THE supreme test of the dependability of a truck is what is said of it by owners operating only a single truck, when there is nothing to replace it if the single truck breaks down. Then the cost of lost time comes home.

When delays entail penalties or sacrifice bonuses, you can count the money lost. You can't count the business lost.

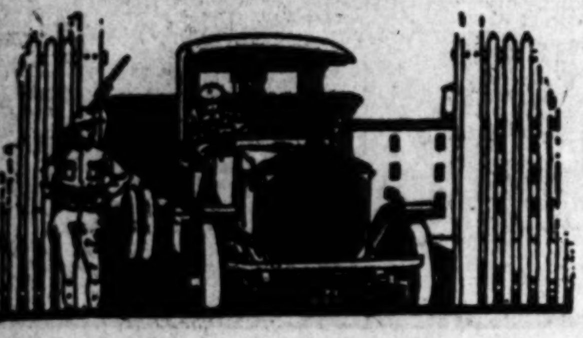
When a truck is supplying material to a plant or operation and fails, you can't figure what the shut down really costs.

Lost time should be the first thought in choosing your truck.

PIERCE-ARROW
Motor Trucks

have built up many of the biggest fleets because of their records for the minimum of lost time and their ability to operate continuously on rush work. This is invariably true where accurate comparative records are kept.

In lines of business where avoidance of delays is essential, Pierce-Arrow trucks outnumber all others enormously. When uninterrupted service is vital they have wonderful records.



FOR INSTANCE:
When the Winchester Repeating Arms Company enlarged its plant to rush munition work, 11 Pierce-Arrow trucks worked day and night carrying material. When more coal meant more munitions, they hauled 300 tons daily, 3¾ miles, averaging over 10 trips a day. They cut costs 35 cents a ton, saving $30,000 in a single year.

FOR INSTANCE:
When the E. W. Bliss Company of Brooklyn making shells for the war, employed 11 Pierce-Arrow trucks to haul building materials and machinery, they helped enlarge the factory. Then they carried supplies from docks as distant as Poughkeepsie. They saved in three months in demurrage alone, $7,000 in handling freight.

These are examples conspicuous because of their significance to war activities, but in hundreds of commercial activities throughout the country, where speeding up is essential Pierce-Arrows do equally notable work—earning and saving, making expansion possible.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, April 8.—Pleas guilty to a charge of conspiracy to obstruct the government's programme and to encourage sabotage were entered today by fifty-five alleged Workers of the World, an indictment returned by the United States jury here.

United States District Judge William C. Van Fleet overruled a demurrer to the indictment and the case was continued until April 23 for trial.

The demurrer, which was offered by Caghlan of San Francisco, attorney for the defendants, held that not sufficient facts were to warrant the indictment. were no allegations of an attempt to use force to execute the mentioned in the forty-five overt acts named in the indictment, he said.

Van Fleet ruled that it necessary, as Caghlan had to set forth separately in counts the alleged acts of conspiracy. RAIN FALLS IN ALL THE EASTERN STATES—FREEZING IN CHICAGO.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 8.—Rain fell in all the Eastern States today, but the entire West, with three slight local exceptions, was clear and considerably colder. Maximum in Chicago was 36 deg. and tonight it has dropped below the freezing point, under a fourteen-mile north wind. Eastern and Southern States are also colder. Corn is already well up and cotton is planted over all the South and a slight freeze would do immense damage. Freezing temperature in Illinois and adjoining States tonight will do no damage as the only crop in the ground is oats and they are not yet up.

Does Your Car drag this Unnecessary Weight?
1500 lbs

Why the Easy Rolling Franklin is Outselling all Other Fine Cars

It has been said that "A striking picture is better than a thousand words."

Here is a picture that is better than a whole dictionary in enabling you to get at a glance, the fact that the Franklin Car is easy to move—and hence, requires less fuel to move it.

This is an actual picture of the little daughter of W. J. Doughty of Detroit, pulling a Franklin Touring Car several blocks on a level stretch with her skipping rope, to show why the Franklin goes farthest on a gallon of gasoline.

The whole secret is in Franklin Easy-Rolling—one, big, fundamental reason behind the fact that sales of Franklin Scientific Light Weight Cars increased last year 135%, against the 12% increase of all other fine cars.

Easy-Rolling means minimized friction—and where there is little friction, less power is required to move a car. The Franklin is scientifically free from excess friction, drag and weight; it converts into sheer driving energy every ounce of power that the heavy car wastes in dragging 1500 pounds unnecessary weight.

It is a fact that the Franklin, on the same amount of initial power will coast farther than any car in the country—a direct result of its Scientific Light Weight, its Flexible Construction, its Balance and Resiliency.

That is why Franklin Cars deliver

20 miles to the gallon of Gasoline, instead of 10.

10,000 miles to the set of tires instead of 5,000.

This easy-rolling, light weight construction explains the Franklin qualities of easy handling—of instant responsiveness. It answers to the throttle quickly, speeds up easily and takes brake-application just as quickly.

Easy Rolling Means Easy Control

Light weight naturally means easy steering. Moreover, the caster-action front wheels and reversible steering gear allow the Franklin to keep in the course without tugging and to right itself without effort in taking corners.

This quick-response, easy handling quality indicates why the Franklin can travel long distances, frequently necessary in these times, without strain on its passengers and with minimum wear on itself and its tires.

Cold Weather Starting Easy!
Electric Primer makes low grade gasoline act like old time high-test grade. Spark plugs stay clean. Raw gasoline in cylinders prevented.

Positive Ignition.
"Feeble" Battery trouble obviated. In starting, the Franklin owner cuts in the buzzer on his Master Vibrator and gets a fat, hot spark that fires the mixture.

Quick Response to Starter.
Starting device has vigorous action; battery has big reserve. No hesitation in the Franklin when you switch on the starter.

Tire Mileage!
Franklin Light Weight and Flexibility always produced remarkable tire-mileage. 33 x 4½ inch cord tires now on all types assures even greater tire-reliability.

Proof Within Your Reach

There is one thing that sticks out all over the motor car situation today. That is, a car must either be economically in tune with the times, or else pretend to be, by talking about it.

The difference is only discernible when you know the facts.

Franklin Facts are actual, tangible things, open to your inspection—short, straight and to the point. Drop in the Franklin Sales Room and get those facts. Examine carefully the and the latest Features which indicate the "Ahead-of-the Times" Franklin policy. Features that appeal to the thinking motorist—for every one of them is a positive step toward the goal of motoring perfection.

Takes up Cylinder-Wear.
Latest construction automatically takes up cylinder wear, which in average engine, usually means leaks in compression. Franklin retains responsiveness of a well-worked in car, even after considerable running.

Intake Yoke Heater.
Quick warming up of mixture assured by using exhaust gases. Original with the Franklin; perfected in today's car.

Lessens Repair Bills!
Air Intake Strainer keeps road dust, grit, etc. out of engine internals. A new device that cuts down wear in cylinders, valves, pistons, etc. and lessens your repair bills.

No More Grease Troubles!
No more bothering with messy Grease Cups! New Oil Reservoir and Wick System on today's Franklin prevents this trouble.

All These Latest Features Now on Exhibition in our Salesrooms. The Franklin Car is designed to meet the big preponderance of motoring requirements — eight types

LOAN BOOMING ON THE COAST.

San Francisco Bank Takes a Million Allotment.

Many Honor Flags may be Awarded Next Week.

Subscriptions are Pouring in All Over the State.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8.—Third Liberty Loan subscriptions announced today at the headquarters of the Twelfth Federal Reserve Bank District were headed by the million-dollar allotment taken by the First National Bank and the First Federal Trust Company of this city. Eight other subscriptions totaled $902,000, including $200,000 by the Pacific Coast Steel Company, of which half will be credited to this city, and $102,000, of which $40,000 is allocated to San Francisco.

George K. Weeks, campaign manager for the district, predicted in a statement tonight that a considerable proportion of the communities in the Twelfth District would be eligible to the honor flags denoting a full quota by the end of this week, and that the total subscribers would number a million and a half.

Local banks reported ten times the number of subscriptions as in the first two days of the first and second loans, it was announced at loan headquarters.

Milton R. Klepper, State manager of the speakers' bureau for Oregon, telegraphed from Portland a request for a cancellation of the Liberty Loan speakers engagement for April 21 to 23, "as Oregon is going over the top this week."

WOMEN ARE ACTIVE.

San Francisco women were taking an active part in the campaign today, selling bonds at a score of booths throughout the downtown district, and in outlying districts from the "gunports" of a half-dozen imitation "tanks."

An unofficial total of the subscriptions announced by local banks today showed $2,148,350.

Reports from various localities in the Northern California district were:

Saratoga—Honor flag with two blue stars for an increase of 200 per cent. over quota.

Vallejo—Subscriptions, including Mare Island, but exclusive of other parts of Solano county, more than $600,000.

Newman—First over quota in Stanislaus county with $137,500.

Eureka—Subscribed Saturday $35,950 in 186 subscriptions.

Alturas, Modoc county, $30,000.

Hanford, Kings county, $416,000.

Alameda county—Saturday subscriptions, $470,700.

Fresno—Paid subscriptions, Fresno county, $1,365,500.

Colusa—Subscriptions $603,000 before campaign opened.

Yolo county, $621,750.

AT SACRAMENTO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, April 7.—Although official reports on the results of Sacramento's Liberty Loan drive Saturday and today will not be available until tomorrow, it is estimated that the total for the two days will mount well toward a million dollars.

Features of today's campaign were "street songs" by members of the Fifth Separate Company, California Infantry, and a bevy of chorus girls, while William Farnum, movie star, addressed 5000 people in the Plaza at night.

Many of the Sacramento Valley towns have already exceeded their allotments and the greatest enthusiasm for the loan is reported from all sections. Following is a summary of the reports from Northern California towns:

Colusa went over the top last night at a mass meeting commemorating the anniversary of the war against Germany by subscribing $4000 over the county quota of $577,000. The $600,270 was raised within forty minutes. Butte county had subscribed over $200,000 for the Liberty Loan when the banks closed last night.

The first day of the Liberty Bond subscriptions in Tehama county were approximately $24,000. Red Bluff alone subscribed the first day before 5 p.m., $14,000. Big demonstrations and enthusiasm are shown over the entire county.

OATMAN PASSES QUOTA.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

OATMAN (Ariz.) April 8.—The second day of the Liberty Loan drive shows subscriptions in Oatman of $80,000. The quota of $35,000 was passed the first day.

AT TULARE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

TULARE, April 7.—The congregation of the Baptist Church of Tulare subscribed more than $6000 for the purchase of Liberty Bonds during morning services today.

I am Sincere! Stop Calomel! I Guarantee Dodson's Liver Tone

Listen to me! Calomel sickens and you may lose a day's work. If bilious, constipated or headachy read my guarantee.

Liven up your sluggish liver! Feel fine and cheerful; make your work a pleasure; be vigorous and full of ambition. But take no nasty, dangerous calomel, because it makes you sick and you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel crashes into sour bile like dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping.

Listen to me! If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight. Your druggist or dealer sells you a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents under my personal money-back guarantee that each spoonful will clean your sluggish liver better than a dose of nasty calomel and that it won't make you sick.

Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning, because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working; headache and dizziness gone; stomach will be sweet and bowels regular.

Dodson's Liver Tone is entirely vegetable, therefore harmless and cannot salivate. Give it to your children. Millions of people are using Dodson's Liver Tone instead of dangerous calomel now. Your druggist will tell you that the sale of calomel is almost stopped entirely here.

A STATEMENT TO THE PUBLIC.

INSPIRING as are the reports of certain communities oversubscribing their Liberty Loan allotments on the opening day of the drive, these results should not be confused with the situation obtaining in Los Angeles, San Francisco, New York, Chicago and other populous cities.

Small communities, susceptible to quick, intensive organization and solicitation, can oversubscribe their allotments in a few hours. For a large city to have such an early oversubscription would be to have a few patriotic institutions and individuals subscribe an amount equal to the total obligations of over 500,000 people. Many of these 500,000, reverting to a course of pre-war reasoning, would say: "Los Angeles oversubscribed? That excuses us."

Your Southern California organization confidently looks for a large oversubscription. But neither they nor the Federal reserve bank will be satisfied with any oversubscription, however large, which does not represent the heroically sacrificial participation of the largest possible number of individuals.

We must have breadth of distribution. The totals in dollars and cents will take care of themselves. Along this line your organization will proceed. If it takes four weeks to accomplish the desired result, it means four weeks. An active, responsive citizenry alone can make it shorter.

TRAIN STRIKES AUTO; GOLD DOLLARS SPILLED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FORT WAYNE (Ind.) April 8.—Six persons were killed and four seriously injured and $700 in gold was scattered along the Wabash railway track when a passenger train struck an automobile in which ten persons were riding here, last night.

Those killed were: Mr. and Mrs. Herman Seagman, Rudolph Alexander and Mrs. Max Brand, Otto Fatzer, 7 years old, and Elizabeth Fatzer, 4 years old.

The gold belonged to Seagman, who would not put his money in a bank and who had placed the $700 in a can under the seat. Police found $550 of the money.

structions to take their full share in the fighting.

The training process will be quicker with the British than with the French, it is believed, because the language difficulty does not exist. American units will find every British veteran an instructor, and there will be no need for interpreters.

It was indicated that the new plans call for a more extensive training scheme with the British army than has been the case with Gen. Pershing's original force. There probably will be no attempt to set up a purely American force within the British ranks, as has been done with the French.

The Americans are to be withdrawn when trained and turned over to Gen. Pershing as part of his army. They will share fully with their British comrades the battles on their front, and the belief here is that they will not be withdrawn as long as there is pressing need for their service with the British lines.

CALIFORNIA IS IN LEAD FOR THE HONOR FLAGS.

Coast Better Organized than Ever Before, Report at Washington.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 8.—California is far from a laggard in the third Liberty Loan. In fact, on the face of the latest returns the Golden State appears to lead all the rest of the Union in the number of communities that have won the coveted trophy—the honor flag for the oversubscription of the quotas assigned. At the Treasury tonight it was said that in California seven cities and one county had already been awarded honor flags and fifty more towns and counties had oversubscribed their quotas.

California, not content with this showing, was reported tonight as having hung up a goal—none other than the first State in the Union to oversubscribe its quota and the first State in the Union with more stars in the honor flags of its hundreds of towns and counties than any other State in the Union.

Liberty Loan managers said that the State was better organized than ever and was on fire with enthusiasm from one end to the other and from the Nevada line to the Pacific.

NO DAILY ESTIMATES.

Estimates of daily subscriptions will not be given out during the campaign by national, district or local headquarters, under instructions issued tonight by Secretary McAdoo. Instead the treasury will gather them from each Federal Reserve Bank figure on subscriptions actually filed with them, together with receipts from the initial 5 per cent. payment, and a tabulation of these will be made public each day.

Local committees may compile similar reports of subscriptions turned in to local banks and give out the results.

This method of supplying information on the day-by-bay progress of the loan campaign, adopted today by the Treasury after long discussion, is intended to prevent the publication of inaccurate estimates which might not be borne out by actual subscriptions. Secretary McAdoo requested newspapers and Liberty Loan committees to observe the new rule.

M'ADOO'S STATEMENT.

Over long-distance telephone from Richmond, Va., where he made his first Liberty Loan speech on a southern tour, the Secretary authorized this statement:

"In order to remove the risk of inaccurate information and of over-sanguine and misleading estimates concerning the amount of subscriptions to the third Liberty Loan, no figures will be given out for some days and then only figures as to the actual amount of subscriptions officially filed with the Federal Reserve banks. The danger of relying upon optimistic estimates and unofficial subscriptions will thus be avoided.

"This information will be made public beginning at an early date when the department will be prepared to give accurate figures. After the plan has been developed, the Federal reserve banks will report to the Treasury Department the amount of subscriptions actually filed and these reports will be given out daily. The Federal reserve banks will simultaneously announce the amount of such subscriptions officially filed in their loan districts and will permit local committees to announce the amounts of subscriptions officially filed.

"I ask the co-operation of newspapers and Liberty Loan committees throughout the country in the policy above indicated which is of vital importance to the object we all have in mind in making the Liberty Loan an unqualified success."

SYSTEM VALUELESS.

The new arrangement renders valueless the system developed by the Liberty Loan organization after weeks of work to gather from each city, town and county at the close of the day's soliciting an estimate of the subscriptions gathered that day. These estimated were to have been collected by the publicity organizations in each Federal reserve district and telegraphed to Washington to be made public here the following day.

During the second loan campaign these unofficial estimates [illegible] public daily together with [illegible] ports of Federal reserve [illegible] the aggregate official [illegible] narily were about two-[illegible] estimates. This ratio [illegible] the last day of the campaign [illegible] week after the period [illegible] official figures as announced [illegible] approximately the [illegible] earlier estimates.

If official reports [illegible] same rate this time, [illegible] announcements will [illegible] ten days later than the [illegible] they represent.

DANGER OF DUPLICA[illegible]

Officials explained that [illegible] of duplication, on "water[illegible] mates, even if carefully [illegible] from the fact that camp[illegible] ers report subscriptions [illegible] be made payable through [illegible] This bank, in turn, subscribe[illegible] sum to cover all the subscri[illegible] handles. Thus a pledge [illegible] counted twice, and the [illegible] these duplications might [illegible] misleading showing. CORD TIRES

We took the cord tire and put Kelly-Springfield mileage in it—and made Kelly-Springfield Cords.

None of the good points of cord construction was lost. Kelly Cords are light on their feet. You can push a heavy car all over the garage floor with one hand when it has its Kelly Cords on. This easy riding goes with a construction strong enough to stand harder wear than you will ever give a tire.

We tested 500 Kelly Cords on cars weighted up to 5200 pounds, running day and night over mid-winter roads. The average mileage was 11,725 for rear wheels; 14,000 for front wheels; 12,000 miles all around.

Two treads—grooved and non-skid.

Los Angeles Daily Times.

these unofficial estimates were ma… public daily together with official re… ports of Federal reserve banks, and the aggregate official figures ordi… narily were about two-thirds of the estimates. This ratio continued to the last day of the campaign, but a week after the period closed final official figures as announced were approximately the same as the earlier estimates.

If official reports are made at the same rate this time, the treasury's announcements will be from five to ten days later than the day's work they represent.

DANGER OF DUPLICATION.

Officials explained that the dange… of duplication, on "watering" in esti… mates, even if carefully made, arises from the fact that campaign work… ers report subscriptions which may be made payable through a bank. This bank, in turn, subscribes a lump sum to cover all the subscriptions it handles. Thus a pledge might be counted twice, and the aggregate of these duplications might result in a misleading showing. For the nation to believe that its loan subscriptions were far above what they actually totalled would have elements of posi… tive danger to the loan's success, ac… cording to Secretary McAdoo and other officials, who advocated the new procedure.

Newspapers which heard during the day of the plans for suppressing estimates protested to the Liberty Loan organization, arguing that the estimates during the second loan were admitted to have been substan… tially accurate. They suggested that psychologically the campaign propa… ganda needed prompt reporting of figures as well as accuracy.

These protests were met with the statement that official reports from Federal reserve banks probably would be hastened under the new procedure.

By the latter part of the week the treasury expects to give its first of… ficial report on subscriptions. These probably will be far above the first week of the second campaign, since officials declare the compa… prompted by the awarding of the honor flag to communities when they reach their quotas has stimulated early canvassing work.

WARNING IS ISSUED.

From several cities today came word that an attempt was being made to commercialize the honor flag idea, and that flag manufactur… ers were soliciting orders for large quantities of the specially-designed banner. This was met by a warn… ing from the treasury that the flag has been copyrighted and can be obtained legally only from the Lib… erty Loan organization. The copy… right was obtained by J. H. Bu…, a New York man, who originated the honor-flag idea, and assigned the copyright privileges to the govern… ment.

About sixty additional communi… ties reported today they had sub… scribed their quota and won the flag, making more than 200 names on the honor roll in the two days of the campaign. Among those re… porting today were:

California—Twenty-seven towns and one county awarded honor flags; fifty other towns and counties oversubscribed.

Secretary McAdoo today named April 21 as Liberty Loan Sunday, and in a letter to 114,000 preachers asked that special sermons be preached on that day.

NEW YORK, April 8.—The second actual working day in the third Liberty Loan campaign was marked in this city by intense enthusiasm in the financial district.

DALLAS (Tex.) April 8.—Reports of the third Liberty Loan drive from scores of cities and towns in the Eleventh Federal Reserve District are very encouraging, according to a statement tonight by J. W. MILLIONS AT DETROIT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DETROIT (Mich.) April 8.—In less than five hours of the first day of the local campaign for Liberty Loan bonds of the third issue, De… troit today subscribed for nearly half its full quota. The exact figures announced at a meeting at which Secretary of the Navy Daniels was the principal speaker, was $15,354,650. This total was made up of forty-seven subscriptions, the biggest one being for $5,000,000 by Henry Ford.

BOSTON, April 8.—The campaign to obtain New England's third Lib… erty Loan quota of $250,000,000 was carried into the churches yesterday. From virtually every altar and pul… pit, clergymen urged their congre… gations to buy bonds and help win the battle for a lasting peace.

RED CROSS AFFAIRS

For Christmas Tree Bonfire.

The Christmas tree bonfire, after several postponements on account of rain, will positively take place at 8:30 o'clock, Thursday evening, in front of the grand stand at Exposition Park. Admission to the grounds will be free, but a charge of 10 cents for grand stand seats will be made, the entire proceeds to go to the American Red Cross. The ashes have been sold for fertilizer.

This event is due to the foresight of Miss Kate Bassett, who salvaged some 8000 Christmas trees, and after having converted the needles of the trees into pillows and the stalks into firewood, planned the bonfire as a further means of raising money for caring for wounded soldiers on European battlefields. The material for the bonfire consists of the twigs of the trees, which cannot otherwise be used. The Boy Scouts will have charge of the affair. Besides the conflagration there will be singing of patriotic and other airs by the "Billy" Sunday chorus, assisted by High School pupils.

Change Meeting Place.

The evening classes in surgical dressings formerly held at Red Cross headquarters have been transferred to the Young Women's Christian Association rooms, 7 to 9 p.m., daily, except Saturday. Mrs. Cecil de Mille is the instructor. Workers are wanted for the evening class, and also for the day classes, at No. 1926 West Sixth street, and at No. 32 St. James Park.

SUPREME COURT OPENS.

Appeals of Former County Auditor from Order of Lower Court to be Heard Today.

The initial session of the Supreme Court of California, yesterday afternoon, was devoted exclusively to the hearing of motions for the dismissal of appeals in various civil cases.

Justice Curtis D. Wilbur, appointed by Gov. Stephens to succeed Justice Frederick W. Hinshaw, resigned, made his first appearance on the local bench with the court. Judge John E. Richards of San Jose sat for Justice W. P. Lawlor, who is incapacitated from acting by illness, and District Judge Victor E. Shaw sat for W. G. Lonergan, who is ill.

Among the cases on the calendar of the court today is the appeal of Walter A. Lewis, as Auditor, and John N. Hunt, as Treasurer of Los Angeles county, from the order prohibiting the Superior Court from hearing the case brought against the petitioners having for its object the vacation of the offices occupied by the petitioners. On October 22, 1917, the District Court of Appeal issued a peremptory writ restraining the Superior Court from acting in the cases.

COUPLE ARRAIGNED ON LARCENY CHARGE.

Ora Payton Parker and Thomas P. Parker, her husband, were arraigned before Justice Palmer yesterday on a fugitive warrant from Salt Lake City, charging grand larceny. Their preliminary hearing was set for next Monday.

Mrs. Parker, a former motion-picture actress, was recently released from custody on a charge of automobile theft, following telegraphic advices from Salt Lake that the automobile involved in the case had been recovered by its owner, Otto Meek. It later developed, according to the Sheriff's office, that the two defendants are alleged to have borrowed $100 on the same car before leaving Salt Lake City for Los Angeles, hence a second warrant was issued for their arrest.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

[The Times invites strong, clear, bright expression of opinion on current subjects, timely, pertinent and popular. Brevity should be kept in sight. Essays eschewed. An Interesting Centenary.

PACIFIC GROVE, April 6. [To the Editor of The Times:] On April 28, a hundred years ago, there occurred an event of the utmost significance. On that day President Monroe issued a proclamation telling our citizens of the "Rush-Bagot arrangement." Rush was an American statesman; Bagot a British; the arrangement, a splendid method of avoiding international trouble, a method prophetic of future world possibilities. Here is the story:

Our war of 1812 ended by both belligerents agreeing to the terms of the Treaty of Ghent—a treaty of "no annexations and no indemnities," signed Christmas Eve, 1814, and good today. Soon thereafter Monroe was advised by Adams, our Minister in London, that Britain intended putting more and more war vessels on the Great Lakes, our northern boundary. Were this done, Monroe realized that this country must do the same. He, therefore, wrote to Adams that if Britain followed this European militaristic method there would be "vast expense incurred" by both countries, the "danger of collision" would increase and the rivalry in armaments would prove a "constant stimulus to suspicion and ill-will;" and urged that both countries should "abstain altogether from an armed force beyond that used for revenue."

After much discussion on April 28, 1818, Monroe had the satisfaction of proclaiming to our nation the signing of the Rush-Bagot arrangement, by which the contending countries agreed to do away with all ships of war on the Great Lakes; any already thereon were to be dismantled; any in course of building, converted to other use, and only four little revenue cutters, or patrol vessels, were to be permitted for each nation on the entire river and lake system. Through a further "tacit understanding," no additional forts demarcate the frontier lines.

The success of this American system is as obvious as it was inevitable. "Where nobody is loaded nothing explodes." It is the spread of this successful American system that must rescue Europe from its present recrudescence of barbarism now rushing civilization back to chaos.

Surely the centenary of such a remarkable "arrangement" is at least worth a passing remembrance and comment!

EDWARD BERWICK.

"Taps."

SAN FERNANDO, April 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Permit me to offer a suggestion to the press of the nation, in regard to the form now in use in reporting the list of casualties from Over There. Having served five years in the Philippines as a member of the regular army, I had opportunity to observe the effects that press reports had upon comrades of those who had given up their lives for flag and country.

Instead of the form now in use, I would like to suggest something like this:

Taps: Absent, but accounted for;
Gone, but not forgotten.

"Taps" is the last military call sounded at night, and it is the final salute to the soldier dead. Few know the words of the song it conveys. They are:

Fades the light, goeth day;
Cometh night, and a star,
Leadeth all, speedeth all,
To their rest. Must thou go,
When the day, and the night,
Leaves me so? Fare thee well,
Day is done, night is on.

Fly More Flags!

LOS ANGELES, April 8. [To the Editor of The Times:] Coming down Broadway just before the parade started on Saturday I was struck by the fact that on the block opposite the City Hall not a single flag was flying from the light masts on the tops of the buildings, while over on Spring there were eleven bare poles between Second and Third streets. Some of our larger buildings are now flying remnants of flags that might easily be taken for dish towels. Does this indicate a lack of patriotism, or only carelessness?

Long Walk to Join Husband.

Soldiers at Camp Hancock, near Augusta, Ga., have ceased to complain about a twenty-mile hike since the arrival there of Mrs. Anna Messinger of Chillicothe, O., who walked from that place to Augusta, in order to be near her soldier-husband, who is with the Motor Mechanics' Regiment.

"I was anxious to be with my husband until his departure for France, and I couldn't afford the price of a railway ticket, so I struck out on foot, accompanied by my brother-in-law and his wife," said Mrs. Messinger upon her arrival here.

The party tramped their way through the States of Ohio, Kentucky, Virginia, Tennessee and Northern Georgia, arriving in Augusta twenty-six days after starting from Chillicothe.

Mrs. Messinger says they spent the nights at farmhouses, where they had the most courteous treatment. They walked through ice and snow almost the entire distance, there being only two fine days during the jaunt. She says she wore out one pair of slippers, three pairs of shoes and three pairs of rubbers.

RAINBOW ROCK.

Near the Grand Canyon, Colorado, there is a wonderful rock formation known as the Rainbow Rock. As will be seen from the photograph reproduced, it is in the form of a rainbow. This stone rainbow is more than 1000 feet long and about thirty feet high. The upper end of this remarkable rock is about ten feet wide and three feet thick. The lower end measures about five feet through, is nearly round, while the middle part is much heavier than either end. Anyone can negotiate this curious rock, but situated as it is at an angle of nearly forty degrees it is no easy feat. In rainy weather the climb is dangerous on account of the slippery condition of the pathway.—[Wide World Magazine.

TRAINED NURSE GIVES RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR

Gives Recipe for Simple Home-Made Remedy That Quickly Darkens It.

Mrs. A. Dixon, a well-known Brooklyn trained nurse, made the following statement regarding gray hair: "Streaked, faded or gray hair can be quickly turned black, brown or light brown by the use of the following remedy that you can make at home:

"Merely get a small box of Orlex powder at any drug store. It costs only 25 cents and no extras to buy. Dissolve it in one ounce of water and comb it through the hair. Full directions for use come in each box.

"You need not hesitate to use Orlex as a $100.00 gold bond comes in each box guaranteeing the user that Orlex does not contain silver, lead, zinc, mercury, aniline, coal-tar products or their derivatives.

"It does not rub off, is not sticky or gummy and leaves the hair fluffy. It will make a gray haired person look twenty years younger."

TODAY'S BEAUTY HINT

It is not necessary to shampoo your hair so frequently if it is entirely and properly cleansed each time by the use of a really good shampoo. The easiest to use and quickest drying shampoo that we can recommend to our readers is one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair and may be enjoyed at very little expense, by dissolving a teaspoonful of Canthrox, which can be obtained from any druggist, in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just to the top of the head. This, when rubbed into the scalp and onto every strand of hair, chemically dissolves all impurities. It is very soothing and cooling in its action, as well as beneficial to both scalp and hair. After rinsing out the lather so created, you will find the scalp is fresh, clean and free from dandruff, while the hair dries quickly and evenly, developing a bright luster and a soft fluffiness that makes it seem very heavy.

AN ARMY OF INTERNAL BATHERS

Over half a million bright, keen, up-to-date Americans have found that Internal Bathing is more essential to their well-being than External Baths.

Have found that taken occasionally at night they feel like different people the next morning. No more of that bilious, tired, nervous condition—but, having by nature's own cleaner, antiseptic warm water, removed all the poisonous wastes from the Lower Intestine, they awake thoroughly refreshed by normal sleep, with all their functions acting in healthy accord, bright, happy, clear-headed and confident, eager and capable for the duties of the day.

Mr. Walter Johnson writes: I got a "J. B. L. Cascade" outfit from you and I am glad I did. It worked fine. I haven't used any medicine since the "Cascade" arrived—do not need it. I used "Cascade" according to directions. It certainly does just what you say it will: Its use makes one feel fine and hungry. Am using the "Cascade" once a week now, but don't need it so often.

Why not learn more about this rapidly growing and natural practice? The "J. B. L. Cascade," the original and best appliance for this purpose, manufactured by Chas. A. Tyrrell, M.D., is now being shown and explained by The Owl Drug Co. There also may be obtained free on request "Why Man of Today Is Only 50 Per Cent. Efficient," a most interesting booklet on the subject.—Advertisement.

Sensational.

PRINCE HOPKINS, MILLIONAIRE, JAILED UNDER ESPIONAGE ACT.

Wealthy Proprietor of "Boyland," Great Santa Barbara Estate, Arrested After Breathless Chase, Bareheaded, Through Downtown Streets.

WHAT was apparently an extraordinary effort to escape arrest by Federal agents last night, Prince Hopkins, millionaire owner of Boyland, a unique estate and boys' school at Oak Park, Santa Barbara, attempted to elude the officers after addressing a Socialist meeting in Burbank Hall by running down Main street bareheaded, with a deputy marshal in hot pursuit.

After finishing his address he told the audience that he would allow Attorney J. H. Ryckman to make a few announcements, and that he would later make a second address on the working of the I.W.W. He quietly left the hall, and as he left Deputy United States Marshal Edward L. Smith followed him.

Hopkins picked up a large portmanteau, which had been placed close to the door, and ran down the flights of steps. Once in the street he ran rapidly, his Prince Albert coat-tails flying in the breeze. The race continued down Main street to Fifth and west on Fifth street to Spring, where Smith overtook the breathless millionaire and placed him under arrest.

Taken to the County Jail, he was booked on a charge of having violated section three of title one of the Espionage Act. The charge is based on the ground that he circulated on the 15th of last month two books, "More Prussian than Prussia" and "The Ethics of Murder," both of which have been declared by the government to be seditious and contain false statements, which interfere and obstruct the operation and success of the government and gives aid to the enemies of the United States."

HE DENIES IT.

Hopkins vehemently denied that he had "done anything of the kind" when the warrant was read to him. He also demanded that he be allowed to communicate with an attorney and friends, both of which requests were denied, as he was held incommunicado until this morning, when he will be arraigned before United States Commissioner Hammack.

Hopkins is a well-known radical leader, having taken an active part in many I.W.W. and Red [illegible] on the Pacific Coast, and together with Attorney J. H. Ryckman and others, has advocated the "Day of Amnesty for Political Prisoners." This was the theme for his address last night in Burbank Hall, Socialist headquarters in this city.

Prince Hopkins established Boyland at Santa Barbara last August. This institution is designed for the purpose of giving youths a private education along lines which, according to Hopkins, fit them for participation in world activities.

PUPIL OF TAGORE.

The idea of Boyland came to Hopkins after he had traveled extensively and studied the systems of educating young men. While in India he was a pupil of Rabindranath Tagore, the Hindoo philosopher who was recently mentioned in connection with the British spy plot which is now on trial in San Francisco, and it is said that he borrowed some of his institutional ideas from India.

In his address last night Hopkins was moderate. He admitted when booked at the County Jail that he had been "tipped off" that he was likely to be arrested if he went "too strong" with his remarks. The principal part of the address was the reading of clippings from several newspapers telling of the action taken in different parts of the country against people suspected of pro-German sentiments. His remark, "Anything which is against business is declared to be pro-German," brought much applause.

HEARST AND MOONEY.

Another remark which met with the enthusiastic approval of his motley audience was, "William Randolph Hearst is trying to get Mooney a new trial in New York, yet in San Francisco he is trying to hang him."

In elaborating on this matter Attorney J. H. Ryckman, chairman of the meeting, said: "Some time ago there appeared in the New York American an editorial over the name of William Randolph Hearst stating that Mooney should have a new trial. This matter was taken up with the editor of the San Francisco Examiner with the request that the editorial be printed in that paper. This request was refused. I then took it up with the editor of the Los Angeles Examiner and asked that the editorial be printed here. The editor said that in his opinion Mooney should have a new trial, but that for business reasons he would not be able to have the editorial of William Randolph Hearst reprinted in Hearst's Los Angeles paper."

A copy of this editorial has been set up and the radicals of this city are going to have several thousands of it distributed before the meeting next Saturday, when Mrs. Rena Mooney, wife of the convicted San Francisco preparedness-parade dynamiter, speaks in Trinity Auditorium.

Warrants have been issued from the United States District Attorney's office for the arrest of three other men and three women who are charged with the same offense as Prince Hopkins and it is believed that it will be but a few days before all of them are in custody.

This action on the part of the government is also believed to be the forerunner of a series of arrests of the many persons suspected on pro-German sentiments, who are agitating ideas which are seriously embarrassing the government in the successful prosecution of the war in Southern California. It is known that a number of organizations in Unofficial Estimates.

CITY'S BOND TOTAL NOW OVER THREE MILLIONS.

Thirty Teams in Field and Banks are Crowded with Liberty Buyers; Go to Central Park Today!

EVERY one of the thirty selling committees for the third Liberty Loan campaign put in a full day yesterday in the work of taking subscriptions. At the banks the voluntary subscriptions also kept up at a gratifying rate, but no figures from this source were available, and the banks have agreed to first make their reports to the Twelfth District Federal Reserve Bank. Strictly unofficial estimates of the day's business in the city all ran well over the million mark. This would mean that our total is now over $3,000,000.

The progress of the subscriptions for yesterday and up to noon today will be announced at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon on the emblem that has been placed on the mammoth flagstaff in Central Park. At that time the committee having made the best record will have the honor of placing the total figures on the emblem, and there will be a short patriotic programme.

At the northeasterly entrance to Central Park the huge tank that was used in the Liberty Loan parade has been stationed, and from it the soldiers from Fort MacArthur today will begin their Liberty Bond selling campaign. At the stands erected at various points along the business streets speakers will make their appeals to the public today, and the chanters will sing patriotic songs.

BANKS THRONGED.

From the opening of doors yesterday at 10 a.m. until the close of business for the day, several of Los Angeles' larger banks were all but swamped with subscribers to the Third Liberty Loan. This was especially true of the Citizens' National, Security Savings, Los Angeles Savings and Guarantee Trust and Savings Bank.

The Citizens' National had several men detailed to receive the subscriptions, and they were busy all day long. From the figures given out for the opening day, this bank or the Security Savings probably led in amount subscribed, and Cashier Ivey of the Citizens' stated that both yesterday and Saturday the number of subscribers and amount subscribed for was far ahead of the corresponding days of the last drive. The Security Savings, the Los Angeles Trust and Savings and the Guarantee Trust and Savings banks were full of people anxious to buy bonds all day. The Guarantee had a circular inclosure built in the center of their lobby, in which a crew of men were busy continuously during banking hours serving bond buyers.

BY HUNDRED PER CENT.

From San Francisco yesterday came the information that seventy-five towns and counties of the Twelfth District exceeded their quotas on the first day of the campaign, some of them by 100 per cent. The awards of honor will be made as soon as the figures can be checked.

The report came from Needles that $31,000 worth of the Liberty Bonds were sold there yesterday, and from Blythe, in the Palo Verde Valley, the unofficial report of the committees for the day's subscriptions was $16,000. The Orange County Trust and Savings Bank reported Saturday subscriptions totalling $20,150, and Fullerton reported 200 per cent. subscribed on their allotment. Culver City subscribed $1200 on Saturday to the third Liberty Loan.

Among the Los Angeles subscriptions yesterday were: Times-Mirror Publishing Company, $100,000; Title Insurance and Trust Company, $100,000; E. P. Clark and Gen. M. H. Sherman, $50,000.

At Oatman, Ariz., $41,000 worth of bonds were subscribed for last Saturday, and this was increased to $47,000 on Sunday, following a patriotic public meeting.

VETERAN BANKER HERE PASSES TO LAST REST.

DR. WILLIAM LOMAX GRAVES, War veteran, physician and banker, widely known throughout California and highly respected for his sterling worth, passed away last Sunday at his home, No. 677 New Hampshire street, after a long illness.

He was the founder of the Farmers' Bank of Fresno, one of the founders of the National Bank of California in this city, was for eight years president of the Merchants' National and a director of the Security Trust and Savings Bank.

The funeral services will be held at the residence at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, and the interment will be in Hollywood Cemetry. Dean William MacCormack, of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral will officiate.

Dr. Graves was born July 19, 1837, in Abbeville county, S. C., and moved with his parents to Arkansas in 1845. He attended medical college in Atlanta in 1858, and 1859, and in 1860 moved to Arkansas, where he practiced his profession. In June, 1861, he joined the Confederate army as a private and was subsequently appointed an army surgeon, serving through the entire war.

In May of 1868, Dr. Graves came to California, by way of Panama, landing in San Francisco, and locating at Centerville, Frenso county. In 1872 he married Miss Laura V. Phillips, who passed away about two years ago. To them were born five children, only one of whom, Mrs. Emma Graves Strong, survives. He also left a

IDENTIFY TWO CULVER CITY BANK BURGLARS.

POSITIVE identification of Raymond H. Niemeyer and Charles Lynn as two of the four bandits who looted the Culver City Commercial and Savings Bank of $9000 on December 8, was made yesterday by two witnesses at the trial of Niemeyer and Lynn before Judge Willis.

Fred Bauman and Cashier Jay Bryant identified the two defendants. Bauman declared he was in the bank when the quartette of robbers entered, two of whom were made up like film actors and carried a dummy motion-picture camera. He thought the whole matter a joke, he said, until the man he identified as Niemeyer shoved a loaded revolver against him and told him to throw up his hands.

The bandits secured $150 from Bauman, the latter declared, and then scooped up $9000 in a grip and disappeared down Washington boulevard in an automobile. The $9000 was all that remained of $40,000 deposited that day for paying off the employees of the Triangle Film Company.

Thomas A. Woodman of Oxnard identified a large diamond that had been taken from Mrs. Niemeyer by detectives as belonging to him. The diamond had been placed with the bank, it is said, as security for a loan.

Cashier Bryant of the bank was the first witness called yesterday and positively identified the two defendants as among the band that entered the bank at noon on December 8.

Three men of the alleged quartette of bandits were placed under arrest for the crime, Lynn, Niemeyer and J. B. Williams. Williams was extradited to Jefferson City, Mo., where he is now serving a ninety-nine-year sentence for having held up a train at Otterville, Mo. The fourth member of the gang escaped.

The robbery attracted considerable attention because of the fact that it was the first instance of its kind in which an airplane took part in the pursuit of criminals. At the time of the robbery an airplane had alighted close to Culver City. The aviator was informed of the crime and arose in the air, following the bandits into Santa Monica Canyon, where he lost the trail because of poor visibility.

LAUNCH MOVE TO ADMIT HINDUS TO CITIZENSHIP.

A MORE pretentious attempt than ever before has been made to obtain the admission of Hindus to American citizenship was indicated yesterday in the Federal Court, when G. Pundit, a local Hindu attorney, moved before Judge Trippet that the case of Mahan Singh, who had recently been denied citizenship, be reopened.

Frederick Jones, naturalization examiner, said the department he represents is willing to give the Hindus the greatest opportunity to present their case, and that there will be no opposition to the reopening of the matter. It was then agreed that on April 19, witnesses will be produced to testify for Singh.

Although the letter of the law provides that only white men may be naturalized under the present statutes, it is contended that high-caste Hindus are really white, within the meaning of the law. This opinion has not been taken seriously hitherto by the local Federal court, although a Los Angeles Superior Judge was impressed with its weight some years ago and admitted a Hindu to citizenship. Federal courts everywhere, with possibly one of two exceptions, have held against the admission of Hindus as citizens.

The object of the hearing is to prepare a case for appeal for submission to the higher courts, if Judge Trippet should decide against the contention of the appellant. It is the announced intention to carry it if necessary to the United States Supreme Court. It is understood that a fund has been raised among the local Hindu colony with the object of contesting the issue up to the court of last resort.

UNIONS AGAIN SEEKING TO THROTTLE THE CITY.

Encroachments Upon Free Industries Battle Signal to Open Shop's Champions Here.

IN THE view of men who have closely followed the industrial development of this city, recent events have indicated that Los Angeles business men and managers of industrial plants in this city and vicinity must awake to the fact that a dire menace besets them in the persistent efforts of the labor union agitators to unionize the city's industries and to shut out from employment the independent working man and woman. They declare that the insidious work of these troublemakers is extending to various lines heretofore untouched, and that, taking advantage of the necessities of the government, the union organizers have pressed their work, and one of their prominent speakers recently declared in this city on the public platform:

"Now is the time for us to get what is coming to us—and a little bit more."

This speaker urged that if the demands of the unions were not fully met the shipbuilding industry all along the Pacific Coast be tied up through a series of strikes.

Union labor leaders are now bragging that Los Angeles will soon be a closed-shop city, and that through taking advantage of the present situation, caused by America's entrance into the war, the unions may be able to firmly intrench themselves in Los Angeles, and may soon be able to dictate to this city as freely and as insistently as they have done for years in San Francisco.

Business men of Los Angeles, and managers of industrial concerns here and in this vicinity have been harassed during the past few months by threats of boycotts or walkouts in their establishments, and through every available channel, the labor union agitators have been seeking to spread their nets, using the necessities of the war situation to drive their bargains, and, in various cases, boldly threatening to tie up establishments if their demands were not acceded to.

MANY NEW UNIONS.

What this bold usage of a condition brought about by the government's distress has brought about is indicated by the annual report to the Council of Labor on the organization work of the past year. It shows that labor unions have made more gain in membership in Los Angeles during the twelve months than in any previous year of their history; that twenty new unions were organized during the year, and that nine new organizations have affiliated with the Council of Labor. These include the Boilermakers' Union, the Meatcutters' Union, the Slaughterhouse Men's Union, the Hat and Cap Makers' Union, the Elevator Operators' Union, the Winery Employees' Union, the Leather Workers' Union, the Electrical Workers' Union and the Barbers' Union. There are now fifty-eight unions affiliated with the Central Council of Labor.

It is asserted that there has been an increase of 7850 members of the unions in Los Angeles in all branches during the year.

Probably the most insidious work of the union agitators has been at the shipbuilding plants at the Los Angeles Harbor and at Long Beach. A situation has developed there where labor union agitators declare they have the power to bring about a walk-out any time they desire, and to tie up the plants that are turning out ships to help Uncle Sam win the war.

It is now declared that it is next to impossible for any outsider to get into the shipyards at the harbor district; that no man can be hired at the yards, but must be employed through the business agents of the unions.

What this situation leads to—besides its constant menace to the big work of building ships for the United States to use in the war—is shown in a recent investigation at one of the shipbuilding plants where it was declared the riveters were "laying down" on the work. It is said that the investigation showed that these riveters were not doing more than 40 per cent. of a day's work; that they drove an average of 143 rivets per day, whereas a day's work for an expert gang is nearly 700 rivets. It is said that the same men who made this low record have worked in the Union Iron Works at San Francisco and have done nearly three times the work per day they have been doing in the local plant.

Recently, it is said, one good workmen who is imbued with thoroughgoing Americanism made protest against this sort of slacking, and declared that if the men were real Americans they should get in and do their best for their government at this time, if ever in their lives. The result was, it is said, that he was bombarded with hot rivets and was forced to quit his job.

Emboldened by their seeming success at the harbor, the troublemakers are now laying their plans to create a closed-shop condition on the government work at the aviation school buildings near Riverside. They have already made their boasts that they have this job "sewed up," and that they will not permit a non-union man to work on the job, unless it be in such lines as are not now organized. The union organizers claim to have the support in this programme of foremen on the government job, and that employees must be secured through business agents of the union, or they will not be allowed to work on the government buildings.

AUTOS HIT CHILD AND WOMAN AT SAME TIME.

INJURIES RECEIVED BY PAIR IN SEPARATE ACCIDENTS MAY BE FATAL.

Two automobile accidents occurred simultaneously yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock, and the victims of both may die.

Sarah M. Birdsall, 89 years old, living at No. 1444 Lockwood avenue, was run down at Second and Spring streets by a machine driven by J. L. Brown of No. 435 West Ninth street.

Jennie Kerchegau, 9 years old, living at No. 1021 Marietta street, while playing in the street, was run over by an auto driven by Peter Johnson, a rancher from Torrance, at Stephenson and Euclid avenues.

When taken to the Receiving Hospital, Miss Birdsall's injuries were declared to be a possible fracture of the skull and serious internal injuries. The child suffered a broken left leg, a fractured left ankle and other injuries.

Election Results.

1700 votes. For Treasurer, J. F. Wheat, 1112; C. N. Archer, 729.

M'KITTRICK—By a majority of 59, McKittrick voted "wet." Maricopa was in doubt at a late hour last night. Taft went "dry" by a substantial majority.

COALINGA—This city, located in the center of the Fresno oil fields, voted itself "bone dry" by a majority of 88. This leaves Fresno the only "wet" city in Fresno county.

MADERA—Saloons were voted out of Madera, county seat of Madera county. Wholesale houses and restaurant liquor licenses will be permitted.

NEEDLES—With 230 of the 802 votes cast, counted at 10 o'clock last night, the "dry" ordinance was 45 in the lead. It was reported that the "wets" conceded defeat.

With the liquor question predominating in public interest many of the sixth class cities of the Southland yesterday elected city officials and voted on divers and sundry propositions.

The main interest and spirit centered on the elections at Venice and Watts, where the fate of John Barleycorn was in the hands of the voters. Both municipalities have haggled over the liquor question for the past two years, but until Los Angeles became dry to anything stronger than 14 per cent., and both towns have become refuges for the seeker of strong spirits, comparatively little interest was taken in the matter.

At both places the heaviest votes in the history of the cities were polled. The registration at Venice totals only 3633 and of these 2937 voted. From incomplete returns, election officials estimated that the prohibition proposition would be lost by a majority of 200.

AT WATTS.

At both Watts and Venice, the campaigning was spirited. The liquor forces at Watts, represented by Baron Long and C. Fred Harlow, furnished many automobiles to bring the voters to the polls.

There are two wet Trustees for holdovers in office. In case the forecast of the wise ones is correct the wets will have four out of five men on the Board of Trustees.

There were five propositions on the ballot. The first was an out-and-out wet or dry issue. Propositions two, three and four dealt with an amendment for an initiative ordinance regulating the sale of liquor. It would take out or leave in the clauses limiting liquor licensing to one wholesale house, two saloons and one first-class cafe. These amendments if adopted would do away with clubs such as the Cadillac, the Barn, Harlow's and the Country Club, and put them under first-class license. All of the licensed places in Watts now pay $100 per month permit, and the wets have argued that by taking off the lid and licensing from seventy-five to one hundred saloons, wholesale houses and restaurants, they could bring in enough revenue to free the property owners from all taxation.

The last proposition dealt with a sewer system to cost $93,000. This the people admit is a much-needed improvement, but it was freely declared that the drys were going to vote against the sewer proposition because the wets had proposed it.

There were ten candidates for Trustee—Hans D. Anderson, William Diller, Joseph L. Dubois, Patrick Kelly, Carl H. Platt, Calvin W. Sanders, Louis R. Smith, Rollo N. Smith, Zera Asher Towne and John V. Zimmerman. The two candidates who sought re-election were Carl H. Platt and Calvin W. Sanders. The only avowedly dry candidate in the bunch, according to reports, was Rolly N. Smith.

AT REDONDO BEACH.

In the city election held at Redondo Beach no distressing prohibition proposition was considered, the beach town having gone partially dry some time ago. A hot political battle was waged between two factions presenting the prosperity ticket and the business men's ticket. The former was headed by Harry Brolaski, Mayor, and recently indicted by a New York grand jury on charges of fraud in connection with the Standard Film Industries.

The attachment of Mayor Brolaski's friends and the hatred of his enemies—only the newcomers practically speaking do not come in this class—is the thing that surprises all observers in Redondo Beach.

The two tickets represented in the field were the Brolaski or prosperity ticket presenting the following candidates:

Trustees for four-year term, Harry Brolaski, James R. Richardson; trustees for two-year term, Joseph N. Cullen and Louis Field; City Treasurer, Mrs. May Hopkins.

The business men's ticket opposing Brolaski consisted of:

Trustees, for four-year term, R. R. Ford, J. E. Morrell; two-year term, C. H. Turner, T. A. Gould; City Treasurer, A. B. Steel; City Clerk, C. C. Mangold (Inc.)

AT VENICE.

The stubborn fight over the dry question in Venice was characterized by the apparent unwillingness of both wets and drys to show their colors. Few of the motley array of motor cars that carried supporters of both factions to the polls displayed any sign as to which side of the excise question they were working for although many were almost hidden from sight in the huge posters that boosted certain candidates. The drys were banned from even this form of camouflage, however, as their leaders had consistently frowned upon an indorsement of any candidate, although unofficially the majority of them voted for Mayor Rutherford B. Harris, John G. Harrah, John Stein and Constable Frank J. Barton.

Anticipating unpleasantness at the polls, Chief Raymond, as he declared yesterday, had a force of sixteen Los Angeles officers on duty today in addition to his regular force, in disregard of instructions from Mayor Harris and Trustee Edward S. Hill, that none except bona-fide Venice residents were to be employed as special officers today.

HUSBAND MUST HELP WIFE GET DIVORCE.

Mr. Mort, an automobile man, makes allegations in a cross-complaint based on the trial of the divorce suit of Mrs. Ruth C. Bartow of Pasadena against Dr. Bartow. Mrs. Bartow was granted a decree by Judge Avery, Mrs. Mort denying the charges in the complaint.

Strange.

TO INVESTIGATE DISAPPEARANCE

Mystery of Woman Witness's Vanishing Deepens.

Letter Expressing Fear is Said to be Forgery.

Other Phases of Case to be Subject of Inquiry.

Fear, as expressed in a letter to her attorney, may throw some light on the recent mysterious disappearance from Los Angeles of Mrs. Josephine Barrett, whose husband, C. N. Barrett, is charged with having attempted to poison her with antimony mixed with a tartar emetic.

This new phase in the case will probably result in a grand jury inquiry which will also include, it developed yesterday, a sifting of the reason why Miss Grace Miller of No. 1321 South Hill street visited Barrett several times in the County Jail as an alleged go-between conveying messages between Mrs. Barrett and her husband.

Mrs. Florence L. Stephens, attorney for Mrs. Barrett, placed in the hands of Justice Palmer yesterday morning the letter purporting to have been mailed by Mrs. Barrett to her attorney from Oakland Pier, in which the missing woman termed her husband "a slick, smooth man," of whom she was in constant fear of her life and because of whose cruel treatment she has been reduced to a physical wreck. The letter, which was written in pencil and postmarked April 5, follows in its entirety:

"Upon finding that Mr. Barrett's bail was only $1000 and hearing about the privileges he had and knowing what a slick, smooth man he is and how the world has been mistaken as to his true nature, I am terribly frightened that he will be at large, and if he is my life will be worth nothing, for he has threatened if I ever had him arrested he would get me. I am a physical wreck and cannot stand another thing, even if I must earn my living. Am sorry I have had to do this. You have been kindness itself and it will never be forgotten. In haste,

"MRS. BARRETT."

THINK LETTER FORGED.

A comparison of the letter with writing of Mrs. Barrett yesterday brought a statement from authorities working on the case that the Oakland Pier missive is evidently a forgery which still further deepens the mystery surrounding the sudden leave-taking of Mrs. Barrett, together with her two children, closely following on the arrest of Barrett.

That Miss Miller, friend of the Barretts, will be brought into court tomorrow in order to disclose her conversation with Barrett at the County Jail and whether or not she communicated with Mrs. Barrett at the same time, was revealed when a subpoena for her appearance was ordered following a conference between Justice Palmer and Deputy District Attorney Fricke.

Barrett is at liberty on his own recognizance, having been released at his preliminary examination last Friday when his wife failed to put in an appearance. He was represented in court by Attorney Frank Dominguez, who at the time made a statement that the poison case bore all the evidences of blackmail. Barrett admitted that Miss Miller had called on him at the jail, but declared that no conversation occurred relative to his wife or the charge instituted by her against him. Miss Miller, he said, was an old-time friend of his wife and himself, and the visit was purely of a friendly nature.

RESTAURANT MAN.

Barrett was formerly a restaurant owner in this city, but latterly has been employed as a waiter in a downtown hotel. The complaint recites that he attempted to poison his wife by placing antimony in large quantities in two bottles containing a solution of bicarbonate of soda. The couple have resided together twelve years, their last place of abode having been at No. 420 West Jefferson street. Mrs. Barrett is said to be a direct descendant of John Wilkes Booth, the slayer of Abraham Lincoln.

DRUGGIST'S WIFE WINS.

Court Orders Sierra Madre Man to Pay Club Woman Alimony in Divorce Action.

Judge Wood yesterday ordered Herman Sander to pay his wife, Elizabeth H. Sander, $30 back alimony and two weeks in advance. Mr. Sander wrote a check and gave it to Mrs. Sander.

He is a Sierra Madre druggist, who was charged by his wife with striking her and breaking her jaw. He denied this. She is prominent in club work. The court told Mr. Sander that if he did not keep up the alimony payments he would be adjudged in contempt of court.

The Sander case has been in the courts a half dozen times since the Sierra Madre club woman started her divorce action last November, on the ground of extreme cruelty. Mrs. Sander recently had the foothill town druggist arrested on a charge of assault and battery, alleging he broke her nose by striking her in the face and knocking her down.

Mrs. Sander's 7-year-old daughter Elizabeth testified before Police Judge Crawford in the University Police Court that she saw her father strike her mother and knock her down and that her mother was stretched out on the floor unconscious. The child recited a pathetic story of how her father had repeatedly beaten her, telling the court that he had used a large stick on numerous occasions, raising large welts on her back more than once.

"How long was the stick?" asked Judge Crawford.

"Just that long," replied the child, indicating a width of about three feet with her small hands.

The jury of eight women and four men found Sander not guilty after being out ten minutes. One of the jurymen stated there was no doubt that the blow had been struck and that Mrs. Sander had been knocked down, but, he said, the women opposed placing the stamp of approval on the part of the prosecution in allowing a child to testify against its parent.

Following the action of the jury, Attorney Jones filed an amended complaint setting forth the details of the alleged assault, and the testimony will be used at the forthcoming divorce trial as a part of the evidence to prove extreme cruelty.

Protest.

HOTEL MEN KICK AT THE HIGH COST OF LICENSES.

REPRESENTATIVES of the Hotel Men's Association appeared before the Finance Committee of the City Council yesterday afternoon to protest against the proposed license fee to be charged hotel owners for serving wine and beer in their hostelries.

Manager Hart of the Rosslyn said the hotel men were able to pay $300 a month when they were permitted to serve guests in rooms and indiscriminately about the hotel, but the new ordinance restricts the sale of intoxicants to the dining-room, and then only between 11 o'clock a.m. and 9 o'clock p.m. He said none of the hotel owners can afford to pay that much license. He asked that the hotels be placed upon the basis of restaurants, the license to be $100 a month.

TIME FOR EVERYONE.

The Finance Committee took no action upon his request, but stated that plenty of time will be allowed everyone to present arguments pro and con on the proposed revised license ordinance. The committee is endeavoring to make up the deficit caused by the elimination of the saloons, by increasing license fees. The deficit is nearly $500,000.

The proposition of placing an additional license upon vehicles was discussed, but no action taken. A majority of the members of the committee favor licensing vehicles that are used for hire.

FOR HOUSE MOVERS.

The chief building inspector asked the committee to increase the fee of house movers. Last week the committee fixed the fee at $25 a year. Mr. Backus thought it should be $50 a year, and the committee accepted his suggestion.

Boxing and wrestling permits will be charged $25 a night; milk dairies will be charged in accordance with the amount of milk sold; hospitals must pay $6 for five beds or less and $1 for each additional bed; social dances will be charged $5 a night.

The rate to be fixed for theaters will be based upon the seating capacity.

What is Beer?

The Pure Food Commission defines Beer as a Beverage made from selected Malt, Rice and Hops, thoroughly fermented, aged and finished and containing from 3 to 4 per cent. of Alcohol.

ANAHEIM WHITE RIBBON is made exactly this way and then the alcohol is taken out by patent process that does not disturb or change the chemical construction of the beer in any way except that the alcohol is gone, making it the only true temperance drink.

What is Near Beer?

Near beer, or so-called cereal beverages, are generally concoctions or compounds made one day and sold the next and composed of sweetened water, glucose, gum arabic, salt, quassia bark and sometimes a pinch of malt and hops thrown in by the maker to ease his conscience a little.

Life's Gentler Side—Society, Music, Song and the Dance—At the Play-houses.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

By ALMA WHITAKER.

At the Ebell Club.

The Ebell Club heard Mrs. Chester Ashley read Hon. Leslie Shaw's regrets that he had been called to Washington and must therefore postpone his engagement, but the emergency programme proved highly interesting. Lieut. Tom McKinney of the British recruiting mission, in his Canadian Scottish uniform, at first rather perturbed, gave a refreshing war talk of actual experiences at the front and won loud applause. He said Los Angeles people are very kind to the returned soldiers and took the attitude that they have "done their bit" and are entitled to recreation, but that in Canada there is no such thing as having "done one's bit" unless one is completely incapacitated, the greeting always being: "How are you, old man? When are you going back?"

He told of the excitement and danger for wiring parties at midnight, of the tense waiting before an attack, of the importance of synchronizing officers' watches, of the amazing accuracy of barrage fire, and just what it means to go "over the top." And, coming round to the Liberty Loan, he told how one in every three of the population of Toronto subscribed for Liberty Bonds and one in six of the population of the entire country. He told of special deeds of bravery, mentioning one Capt. Price of Vancouver, who, because of the loss of a finger, was denied admission to the army, but paid his own way to England and finally prevailed upon the Northumberland Fusiliers to accept him. He finally lost his life by insisting upon going back after a trench raid to rescue a little orderly. The boy was saved, four Germans killed, but the captain died of his wounds.

The club chorus gave an excellent account of itself in some favorite songs, and Maynard McFie concluded the programme with a talk on fire prevention.

Mrs. Chester Ashley was able to announce that by 4 p.m. that Ebell had a sale of $25,000 Liberty Bonds to its credit, including the $3000 sinking fund voted unanimously by the club for this purpose—and still gong strong.

Woman's City Club.

Prof. H. S. Clark of Chicago and Thomas Brooks Fletcher, editor of the Ohio Tribune, were the speakers at the Women's City Club yesterday, both with war topics for their subjects. Mr. Fletcher spoke on the criminality of indifference, the what-do-I-get-out-of-it? attitude sometimes met with, and, while complimenting the women on their appearance, regretted the extravagance of dress still to be seen. Prof. Clark demurred. He assured the women they were no better looking than any other crowd of club women; that they were, in fact, very ordinary. After that he proceeded with a trenchant war talk, in which he took the French slogan, "They shall not pass," as a text. The professor does not mince his words, nor is he a respecter of the susceptibilities of audiences. He told of the four soldiers in France who were sentenced to death for being asleep at their posts—and asked what ought to be done to the noncombatants who never would seem to wake up. He was disgusted to find Liberty Loan posters hidden in unobtrusive positions, and he urged the women to economize on dress, on food and on everything else and buy Liberty Bonds.

Mrs. R. L. Cressy, chairman of Liberty Loan for the City Club, reported over $6000 in subscriptions for that meeting alone.

The April meeting of the Mothers' Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A. will be held this evening at 7:45 p.m. in the auditorium of the Y.M.C.A. Building at Seventh and Hope streets. It is an open meeting for mothers and fathers, and the boys themselves are specially invited. Dr. C. Edgerton Carter of New York City will make an address designed especially for parents of boys, and there will be an entertainment programme as well.

Alpha Epsilon Iota.

Dr. L. B. Bennett entertained the Alpha Epsilon Iota Fraternity with a dinner at the Sierra Madre Club on Saturday evening, assisted by Miss Marietta Bewley. Miss Margaret Blend gave an instructive talk on the work being done for the blind children of the city schools. The dinner favors, dainty Easter baskets, had been made by these afflicted little ones under her care.

"LOVE ME," GRAUMAN'S.

DOROTHY DALTON IN PLEASANT NEW INCE PLAY.

By Antony Anderson.

Pleasant is the word that exactly describes the new Ince photoplay in which Dorothy Dalton and her very able assistants are appearing at Grauman's. It is well written, carefully subtitled, particularly finely photographed, and it flows along easily and naturally. But it is not a brilliantly original photoplay—it is, indeed, conceived on lines of the least resistance, lines so familiar that no scenario writer could possibly go astray on them.

However, as the big new play, the finest play ever produced, can't possibly be written every week in the year, we'll thankfully accept what the gods of chance provide for us, duly grateful for the fact that what we get is served on such a finely-filigreed salver.

Maidie Madison, in "Love Me" is one of those excellent products of the West, a thoroughly nice, whole-souled, natural and human girl—pretty, to boot—the kind you meet in crowds every day along the streets of Los Angeles. She follows the profession of assayer of metals, and in this capacity meets the appreciative young man from the East, who brings her home to his family in the East, who don't take to Maidie at all and snub her most unmercifully, until—

But this is delving into the ramifications of a by no means very complicated plot, which is not fair. Suffice it to tell you that Maidie Madison convinces them all how truly noble she is, and she is straightway forgiven for having come out of the West.

The acting, as I said, is excellent throughout—that of Dorthy Dalton (handsomer than ever, if possible) as Maidie, of Jack Holt (also handsomer than ever, if possible) as the lover, of Eleanor Hancock as the mother of Jack, and so on through the list. It is good to have things well done, even if they are not big. "Love Me" is a good little thing well done.

"Up the Road with Sallie."

What a pretty girl Constance Talmadge is! It is a pleasure just to look at her flashing along the films, even if she doesn't do another thing to justify her presence in the pictures. But she does do a lot of other things, for her comedy is about as delightful as her looks—which is saying much.

She doesn't always get the comedies that help to "bring her out." A few weeks ago she had a poor one at Tally's Broadway (I have forgotten its name, or I'd be revengeful enough to mention it,) but this week, at the same theater, she has one of the daintiest vehicles you ever saw.

I don't refer to her automobile, though as Sallie Waters she has that, too. I mean her photoplay, "Up the Road with Sallie," a picturization of a clever novel, and a picture as clever as the book, with subtitles that tickle you to laughter every second or two. This time Constance has gotten what is coming to her as a comedienne—and to us as her admirers.

When Sallie takes Aunt Martha, who has missed everything in life, and takes her in search of the "pink geranium" that every woman should have, we rejoice, and we rejoice through all the thrilling adventures that befall them. And the pink geranium is found at last!

Constance Talmadge is also given the support she deserves—Kate Tancray as Aunt Martha, Norman Kerry as the lover and so forth. "Up the Road With Sallie" will drive away any dull cares or aches you may be fostering.

"The Patriot."

Bill Hart's "The Patriot," now to be seen at the Garrick, is not a new play. I believe it is as old as six months, which, I suppose, is the same as telling the fans that it's the very Methuselah among photoplays. But I swear it's so fine that if you haven't already seen it you can't afford to miss it, and if you have seen it you can't afford to miss seeing it again.

In it Bill Hart is at his very best—and that's praise marked with XXXX. The plot of "The Patriot" is as finely simple as life itself, but it grips the soul as life sometimes does, and it teaches a magnificent lesson in loyalty to one's country. There is never anything false or maudlin in Bill Hart's plays. They are always ethically sound from beginning to end, and that's why I consider his plays and his acting truly great art, the best art to be had in motion pictures.

Bob Wiley, rancher of New Mexico, thought he had been defrauded by his government, and so he becomes bitter and turns traitor, though he had been a soldier in two of our wars. However, he rehabilitates himself at the last moment, for he was sound at heart, as all Bill's heroes are. There are exciting adventures in "The Patriot," adventures to stir the blood. The best thing in the play is the denouement. Bob Wiley does not become a patriot through financial recovery—we are not told that the government made good his purloined property—but because of the still small voice within him. No sickly sentimentality here.

A riotous comedy, "A Pigskin Hero," completes the bill at the Garrick.

"A Camouflage Kiss."

Much as we kid Mr. Hoover we must acknowledge indebtedness for his not instituting a kissless day. Else we would be denied the pleasure of seeing June Caprice, who has curls and can open and shut her eyes and everything, receive the salute gallant in selections from the forty-seven varieties.

The story of "A Camouflage Kiss," seen at the Alhambra, is the means of solving a most mysterious disappearance. Since the dulcet chorus maids in the East have been required to don heavy woolen union suits, attendance at the revues has fallen off and musical comedy writers are out of work. These now bob up as full-fledged scenario writers. Their ingenious and original ideas are discernable as follows:

(1.) There is the pretty-women-in-the-hero's-bedroom scene.

(2.) There is the week-end party, at which an elopement occurs during the excitement of a midnight burglar chase.

(3.) There is the proposal of the wild-haired comedian, in which he falters that something is trembling on his lip, and the young woman makes the appropriate response.

(4.) There is the interrupted tete-a-tete, wherein the comedian usurps the position of the letter "a" and asks if there "is anything between you?"

And so on. But perhaps such things are no detriment where June is capricing. There are very good war pictures and a showing of Saturday's Liberty Loan parade on the Alhambra bill, also, so go and enjoy.

THE LAST OF EARTH.

Funeral Services will be Conducted Today for Large Owner of Farm and Mine Properties.

Funeral services for C. J. Medberry, formerly a prominent resident of Fon du Lac, Wis., who died Saturday, at his home, No. 320 South Manhattan place, after an illness of eight weeks, will be conducted at 4 p.m., today in the chapel at Inglewood Cemetery.

For many years Mr. Medberry was a manufacturer of refrigerators and was the head of a large business in Fon du Lac, which he disposed of about four years ago. Upon his retirement he came to Los Angeles to make his home. He later became interested in Imperial Valley lands and was the owner of large holdings in that section, together with valuable mining properties in Southern California.

About five weeks ago, Mr. Medberry underwent a serious operation for liver trouble and for a time it seemed as though he would recover. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Eunice Medberry; a son, C. J. Medberry, Jr. and three daughters, Miss Marjorie Medberry, Mrs. L. F. Martin and Mrs. M. L. De Voin.

ARBUCKLE'S A DEPUTY.

Corpulent Comedian, Tired of Being Held Up by Highwaymen, Gets a Badge.

Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle, accompanied by his manager, Lou Anger, drove up to the Sheriff's office yesterday in Arbuckle's brand-new automobile for a conference with Sheriff Cline. The substance of the interview was that the corpulent originator of laughs has been held up six times within three weeks by real—not film—highwaymen on the Long Beach boulevard and he is sick and tired of "coming through."

Sheriff Cline immediately swore in as special deputy sheriffs both Arbuckle and his manager. They climbed into the big blue touring car, each with a shining badge denoting authority.

"Now let 'em come," ejaculated Arbuckle.

IN CARE OF SISTER.

Woman Who Threatened to Blow Up Hall of Records Placed in Safe Keeping.

When the case of Mrs. Jennie Sparks, who recently created excitement by threatening to blow up the Hall of Records, was called before the Lunacy Commission yesterday, it became known that the woman had been placed in the keeping of her sister, Mrs. G. Hunter of No. 2900 South Flower street, on April 4.

Mrs. Sparks, who said she was the widow of a former Los Angeles attorney, was ejected from the office of the District Attorney on two occasions after she had sought the assistance of Mr. Woolwine toward securing an extension of a mortgage loan. She was taken into custody following an attack with a swagger stick on Detective Green.

VANISHED WOMAN BELIEVED SUICIDE.

BROTHER PETITIONS TO BE APPOINTED TRUSTEE OF KEYSER ESTATE.

On the supposition that Mrs. Annie O. Keyser had committed suicide, following her mysterious disappearance early in January, her brother, E. Opdyke of No. 923 Investment Building, yesterday petitioned the Probate Court to be named trustee of her estate. He also filed a letter said to have been written by the missing woman, in which she stated that she was "tired of fighting." The value of the estate is set at $40,000, divided into real estate, an interest in a trust fund and $13,000 money in local banks.

"I am tired of fighting," says the letter addressed to another brother, Ralph Opdyke of New York City. "I would be a care and responsibility to someone. I hope I am not wicked. If so, God forgive me, but none seems to care. Life is too hard to face now. You write Dr. O. I haven't courage for more than this letter. Good-by. Annie."

The letter was dated January 12 and was received in New York City the day following the disappearance of Mrs. Keyser from Los Angeles.

MARY IS HONORED.

PICTURE STAR LUNCHES WITH COUNTRY'S HEAD.

By Grace Kingsley.

Little Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks have been granted the supreme social honor, according to telegraphic advices received at the Lasky studio. Little Mary and the athletic "Doug" lunched with President Wilson at the White House. It happened last Saturday, and of course, the motion-picture stars were all of a flutter.

Here is Charlie Murray's version of the event:

"It was all very wonderful and very pleasant. The President asked Mary if she liked pictures and Mary said yes, and did Mr. Wilson like being President. Then Douglas Fairbanks butted in and bet he could climb the side of the Capitol quicker than the President, and the President smiled and said, yes, he guessed so.

"Then the President asked Doug if he would like to climb on the Cabinet, and Doug said yes, he would, only he had a splinter in his finger. Mary asked the President if he ever went on location, or if he worked right there; and the President replied that sometimes he went on location, but that he did most of his work in the developing-room.

"Douglas declared he could leap the table quicker than the President, and the President replied that he wasn't doing much leaping—that he was standing solidly on his feet nowadays.

"Then the President told Mary he liked seeing her in pictures, and that after seeing her he could easily believe all about her salary, and that she was a good little girl to buy so many Liberty Bonds."

Word has likewise just reached the Lasky studio that Jack Pickford on last Saturday went to Philadelphia alone and single-handed persuaded a million dollars from the pockets of the citizens, in exchange for Liberty Bonds.

Orpheum.

A bill exceeding even last week's offerings is shown at the Orpheum this week, with Gertrude Hoffman's Revue and Sarah Padden topping.

Those who saw Sarah Padden in Lewis Beach's Washington Square Players' success, "The Clod," a year ago, have not forgotten it. This impressively human playlet of the sodden farm woman, whose life is bounded by sordidness, by a monumental ignorance of and indifference to world affairs, yet who retains some ragged remnant of spirit to resent unnecessary and brutal interference by the soldiers in her home affairs, grips us vividly as ever. Miss Padden has given more than a trace of comedy to the first half of the playlet, but all that vanishes with the gesture and cry with which she greets the mounting brutality of the soldier who violates her housewifely pride, throwing his food upon the flour; and it is with the same old thrill we watch her grasp her gun and shoot at the crowning indignity of calling her a hag and breaking her only china cup! "And now," she wails, as the curtain descends, "I shall have to drink out of the tin dipper!"

"Danny O'Gill, U.S.A.," is a harmless little sketch which affords Will Oakland an excuse to sing—and he doesn't need any at that. One has only one criticism to make of the plot. Danny O'Gill may have been a good Congressman, but he certainly wasn't a very noticing lad, else he would have observed Ruth Parry's legs right away, and she never could have put over that wooden leg stunt. Phina and company are a burnt-cork lady and several sincere darkies, who open the bill with a brisk and breezy dancing act. Val and Ernie Stanton would do well to park some of their puns, and do more dancing, though they are a hit anyhow.

Besides the Gertrude Hoffmann Revue, Leo Beers and Kelly and Galvin are retained. Beers with some new and pleasing material.

CHAMBER MUSIC TONIGHT AT TRINITY.

Tonight at Trinity Auditorium Los Angeles will hear the Chamber Music Society of San Francisco in a brilliant programme.

This organization has won an enviable reputation for itself throughout the country, being acknowledged everywhere as the peer of the Kneisels and the Flonzaleys. Their programmes have the added attraction and variety of ensemble works with the flute and the piano, which lends unusual color to the usual quartette recitals.

The Chamber Music Society personnel has remained unchanged for three seasons and every one of the members is an artist of international repute. Their concerts are hailed with enthusiasm everywhere they go. There is a virility and a finish in their playing, combined with red-blooded youth that makes their recitals positively thrilling.

Arthur Foote and Mrs. H. H. A. Beach have written and dedicated works for the organization, and Los Angeles will take a special pride and delight in welcoming the only California organization which has made a national mark for our State in the musical field of the nation. Tonight's programme includes the brilliant and melodious piano quintette of Dohananyi, a charming and graceful quartette for flute and strings by Mozart, and ends with the dashing string quartette of Glazounow, his famous "Novellettes." These compositions have not been heard here before.

ASKS SALARY ADVANCE.

Registrar of Voters Says We Lead in Elections, But that San Francisco Official Gets More.

Making a comparison between the duties of his office in this city and the Registrar of Voters in San Francisco, David B. Lyons yesterday petitioned the Supervisors to increase his compensation as Registrar from $175 to $300 a month. He also asked that the salary of his chief deputy, William M. Kerr, be advanced to $175 a month. Mr. Lyons claims the San Francisco Registrar has about half as many registrations to handle as himself and about one-fourth the number of the elections to look after.

True.

NATURE'S TINTS IN FILMS

DOUGLAS, INVENTOR, LIVES IN SAN RAFAEL.

The management of the Kinema Theater announces the exclusive presentation in Los Angeles, commencing next week, of the most highly evolved natural color motion pictures ever exhibited. Manager Kehrlein claims these pictures are vastly superior to the Kinemacolor films of a few years back. The inventor is Leon Forrest Douglas, who hails from San Rafael, Cal., one of the patentees of the Victor talking machine and chairman of the board of the Victor Talking Machine Company.

Mr. Douglas first mastered the laws of sound, and it was due to his inventive genius that the Victrola has been brought to its present perfection. The same theories he applied to color, following Swedenborg's theory of correspondence. He does not use color screens, as the colors are in the film itself. Just how his feat has been accomplished is known only to Mr. Douglas.

Several hundred feet of film was shown privately a few days ago at the Kinema for the management only. In addition to preserving all the tints of nature, the pictures were found to possess a stereoscopic effect, so that the beholders saw what appeared to be actual solidity in the pictured forms.

Three young girls were shown in Grecian dances on a well-cared for lawn shaded by date palms. Every tree gave the impression of relief and the lawn seemed real enough to walk upon.

The young women dancers gave an opportunity to reveal the real quality of the invention. The tints of their rounded limbs could not have been more natural in the flesh when photographed under the California sun that they were as projected on the Kinema screen.

When a "close-up" was shown of a girl's dimpled face surrounded by vivid roses the few film men and attaches of the Kinema present gasped in admiration and then applauded thunderously. The "peaches and cream" complexion of the girl and the marine blue of her eyes were reproduced as faithfully as by a mirror.

Yosemite Valley, Yellowstone Park, Bridal Veil Falls and a bathing girl pageant at a Southern California resort were all portrayed faithfully, with gray and neutral tints showing as truthfully as more vivid colors.

These pictures will be shown as an added feature to next week's Kinema programme.

ATTENDANCE GROWING.

Noonday Services at St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral Bring Large Numbers There.

The authorities at St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral reported yesterday that the attendance at the noonday service of prayer for the cause of the Allied nations, especially for the American forces, which service has been held regularly from the entry of the United States into the war, is showing very decided increase. This service is brief and without any address, and provision is made each day for private prayer and meditation.

Members of the parish and their friends, irrespective of their religious affiliations, are cordially invited to join in this practical method of helping the great cause.

HIS REVENGE IS TO DO IT AGAIN?

Ben Mounts, an old man who lives in the desert country in the vicinity of Victorville, was arraigned before United States Commissioner Hammack yesterday on the charge of sending an improper letter through the mails to United States District Judge Trippet.

Some months ago, when Mounts lived at Hermosa Beach, Judge Trippet gave him a County Jail sentence on his plea of guilty to a similar charge. Mounts at that time boasted that he would continue sending such letters, and he has made his threat good, it is charged. He was held in $1000 bond.

NO POLITICS.

Of course the South is opposed to fixing the price of cotton. They used to sell it at 5 and 6 cents a pound, and now it has climbed above the 35-cent mark. What the cotton growers of the South want in Washington they will get; and still some folks will insist that there is no politics in some things.

TRUE INTEREST OF WORKERS.

No class of our citizens would be so disastrously affected by a German-made peace that would substitute the rule of autocracy for that of democracy as our handworkers. A workman in this country is free to work or remain idle as he may choose. In Germany he is up against caste and customs and against laws that are insurmountable. We aren't going to have American industries Germanized.

KEEP UP PROSPERITY.

There must be a minimum of disturbance to American business in the prosecution of the war activities. This country is able to buy billions of dollars' worth of Liberty Bonds, to ship millions of tons of supplies to Europe, to construct hundreds of ships and otherwise contribute with a liberal hand to the cause as a result of our prosperity. That prosperity should not be stopped.

A NOBLE ADDRESS.

President Wilson's patriotic address in Baltimore indicates that he has changed his mind since he declared that the European war must end by "peace without victory," that "we are too proud to fight" or that he "was inclined to think that Germany had a right to sink belligerent ships without warning." The conversion of Woodrow Wilson is as potential as that of Saul as he journeyed to prosecute the saints. Our President has seen a great light.

THE ONLY WAY.

There was nothing milk-and-watery about the speech of President Wilson at Baltimore, delivered at the opening of the third Liberty Loan campaign. While declaring that he stands ready at all times to discuss a just and honest peace, Mr. Wilson said that since Germany has once more declared that force alone shall decide the issue, then force it shall be, "force to the utmost, without stint or limit, the righteous and triumphant force which shall make right the law of the world and cast every selfish dominion down in the dust." There are wild animals that can be conquered by kindness, still others must be captured by cunning, but the only way to treat some brutes is to kill them with a club—and one of these latter is "William the Beast."

A TRAP THAT FAILED.

There is a rivalry between the Bavarian Crown Prince and the German Crown Prince (Eitel Frederick, the furniture thief,) as to which shall most distinguish himself as a general. The present outlook is that both will be extinguished.

A year ago when the Germans retreated onto the Hindenburg line they prepared what was intended for a vast battlefield upon which they hoped to lure the French for a decisive battle. The entire plain extending northward and south of St. Quentin was denuded of every tree, house and other obstacle which might serve to protect the French troops. Through the forest, northwest of St. Quentin, the Germans cut vast avenues a hundred yards wide and many miles long for the purpose of permitting them from the heights of St. Quentin to see any movement of French troops.

But the French did not permit themselves to be lured into the trap, and the vast prearranged battlefield exists unchanged today.

NO:

If God has doomed this nation to destruction—if her mission is fulfilled and her glory is to pass away—let the throes of her dissolution resemble the agony of her birth, and as she was born, so let her expire; amidst the shock of contending armies, the roar of battle, the thunder of cannon and the groans of the dying; let her name be blotted out from the nations of the earth, and the smoke of her expiring fires darken the broad heavens like the folds of a funeral pall. But this extremity will never come. High above the dark clouds of war the eye of faith beholds the sweet vistas of peace—peace purchased on the blood-stained battlefield, but which will endure when the conflict is passed and the cries of the combatants are hushed in the stillness of death.

It may cost us twenty billions of dollars to defeat this last desperate assault of autocracy against democracy. What of it? We have the money and the credit. It may take five millions of our best and bravest men. Well? They are ready. They are:—

"Marching along, marching along;
For God and for country they are marching along."

Does anybody believe that the ravaging feet of the Hun will ever devastate our land?

"Oh, country marvel of the earth,
Oh, land to mighty greatness grown,
The age that gloried in thy birth
Shall it behold thee overthrown?
Shall despots lay that greatness low?
No, land of hope and blessing, No!"

"DONT'S" FOR PRO-GERMANS.

It is an unfortunate fact that among the multitudes of people of German blood in America there is a great number whose ideals of government and of human rights have not been changed by their advent into this land of freedom or by the fact that they were born and reared under the protection of the Stars and Stripes. Their hearts are still with the Fatherland and, while they pretend fealty to America and admiration for American government and institutions, their secret thoughts and activities are inspired by the false ideals of German world dominion and by the demands of the basest wretch that ever sat upon a throne with his feet upon the neck of a nation. This class of Germans in America is the dangerous class. It is from their ranks that are recruited the spies who disable our airships, who dynamite our ammunition factories, who incite laborers to strike, who retard the building of ships, who place ground glass in bread and flour, who write patriotic articles with one hand and Prussian propaganda with the other, who secretly preach a cowardly pacifism in order to aid a fighting machine which has for its ultimate aim the enslavement of the world. It has been estimated that there are no fewer than 200,000 of these spies in the United States—for all who belong to this element are spies, whether actively engaged in aiding the enemy or silently passive when Old Glory calls to action. They are serpents, waiting only their chance to strike, waiting only an opportunity to do their bit toward crippling the country that opened its gates to receive them into the fraternity of freedom.

II.

It is good to remember, however, that there are today in these United States hundreds of thousands of people whose only connection with Germany and Germanism lies in the fact that they are immigrants from that empire or are direct descendants of American-born German parents or they have a trace of German blood in their veins. In fact, the great majority of these people are loyal American citizens who love every white star, every bit of blue and every crimson bar in America's glorious emblem. In the fields of industry, science, invention, literature and art and, better still, in loyalty and service, these noble descendants of Teuton ancestors are unsurpassed by any class of citizens in the republic. They have no cause to blush for themselves, for they are Americans, and America is as proud of them as she is of the immigrants and descendants of the English, French, Italian, Russian, Irish and Scandinavian peoples who have cast their blood, their traditions and their treasures into this great melting pot of nations in which the dross of prejudice, selfishness and superstition of centuries is consumed, leaving only the golden ideal of union and liberty. In truth, it is just such people as these loyal citizens of foreign descent that have made America what she is today.

The people of America know well that this is neither a race war nor a commercial war (the I.W.W.'s "arguments" to the contrary notwithstanding,) but a struggle of liberty against tyranny, of democracy against autocracy, of open-handed right against underhanded wrong. These words, therefore, are not addressed to either the German spies of America or to that great body of naturalized Germans in America who are among the most loyal citizens of the land. The spies will be dealt with justly as they are apprehended, and the Germans who are loyal to their adopted land need have no fear.

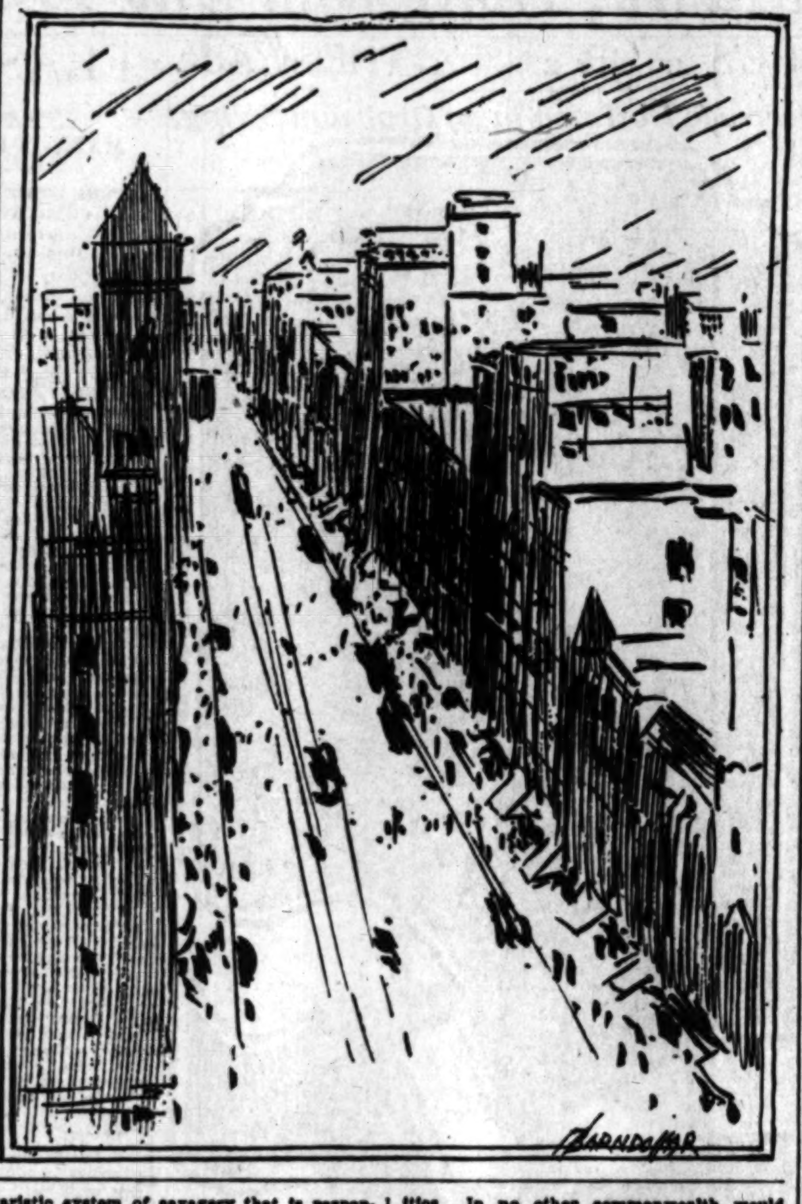
III.

This article is written for the good of those who, because of blood ties, associations and false ideas, are unconsciously sympathizing with the German cause as against America and her allies in this supreme struggle for the safety and independence of all nations. There are thousands of pro-Germans in America today who, possibly, are hardly aware of the fact that they are pro-German. It is difficult to throw off blood ties; it is not easy to escape old associations and insistent memories, and it is harder still to entirely rid oneself of a false philosophy which generations of tyrants have been instilling into the brain cells of one's ancestors.

The near-Germans and those of German blood in America who cannot see the righteousness of the Allied cause are in the wrong country. However, they are here and they are here because they came, desiring to throw off the yoke of oppression and to better their condition, or else they are here because they were born in this country. In either case they owe their allegiance and their lives to the government which is fighting to protect them. The Times considers it only fair to warn them that they are watched and that their every thoughtlessly-seditious remark and every foolish act is recorded. They are not truly loyal to America, nor can they well be considered spies—yet because of early associations or false teachings, or both, they seem to have a leaning toward Germany and to rejoice when news comes of an apparent German victory. THEY ARE ON DANGEROUS GROUND.

If you who read this are a member of this class of pro-Germans it will be well for you to look to your steps and to your utterances—and to your very thoughts—"for a bird of the air shall carry the voice and that which hath wings shall tell the matter." Don't talk too much! Don't gloat whenever you hear of an Allied reverse. Don't even look pleased at such news. Don't say that you wish the Allies well, but that you predicted their defeat in such-and-such an engagement. Don't take it upon yourself to circulate information or misinformation concerning American losses abroad, or of I.W.W. outbreaks in this country, or of any slight mistakes or quarrels in the Senate or in Congress. Don't do or say anything that might have a tendency to give comfort to America's enemies, either at home or in Europe. Don't herald the news of reports of German victories, either in person or by proxy. Today it is hard to know a friend from a foe and the man you trust may be waiting to "get" you. Don't use the telephone to boast to your friends or enemies about Germany's seeming success — remember that loyal ears are listening. "Shun the appearance of evil." And, above all, try to be a better American and to forget those ties, teachings and associations that, despite your good judgment and your highest ideals, would keep you bound forever to that militaristic system of savagery that is responsible for the greatest tragedy in human history.

"Oh! Say Can You See—?"



THE WHIRLIGIG.

Talk about your tattooed men, what's the matter with Francis Jonah Heney, the shrinking primrose of the foggy slopes?

Heney is the pagan promoter of Persian pattern politics. He proudly wears the brand of three different parties and at this moment is exposing an emaciated flank to receive the searing imprint of another.

He can change his politics a great deal easier than most men can change their shirts. Reports of the Weather Bureau show that in these trying times a majority of our fellow-citizens have but two shirts, but Heney has four political parties and is sobbing for more.

Propagandists who contemplate getting up political parties will do well to write to Comrade Heney—not only for advice, but for support. We have mislaid his address, but write, anyhow. Sometimes a man who can hardly support himself will cheerfully assume the engaging task of supporting four or five different political parties. It is a good deal like keeping a dog. After a man has the habit two or three more dogs don't seem to make much difference.

Heney was ever precocious in politics. As a mere child he determined his political creed by watching a merry-go-round. As he grew older it was his custom to go to the window in the morning and toss out a straw. If the wind blew it from the East he would exclaim: "Ha, ha! I'm a Republican." If the zephyr came from the south he would beat his breast and piously say: "Thank God! I am still a Democrat." If a fresh breeze gathered from the west he would inflate his nostrils and roar: "Look out for us Progressives!" If it were a blast from the north he would whimper: "I think I'm a Prohi-socialist"—and stay indoors.

Now that he has grown to man's estate he keeps a weather vane on his house—wherever that is—to indicate his political faith. It is a very simple system and one to his liking. It obviates the necessity of keeping books.

We are advised that Heney has been pried loose from his job at harpooning the packers and cast adrift. There seemed to be more of politics than patriotism in his methods of research. So he is coming back to run for Governor!

As soon as he finds out where his home is he will go there. As soon as he can shake the box to decide his politics he will register. At present he is a non-resident, non-registrant. Whatever else may be said, it cannot be charged that he is deficient in courage. For a non-registered voter to enter the State and demand the nomination for Governor on the Republican, the Democrat and the Progressive tickets must require a certain type of courage—or is it effrontery?

It is announced that Heney will have a four-ply organization. He will have a Republican committee with a Republican chairman to look after his interests in the Grand Old Party. There will be like bodies and leaders from Democratic and Progressive ranks. Also there will be a nonpartisan Heney organization to round up the mavericks. In addition to these there will be a Women-for-Heney Club, with ramifications in every county wherein susceptible dames may be found. Before this thing is over there may be a Colored Infants for Heney Club or a Clairvoyants' Heney League to see that nothing escapes.

Within the brief period of two years Heney recorded himself as a Democrat, a Republican and a Progressive, and the voters are expected to respond to so accommodating a man.

Yet it is hard to blame Heney. He is a creature of his environment and of existing conditions. He is of that type of practical politician that converts all possible means to personal ends. The real tragedy is that politicians have been suffered to so manipulate the laws of the State as to encourage this mountebank or chameleon brand of politics. In no other commonwealth would such a travesty on honor be permitted. Benighted dwellers in Darkest Africa could not be so dumb to future reckoning. Worst thing of all is the realization that the crime was committed in the name of Progressivism.

It remains to be seen what sort of welcome these varied interests will vouchsafe to the fresh eruptions of this political Cerberus.

SENSIBLE STABILITY.

It is doubtful if there is any one thing furnishing more aid and comfort to the enemy than the rather incoherent efforts of officialdom to show to the world that we are a wheatless people and that a race which, during all its existence, has held a certain standard for its bread is now starving for that familiar product.

The German militarists attempt to demonstrate to their people that America, which is hardly in the war, is already in such domestic straits as was Germany after three years of the most terrible strife in which every Prussian home was involved. If we are as soft and improvident a nation as that the German machine and German efficiency can easily wear us down and hence we are foemen hardly worthy of Teuton steel.

That is the way it looks to the propagandists of Potsdam.

With great good temper and without impairment of its patriotism The Times hopes that the government will avoid using its authority to embarrass or interrupt existing business and the normal life of the people more than is necessary. There is a rising opinion that some folks are exercising power mainly because it has been accorded them. Always with delegated authority there is a great temptation to use it, and it is unfortunate when it is unnecessarily exercised to disturb the accustomed conditions of domestic life. It sometimes happens that what seems necessary to the one in authority is not actually so. That this may be true in our present life is indicated by the number of times in which authority has reversed itself. Authority should not take the weather vane and the merry-go-round as its symbols. It should consider the industry and customs of a people as something built upon a rock, not to be disturbed until the storm has assumed the most terrible proportions. There is nothing in this but is in full accord with a definite programme of rational preparedness, for that, indeed, is building upon the rock and having anchors out besides.

There is some authority for the belief that there is more wheat stored in America at this moment than at almost any other time in the nation's history. It is right and important that this should be, but is it necessary to convey the impression that we are practically a wheatless people? If we also have large stores of corn, barley and other grains, why cannot some of that be used in export as well as wheat? Cannot the Allies learn to eat corn bread as easily as we can? Will we be bankrupt of grains before the new harvest? It is hardly supposable.

Whatever America must do it will, but there should be no undue exercise of authority on the part of those who have it. What disturbs the confidence of the people in the operations of the various branches of government and furnishes comfort to the enemy is the frequent reversals of form. Of course, when an order is made that was not necessary, it is right to go back, but would a long-headed man of mature judgment have made the order in the first place?

Whether it be running the nation's railroads or its dinner table, a consistent and far-seeing policy that blends present conditions into future needs with the least possible disturbance is to be desired.

Even baseball players are going up, as indicated by the sale of Alexander and Killifer to the Chicago National League team. Fifty thousand dollars is the advertised price. Wonder how much off for cash?

RIPPLING RHYMES.

BEWHISKERED RUSSIA.

I fear that Russia won't behave until her people learn to shave. We cannot look for good horse sense in men whose shrubbery is dense, whose lambrequins obstruct the view, and often block the traffic, too. I hope to see sad Russia rise from that deep pit in which she lies; I hope to see her rise in time, and hew a destiny sublime, but first her men will have to hew the whiskers that impede the view. No nation can be truly great whose voters pack a hundredweight of spinach up and down the street, so long it gets beneath their feet. When poor old Russia spilled the beans, and swapped her birthright for some greens, when windy demagogues arose and turned her over to her foes, when desolation o'er her crept, the Allied nations looked and wept. There was no harshness in their gaze; they sympathized with those poor jays, by fool advisers led afar from where the wreaths of glory are. The Allied nations wept and sighed, "She's hit the long toboggan slide; such spectacles disgust, deject; but what can any one expect from men whose whiskers seem to grow eight inches every hour or so?" And thus 'twill ever, always be; no future for the Russ we see, until, with motions strong and blithe, he reaps his whiskers with a scythe.

WALT MASON.

ARMY ABUSES.

[The Argonaut:] One of the minor yet really serious abuses of the confused situation at Washington—a situation tending through confusion to scandal—is that of the noncombatant commissioned officer attached to the army. For some months following our entrance into the war the War Department followed a commendable course in the bestowal of commissions. But more recently, without any change in formal rules, the practice has been less scrupulous. It is easy to believe that there must be an approach to actual corruption when we find the cautious Washington Post remarking as it does in its issue of March 24 that "a considerable number of draft age and others have been granted commissions because of influence."

The magnitude of this particular raid upon government favor and patronage is suggested by the statistics of the noncombatant branch of the service. The roster of noncombatant commissioned officers runs to a total of 62,000, about 33,000 of whom have had no military training. Eliminating from consideration some 21,000 medical officers commissioned from civil life and who are not in this connection subject to criticism, and some 25,000 or 30,000 who are actively employed in business activities or in scientific work of real importance, there remains a margin of somewhere from 10,000 to 12,000 who have found their way into the official organization of the army under the principle of safety first. This reproach does not apply to many chemists, engineers, physicists and other technologists, most of them over draft age, who at a distinct sacrifice have given up private professional practice to enter the ordnance department as first lieutenants, captains and majors, with salaries far below their private earning power. These men are really needed. Hundreds of them have responded to the call of duty and are doing fine work at Washington and elsewhere throughout the country and in France. In the quartermaster's corps there are hundreds of highly-trained and successful men of business who are making similar sacrifices.

But both the ordnance department and the quartermaster's department are heavily loaded with dead wood of draft age put in by influence; and the judge-advocate-general's department is rapidly loading up with similar incumbrances.

Thus in Washington there are many hundred youths who wear the uniform of the army, escaping the drudgery of the draft cantonments, simply because of political or other form of pull. Washington has found a name for this brand of slacker who gets a commission to cover his slacking. He is styled a "slicker." Already the abuse has become a near-scandal. Congress has become impressed with the facts, and the bureau chiefs who have been protecting the slickers are growing cautious. Probably there will be less of this particular kind of mischief in the future.

PICKING 'EM OUT.

She went to buy a postage stamp.
The clerk put out a sheet
Containing hundreds of the things,
all pink and white and neat.
She looked them over quite a while,
then, reaching toward the center
With her lorgnette, she said: "That one." None other would content her.
Picking 'em out!

She stood before a turning-stile at entrance to a store,
And let the empty spots go 'round
a dozen times or more.
At last she saw a stall in which she thought she'd feel at ease,
And sauntered through it to the street, as calmly as you please.
Picking 'em out!

She went where bargains great were shown. A thousand hankies lay
Each like to each as e'er you saw two neighboring stalks of hay.
She handled every one of them a score of times, and then Selected one just like the rest—this always-shopping hen.
Picking 'em out!

I met her husband, recently—he surely was a shock.
He looked the final remnant of a badly-damaged stock.
And as I sized the fellow up, I murmured low: "Great Scott!
Here is conclusive evidence that sometimes she was not Picking 'em out!"

I GUESS SO.

BY CHARLES F. LUMMIS.

Mathematics skipped me. My father doted on quaternions. My youthful son eats algebra alive—whereas I was "canned" for it in Harvard, forty years ago. All three of us had appetites for Languages—and I had to learn four before I was ten, and smatters of seven more, later. Some of which I have been able to disembarrass my memory of—particularly the English.

I used not only to be Acquainted with Papa English, but to have a deep Filial Respect. But while I was being Probable Son in Spanish-America, Papa died; on my return I found Stepfather Newspaperese. Some of it I can understand without an Umpire—and have to use it to make myself understood of such as talk War-Bread Talk—"without no wheat in it." I am no purist (as some fortune teller may have advised you;) and I greatly believe that "Language was Made for Man, NOT Man for Language." I make it myself, if there's no classic Ready-made at hand or second-hand. That's anyone's privilege. But whatsoever tailor takes shears to the uncut bolts of Speech to clothe his naked Thought withal had best be sure of his pattern first, as well as sure that the goods are all wool and at least thirty-two inches wide; and cut his garment according. For it must be—Old or New Talk—it must FIT! It must be first logical (if new,) intelligible, anyhow, clear and forcible if to survive.

Slang is lovable or loathesome—according as it is. Some of it is "the makin's" of Language; some of it—well, isn't. Phrases now revived as slang are in the Bible and Shakespear. Some of the slang invented of late will be an enduring part of later English. Much more of it will die in the gutter where it was spawned. I remember the timid slang of fifty years ago—most of you would have to have an interpreter for most of it today; but some of it is in our common speech.

The worst thing about slang is that it Impoverishes our Mouths. It Painlessly Extracts all the Synonym Teeth we have and leaves us Gumming with one adjective where our ancestor Betters had established for us from fifty to 100. A reasonable example is "Some" in its new use. I'm generous, and pick a Short Cut (another name for Slang) which really will perdure. It will eventually replace its parent phrase.

"Some day, eh!" "Wasn't that Some Dinner?" "I call that Some Sermon!"

Well, the Father of it was slang itself, two centuries ago—"Something of a Day," "Something of a Sermon." "Some" was a Real Word when it first walked into the dictionary. And "Thing" is one of the powerfullest Anglo-Saxon words, by birth—an Object, Council, Parliament, Cause and a lot more of Respectful Meanings. We, who respect nothing nowadays, wipe our feet on these diminished words, which were yeomen when our ancestors were clodhoppers.

But "Some," in place of a phrase, has come to stay. It isn't elegant, nor even yet respectable—but it will be; for most of us are already "cutting that corner."

On the other hand, if you will take your little spoon you can dig out of your ears a great many words and phrases that have stuck in that wax which God put there to keep the flies out—a great many fool expressions, which you have heard and may have used, but which you know before God you aren't proud to use, and wouldn't use in Particular Company; and that you know in your heart will not be immortal Sons of Speech, but will die almost "a-bornin'."

To "make you eat your words" has a naughty sense to all of us. It means Retract what we have said—and humbly. And few of us are Too Darn Humble to Hurt. But, on the other hand, it does no harm for us, on our own initiative, to Chaw our Words a little, before we spit them forth. The mouth is as far from the brain as it can get without hiding under the chin. Sometimes, with some people, it seems even farther.

But speaking of Mathematics, and how I abhor them—I find that the "Forty Fat Commissions" of California agree with me in the only one thing in which we do agree. If you are tired of the Chinese puzzle or solitaire or any other fool way to kill the only true friend you have—and the last you'll call for on your last bed—write any California Commission for Figgers!

I'm a devil with 'em when I catch 'em (I mean Figgers; the Commissions you can't catch—and if you did, Name o' God, what would you do with them? But if you'll open the trap and let loose to me a Census Mouse, you never saw a crueler cat to play with it before the ultimate eat-up. I love to compare—to prove by statistics—how much bigger the horticulture of California is than the total area of Massachusetts, and seventy-leven Charities of this sort. But no California State Commission loves this cat. I think the pulpit of next Sunday will have to take the text of "The Dam Incompetency of Hirelings."

If ex-President Taft isn't an American, I guess we'll have to search La Brea for the fossil remains of one. I agree with him in almost everything except his Equator—which is about three times as Circumferent as I would prefer to revolve with. But Our Taft "Lives Upstairs"—and when he opens his mouth it is to let out something from his brain and not from his abdomen. His article on our having "lived in a fool's paradise," our unpreparedness even yet for the war, tells authoritatively and far better what I have been trying to say here for the last year, and the very same gospel The Times has consistently preached. As "Mister Antonio" says to the applause, "That nice noise to me," that W. H. T. "agrees." But the point is that we have to Watch and Correct our inevitable blunders; and that we have to "dig in" and "dig down" and dig up" and—WORK!

Appraisement.

FOOD CONTROL LANDS VALUED.

Report on Long Beach Site of Channel Made.

Asked Hundred Thousand More than Available.

Over Eight-tenths of a Million Dollars.

Supervisors yesterday received the report of the experts appointed to obtain an appraisement of land at Long Beach desired for the 300-foot-wide channel to carry waters harnessed under the Flood Control plans, and found that the appraisement of values of 80 acres of the land was in excess of the fund available for the construction of the channel.

The total appraisement as reported by G. E. Gardner and A. ... Miller was $806,801. The ... prices asked were for the ... Park tract, $162,000, improvements, $12,350. The lowest ... was $3000 from another property owner.

The fund in the hands of the Supervisors when the bonds have been sold will be $700,000. This is insufficient to meet the demands of property owners. Supervisor Dodge stated yesterday that if the channel is to be built, the property owners will have to scale their values 30 per cent. The channel proposed is to extend from ... road to the ocean front and highways will be reserved on each side of the water front.

The appraisers also reported that many property owners live outside of California and although letters had been written, no replies had been received as to the value they place on their holdings in Long Beach.

The decorations will be sheaves of grain, corn, fodder and other kinds of farm products. Big pumpkins will furnish shades for many of the lights. A band will play old-time dance music during the evening and there will be many unique features to add to the evening's entertainment.

Assisting Mrs. Griffith in receiving will be Mme. Ellen Beach Yaw, Mrs. ... R. Hervey, F. G. Calkins, ..., Paul E. Haugh, F. S. ..., Willis Mead, B. F. Thorp, ... Fellows and Charles Sumner

MEDICAL CORPS STILL SHORT.

Military Need for Doctors is Great—Appeal Made to Los Angeles.

The need of physicians for the Medical Officers' Reserve Corps is urgent, according to Dr. E. Avery Newton, chairman of the Auxiliary Medical Defense Committee of Los Angeles County, who issued an appeal yesterday to physicians, Dentists, nurses and pharmacists who are not members of local associations, asking them to join.

Dr. Newton quoted a paragraph from a letter just received by him from Dr. Franklin Martin of the national committee, in which it is stated that California has 5687 registered physicians, of whom 783 have been recommended for commissions. This makes 13.8 per cent., placing California thirtieth in the list of States. It is hoped that California will add at least 200 to those already of record as members of the corps.

A special meeting of physicians, dentists, pharmacists and nurses will be held this evening in the auditorium of the old Los Angeles Normal School, Fifth and Olive streets, at which this matter will be considered.

DRINKS CHLOROFORM.

Man Cited on Alimony Charge Finds Postponement has Been Ordered and Death Attempt Follows.

Drinking the contents of a bottle of chloroform, John Thomas Kenney fell screaming to the floor just outside of the divorce court, yesterday. His cries brought the bailiffs of the four courtrooms running to quiet the uproar. They found Mr. Kenney unconscious and the empty bottle near him.

He was carried into a witness-room and first-aid remedies administered with some effect. Later he was taken to the Receiving Hospital.

Mr. Kenney, an elderly man, was ordered to appear in Judge Wood's court for failing to pay alimony to Mrs. Alta L. Kenney of No. 417 Ganahl street. Her attorneys asked that the case go over until next Monday. Mr. Kenney had asked Clerk Hughes for information about the case, then walked into the corridor, where, in a fit of despondency, he attempted to end his life, it is said.

IN WHITE SLAVE CASE.

After Five Years.

EMPIRE DAY SUITS ENDED.

Long Beach 'Adjusts' All but One of Claims.

Latter to be Settled Soon, it is Stated.

About Twenty-five Thousand Total to be Paid.

The city of Long Beach has satisfactorily adjusted all but one of the suits for damages growing out of the Empire Day disaster in that city on May 24, 1913. This final suit will be settled soon. Twenty-three actions came before Presiding Judge Wellborn yesterday and the stipulations of the attorneys were approved. They aggregated a total settlement of $24,450.

About 188 damage suits were filed following the disaster due to the collapsing of the auditorium pier. The damages approximated $3,500,000. A test suit was made of the George Chafor action and the point raised was whether the city of Long Beach exercised a governmental or a proprietory interest. The Chafors won a verdict of $7500. An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court, which decided finally that the city of Long Beach was liable. Since then the city has been busy adjusting the claims. In a few instances verdicts were given.

The claims adjusted yesterday and the amounts stipulated to are:

Mary Fisher and John Fisher, $2000; Eleanor R. McGregor, $1100; Claire McGregor, $700; Jennie W. and C. Lee Jones, $1000; C. H. Prax, $1000; Elizabeth Long, $2650; Joy Lee, $500; Emma E. Hord, $750; Mary E. Hess, $1500; F. N. Hess, $500; Mary J. Russell, $1600; Margaret and John Miller, $1750; Ellen I. Ruiter, $5000; H. S. Bayless, $3000; Irene Bayless, $2000; Fannie and John Bargh, $750; Margaret and J. C. Collie, $750; Elizabeth Lucas, $600; Barbara McAllister, $5000; Benedicte Wrensted, $750; Laura F. Lewis, $1000; Helen M. McCutcheon, $1250.

GRAND JURY TO TAKE UP AGASSIZ CASE.

MATTER WILL BE SUBMITTED TO BODY BY UNITED STATES DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

United States District Attorney O'Connor announced yesterday that he will bring to the attention of the Federal grand jury the cases of the members of the crew of the Alexander Agassiz, who are now in the County Jail under a bond of $10,000 each, after an appearance before United States Commissioner Hammack.

The rearrest of Miss Maude Lochrane in San Diego, following her release on Saturday, means that another allegation of violation of the espionage act probably will be filed against her. She was no sooner out of jail at San Diego, it is stated, than she began to denounce President Wilson and the American government. She is an American citizen, however, and cannot be interned.

Of the five members of the crew, Richard Brandt, Frank Velpert and Arthur Martens are Germans; Hendrick Kappala is from Holland, and Charles Boston is an American. They are all charged with violation of the espionage act.

That Miss Lochrane is not as innocent of the purposes of the raider as her evidence before the prize court first showed is the belief of Federal authorities. Miss Lochrane is now in the County Jail at San Diego and will be brought before United States Commissioner C. E. Burch there soon.

GENERAL'S WIFE DIES.

Attack of Heart Disease is Fatal to Spouse of Veteran Civil War Officer.

SAY OCEAN PARK FIRM SHOULD BE BANKRUPT.

J. R. McKinnie, A. L. Abrahams and L. Lindsay, creditors of the Ocean Park Pier Company, filed a petition in the United States District Court yesterday, asking that the corporation be adjudged a bankrupt. McKinnie has a claim of $8866.66; Lindsay of $21,366.66, and Abrahams, $65.50. It is alleged that the company is insolvent and that on February 1, 1918, it committed an act of bankruptcy in that it paid over to the Frazer Million-dollar Pier Company certain moneys.

T. M. Dack, who says he formerly was a farmer, filed a petition in bankruptcy yesterday. He gave his liabilities as $64,825, of which $58,025 is unsecured, with assets of only $100, the alleged value of personal belongings, all exempt under the law.

D. Bonoff, a furrier, doing business at No. 703 South Broadway, also filed a bankruptcy petition. He sets out his debts as $28,280.17, all unsecured, and assets of $9295, of which $6000 is the alleged value of the stock in trade.

IN FEDERAL BUILDING.

A meeting of heads of the various departments in the Federal Building was held yesterday in the courtroom of United States District Judge Trippet to boost the sale of the third Liberty Loan Bonds. Collector of Customs Elliott, who is in charge of the branch of the work that has to do with contributions by Federal employees, presided. Both Collector Elliott and Judge Trippet delivered addresses urging everybody to do their utmost at the present crisis in the history of the country.

It was agreed that a close combing of the various offices in the Federal Building should be made, to the end that every man and woman be urged to contribute to the utmost of their ability and that they should engage in a campaign to influence friends and acquaintances on the outside.

Daily meetings will be held during the pendency of the bond campaign to see how the subscriptions are coming in and to stiffen up the weak places, if such should develop.

Preceded by a parade in which a battalion from the Naval Reserve training camp, a company of marines, the Coast Artillery bands, the Lasky Home Guards, and representatives of the Red Cross, Boy Scouts and other organizations will take part, a big meeting in the interest of the Liberty Loan drive will be held Saturday afternoon on the grounds of the Hollywood High School. The parade will start at 2 p.m. from the Lasky studio. A. Henry Woodward of the studio is in charge.

NOT WORRYING OVER CONFISCATION TALK.

GAS COMPANY OFFICIAL SAYS IT WILL ABIDE BY DECISION OF THE GOVERNMENT.

That there is a stalemate in the power fight between the Bureau of Power and Light and the private corporations was noted yesterday when the legal department of the Board of Public Service Commissioners announced that "there is nothing to report."

The battles between the solicitors for the city and those of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation have not been staged the past ten days. Pending a legal ruling there appears to be no disposition on the part of the city solicitors to enter the territory claimed by the local corporation.

Champ S. Vance, vice-president of the gas company, said: "We are paying no attention to the statement that the government is to confiscate our property, or that the city is to take over our plant. We are willing to abide by the ruling of the State Fuel Administrator and the Federal officials. We have perfect confidence in the ability of the government to handle this matter."

An injunction suit has been brought by Attorney H. C. Beach for the corporation, in which it is intended to thresh out whether the city has the right to parallel the lines of the private company and thereby invade territory now served by the corporation.

The question of the government loaning the city a vast sum to develop the hydroelectric power has not yet been determined. It will be urged that in the event that this money is available that it be used to develop the hydroelectric energy and distribute that energy over the existing distributing systems now in use.

Police Records Show Angelenos Take on Liquor at Watts and Then Come Back.

Thirty-nine men appeared before Police Judge Richardson yesterday, charged with being drunk. All the men declared they had secured whisky at Watts and Vernon and brought it to this city.

In passing sentence, Judge Richardson severely arraigned the practice of making the city the dumping ground for surrounding wet districts. Each of the accused was given a sentence of $20 or twenty days. All but five paid the fine.

Chief of Police Butler said yesterday that the Sunrise Court, where men arrested for drunkenness were formerly released when sobered up, had been done away with, as all cases now showed that men were hunting for liquor and that environment was no longer a factor.

LAWYER'S WIFE HELD ON BAD-CHECK CHARGE

Mrs. M. A. Sullivan, wife of a Los Angeles attorney living at No. 1807 West Vernon avenue, was arrested yesterday afternoon in her home on complaint of the San Francisco authorities, charged with having passed a fictitious check for $175 in that city last week. She is being held at police headquarters pending further investigation by local police.

QUESTIONS PAYMENT FOR PRISONERS' FOOD.

C. H. Parsons, an employee of a local bank, put a question up to the Supervisors yesterday. He wanted to know, in so many words, why the county instead of the Sheriff did not get the benefit of the per diem paid by the Federal government to the Sheriff for feeding Federal prisoners.

The Supervisors named 12 cents a meal for county prisoners or 24 cents a day, the prisoners being fed twice. Quite a number of Federal prisoners have been lodged in the County Jail, and the price for their meals is 50 cents a day. The Supervisors referred the communication to County Consel Hill for a report.

WALL STREET ABSORBED IN THE LIBERTY LOAN.

Stocks Neglected, Yet Dealings Exceeded Dull Sessions Last Week.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, April 8.—Stocks were more or less neglected today by reason of Wall street's complete absorption in the new Liberty Loan. Dealings exceeded any of last week's dull sessions by a slight margin, but the market's narrow range indicated the perfunctory character of the trading.

Meager advices from the western theater of the war afforded the shorts a pretext for exerting occasional pressure, but in important shares this caused only moderate impairment.

The rare intervals of activity after the irregular forenoon were accompanied by offerings of motors, shippings and obscure specialties at reversals of 1 to 2½ points, whereas a few stocks recently favored by pools averaged 1 point advances. American Ice common and preferred were conspicuous for their extreme gains of 4 and 4⅛ points, respectively.

Minimum quotations were registered in the final hour, the further reaction accompanying an advance in call loans from 4 to 6 per cent., presumably in consequence of last Saturday's adverse bank statement. Sales amounted to 245,000 shares.

Virtually no funds were obtainable at the longer-time periods, but quotations were slightly higher, 6 per cent. being offered for accommodations extending from three to six months.

The bond market was featureless, aside from further selling of Liberty issues, especially the second 4's, at gradual declines. Total sales, par value, aggregated $4,175,000.

United States bonds, old issues, were unchanged on call.

STOCK MARKET DULL; ON LOCAL EXCHANGE.

TRUE OIL DRILL IN BLUE SHALE PROSPECTS GOOD FOR STRIKE.

Yesterday was decidedly dull on the local Stock Exchange, which was, of course, to be expected. The brokers are not trying to do anything more than handle the little business which will voluntarily find its way into the exchange this week, there is no evidence of their trying to "bull or bear" on anything and little soliciting and recommending of certain stocks as being "good buys," etc., is going on. They have volunteered their services to anyone subscribing to Liberty Bonds in any way they can be of assistance, gratis.

Word was received from Oatman that the Gold Ore mill started promptly at 7 o'clock this morning, which caused the stock to advance 2 points in the afternoon session, with quite a demand for it; in the neighborhood of 14,000 shares changing hands. Opening at 40 Gold Ore was the leading stock in shares sold and closed at 42 with 43 2-8 asked.

Reports from the True Oil property are to the effect that drilling is progressing very satisfactorily. The blue shale which the drill is now in has a better showing of oil with increased depth. The superintendent of the work states he is positive that a well of commercial proportions will be brought in with the final penetration of the shale. It is said the financial condition of the company is good and developments are being watched locally with a great deal of interest.

In the oil list Union was the only active stock fluctuating from 104.87½ to 105.25, closing at 105.00 with 105.25 asked.

MATERIAL UPTURN FEATURE OF CORN.

BULLISH CROP REPORT AND NEW STYLE OF TRADING HAD GOOD EFFECT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, April 8.—Bullish interpretation of the crop report, together with official notice that new style trading would go into effect on Thursday led to a material upturn today in the value of corn. Prices closed firm, 5-8 cents net higher, 1.27 1-4 May. Oats gained 1 1-4@1-8 to 1 3-8@1½ cents, and provisions a shade to 10 cents.

Corn exhibited strength right from the outset. General belief prevailed that the May delivery would reach the maximum level of prices as soon as business in new style future deliveries began for the change in rules makes the commercial grades of corn the contract grades.

Oats were firmer largely in sympathy with corn. Packers buying rallied provisions.

CHICAGO, April 8.—Cash sales: Corn, No. 2, yellow, 1.90@1.93; No. 3 yellow, 1.65@1.73; No. 4 yellow, 1.60@1.65. Rye, No. 2, nominal. Barley, 1.70@1.90. Timothy, 5.00@8.25. Clover, 28.00@31.00.

HEAVY BREAKS NOTED IN COTTON TRADING.

MARKET CLOSED IRREGULAR AND NERVOUS, MARKED BY BIG DECLINES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 8.—Cotton broke rather heavily on the local market in the late trading this afternoon, losing practically 100 points from the levels which has been attained in a promising start in the early morning and closed in an irregular and nervous market at net declines of from 50 to 69 points.

The break appeared to be due to a variety of causes, chief of which probably was the conspicuous absense of the strong trade demand which has hitherto been an almost unfailing support of the market. Apparently spinners have issued orders to their representatives to keep out of the market, until the outcome of the conference to be held in Washington Wednesday with the War Industries Board is known. As the speculative side of the market still leaned to the oversold condition after last week's advances, and Friday's liquidation had been made up again on Saturday's and this morning's advances, the withdrawal of this support left the market in a very tender position, susceptible to any organized selling.

Then there was a continuation of good crop news, particularly from Texas, where the long arrears of rain appear in a fair way to be made up. This steady bear crop news has been overborne by market condtions and buying pressure, heretofore, but its persistence apparently contributed to underlying uneasiness, which found expression when the opportunity came.

NEW ORLEANS, April 8.—The New Orleans spot cotton market today: Low ordinary, 27.50; ordinary, 28.75; good ordinary, 30.00; strict good ordinary, 31.25; low middling, 32.50; strict low middling, 33.62; middling, 34.50; strict middling, 35.38; good middling, 35.75; strict good middling, 36.00; middling fair, 36.38; middling fair to fair, 36.63; fair, 36.80. Sales, 125 bales; to arrive, 550 bales; delivered on contract, 100 bales. Tone of market quiet.

BUSINESS TALKS TO WOMEN.

BY ELLEN LANE SPENCER,
Author of "The Efficient Secretary."

Recreation is a Necessity for Everyone.

We are passing through a serious time, and all the help we can give in the way of productive effort we should. There can be no denying that. Yet we should not lose sight of the fact that we have a duty to ourselves in keeping fit and in good health. It will not aid business, and through business the work of the war, if we work so hard for one month that we must remain away from our desks or machines for the succeeding two because we have become ill from overwork.

Even the boys who are carrying on the real war work on the battleships and in the trenches are not deprived of some recreation and pleasure, for those in charge of them know that no one can bring a mind or body to work with its greatest efficiency if that mind and body have not had some relaxation in the way of recreation.

Theaters, moving pictures, athletic sports must continue even in war time, if we are to be kept a nation of fit workers. It is, therefore, your duty and mine to get a little recreation now and then between working days, so that we may go back to our work all the more able to accomplish the things there are for us to do.

EDUCATION BOARD HITS AT SEDITION.

INDORSES SUSPENSION OF STUDENT—NO GERMAN TALK ON SCHOOL PREMISES.

A strong blow for patriotism in the city schools was struck last evening by the Board of Education when that organization announced its intention to sustain the action of Supt. Shiels in suspending Fred Reinhold, the Polytechnic High School boy who recently gained fame as a seditionist by criticising this city's educational methods. The action was taken as a result of the appearance of the boy and his mother, Mrs. Alice M. Reinhold, before the committee on teachers and schools. The board also issued an ultimatum against the teaching or discussion of the German language on any public school premises.

Maj. A. F. Judson, former president of the California Loyal League, but at present in readiness to start for Washington in compliance with governmental orders, submitted for approval an oath of allegiance which he would have required of every employee of the board. Speaking of his action, Maj. Judson said:

"Many complaints have been made that we have teachers in our public schools who are not above suspicion of being disloyal, and I suggest an oath which each employee be given three days to sign or else asked to tender his resignation. The school is the last place where disloyalty should exist. Men and women in the employ of the school system are in every sense officers of the school army of the nation, and disloyalty on their part is nothing less than treason."

In accordance with the government's request for food conservation, unusual efforts have been put forth to stimulate interest in agricultural work among school children. Clayton Palmer, superintendent of agriculture in the city schools, announced that at present there are a total of 1133 project workers under supervision. In his report, Mr. Palmer said: "Co-operation of principals and teachers is highly gratifying. Any evidence of slackers will be brought to the attention of the board promptly. The work in the San Fernando Valley is reaching the people and results are highly pleasing."

The board is at work on a plan to clean up and erect new school buildings. The new budget is to provide for the building of a new structure, of stone and cement, at Hollywood High School.

TO PROTECT SAN DIEGO.

Extension of Harbor Defenses Planned in Order Issued at Washington.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Active preparations are under way for increased protection of the harbor of San Diego, Cal., in conformity with the national coast defense project adopted some time ago.

Orders issued today appoint a special board to make recommendations. The board includes the commanders of the South Pacific artillery district and of the San Diego coast defenses and the district engineer officer of Los Angeles.

In the absence of official information on the subject Capt. Leeds, United States District Engineer here, declined to discuss it yesterday.

Six in Custody.

CHARGE THIRTY "JOBS" TO ALLEGED BOY BURGLARS.

WITH the arrest late yesterday of two men suspects in the gang of alleged boy burglars said by the police to have been responsible for the looting of the branch postoffice at Twenty-third street and Grand avenue on the night of March 23, and for more than thirty other burglaries of drug stores, oil stations and residences, Detectives Wherley and Condoffer of the University Station last night believed they had the entire gang in custody.

The two arrests were made by the detectives at Eastlake and Alhambra avenues, where they captured Lawrence McMullen and John Wright, both claiming to be under 17 years old. Thomas Fayne, 16; Dan Donovan, 15; Louis Mabes, 18, and Reed Spence were the other prisoners arrested late Sunday night and early yesterday morning.

The postoffice robbery was the last and most daring undertaking of the alleged burglars. Fayne, McMullen, Wright and Donovan were the ones who participated in that theft, it is alleged, and they are being held without bail for the Federal authorities. They will be arraigned before the United States Commissioner tomorrow.

Among the burglaries credited by the police to the youthful prisoners are those of a drug store at Tenth street and Grand avenue, oil station at Washington and Hill streets, a creamery at Ninth and Crocker streets and numerous others. The officers say they have obtained confessions from all of the youths in custody.

A small safe, said to have been taken out of the branch postoffice, conducted by E. M. Philips, which the boys took through a small side window, and later were trying to break open on a lot next to No. 2151 South Los Angeles street, is held as evidence against the suspects. The safe was recovered by the University police, when E. R. Anderson of No. 2151 South Los Angeles street heard the noise made in attempting to force open the iron box, and notified the police.

Prince Hopkins.

this city are now under observation by the Federal agents, and that evidence is being collected, which will result in the wholesale arrest of many Reds, I.W.W.'s, pacifists, radicals and Socialists, in the near future.

"Boyland" is situated on a broad plateau and occupies thirty acres of ground. The buildings are set in a hollow square formation with a large court, where a relief map of the world is done in cement, 200x400 feet in dimension. The oceans, lakes, islands and continents, as well as volcanoes, are shown in relief on the gigantic map.

Hopkins had planned to have the government establish a branch agricultural experiment station on the grounds occupied by his school. An amphitheater capable of seating 5000 persons was a part of the original plan for "Boyland."

POLICE SEARCH FOR ACTIVE PICKPOCKETS.

All policemen and detectives were yesterday notified to be on the lookout for a pair of expert pickpockets who have been working the street cars coming from the different railroad stations.

Yesterday A. G. Hanna, a traveling salesman, living at No. 747 Lyon street, reported to the police that two well-dressed men about 30 years old, jostled him while on a street car coming from the Arcade station to the King George Hotel. On arriving at the hotel he found that a purse containing ten $20 bills, several receipts and contracts had been taken from his inside coat pocket.

HAD RELATIVE HERE.

Ensign Thomas W. Draper of Brighton, Md., who was killed in a seaplane accident last week at the Naval Training School at Pensacola, was a cousin of Mrs. Franc Ogilby Wood, who is well-known socially in Los Angeles. The death of Ensign Draper removed a member of one of the old New York families. His father was Col. T. Waln-Morgan Draper and his mother was Louise Kelsey Draper, both of well-known New York families.

Banker Passes Away

grandson, William Lemax Graves III.

From 1872 until 1883 Dr. Graves was actively engaged in the practice of his profession in California. In the latter year he established the Farmers' Bank of Fresno, and continued in the banking business there until May of 1888, when he came to Los Angeles. Here he assisted in establishing the National Bank of California, in 1889, and in 1895 he was elected president of the Merchants' National Bank. This position he held until his resignation, in 1903, owing to ill health. He was a director of the Security Trust and Savings Bank. For the past few years he has lived a retired life.

TOO MANY HUSBANDS.

Man Obtains Annulment of Marriage to Cabaret Singer; Introduces Letter.

After she had left him, Vernon E. Grove found a letter to his wife, Beulah M. Grove, which indicated that she had been the wife of two other men before she married him. This letter was signed "Your husband, unless you have changed it."

Mr. Grove sought a decree of annulment in Judge York's court from Beulah M. Lane-Sullivan-McGregor-Grove. It developed that Mrs. Grove had been divorced from Mr. Sulivan, married John McGregor and, while the ties still held, wedded Mr. Grove. She is a cabaret entertainer. Judge York granted the decree.

The letter offered in court contained this sentence:

"I am going to quit this game next month for good. I am going to St. Paul and go on the road as dining-car conductor. It pays $100 a month and expenses; besides you can steal a little change."

Hand your figuring to a Dalton

Business is largely a matter of figures. The total figuring in any business, counted in hours, is amazing!

Save most of those hours, reduce the hour-cost, cut out mistakes—and you have real figure-efficiency—you reduce "overhead."

It's easily done. Turn your figuring over to a young girl with a 10-KEY DALTON. Don't spend dollar-an-hour time on a twenty-cents-an-hour job.

The 10-KEY DALTON not only adds—it subtracts, multiplies and divides—and lists every operation.

It's the speediest calculating machine made—and the simplest—because there's but one key for each figure.

The DALTON will figure payrolls, estimates, inventories, costs, trial balances, invoices—without errors and in record time.

Any one can use it—no experience or practice is necessary—just touch the keys of the number wanted, and the machine will do the rest.

And the 10-KEY DALTON can be operated by the Touch Method, without looking at the keys.

Try the DALTON in your own office. Telephone, call or mail coupon below for full information.

FOUR CUPS FOR A CENT

"Listening In" on the Telephone Merger

by C. F. Mason

Without delaying or interrupting the service, the lines of more than 130,000 telephones are being connected so as to entirely eliminate the double telephone nuisance in Los Angeles.

The mingling of the present dual telephone plants and the unification of the service, now in progress, is one of the most difficult and unique feats of telephone engineering ever undertaken.

Under normal conditions this consolidation would be a most difficult and stupendous task; under the abnormal conditions caused by the war it presents almost insurmountable difficulties.

Our country is at war. War conditions exist. The great factories are bending their entire energies to war orders. The Government requires copper for munitions faster than the mines can produce it, and copper wire in vast quantities is needed to establish communication "at the front" and also at home to serve the great cantonments and naval bases.

The demand for copper wire for war purposes curtails the available supply and the lack of material adds greatly to the difficulties of the problem of combining the telephone plants here.

At the front experts are needed to construct, operate and maintain the wire lines of communication, and the Government has drawn from the various telephone and telegraph companies for service in the signal corps the men best fitted for this work. More than 6900 of these men whose services are very much needed by the telephone companies throughout the country have entered the service of the Government, and from the Southern California Telephone Co. alone 115 experienced telephone men have left the company's service to help win the war.

In addition to the problems of men and material in connection with the merger here, it is necessary to teach every operator in the city how to handle calls from automatic telephones to manual telephones and vice versa. This must be done in advance of the merger, and when the merger is accomplished the public must be instructed in the use of the combined service.

This merger is not easy. We have considered each phase of it carefully and painstakingly. Every effort is being made to insure its successful consummation. We are doing our best, and we know that the public will show their appreciation by continuation of the good will thus far accorded us, and with the good will of the public it will be much easier for the company to bring about the great conveniences of consolidated service.

We are not making any apology for the present telephone service. We are giving the best service possible under the present abnormal conditions.

One by one I expect to take up in these columns the various phases of the problem before us and to deal with them in all frankness and sincerity.

CHIEF ELEY TO BE REINSTATED.

Mayor Says He Can go Back on Job at Once.

Charges Against Fire Head are Dismissed.

Third Trial Would be Only Further Expense.

Following the dismissal yesterday of the charges against suspended Fire Chief A. J. Eley, Mayor Woodman stated that he will reinstate Mr. Eley as head of the fire department. In fact, he notified Mr. Eley that he can resume the position at his own pleasure. Mr. Eley said last night he probably will rest a few days before taking charge of the department.

The fire chief was suspended upon his own request when it was announced that the grand jury had returned an indictment against him.

Friends of Mr. Eley swarmed around the City Hall yesterday and congratulated him.

Mayor Woodman said Mr. Eley had made a very efficient fire chief and he believed it only fair to the man to reinstate him, thereby showing confidence in him.

Upon recommendation of Asst. Dist.-Atty. Selph, the case of Mr. Eley, about to undergo his third trial on a charge of having embezzled $500 from T. F. O'Neill, a former fireman, was ordered dismissed by Judge Craig yesterday morning.

Eley appeared in court accompanied by his attorney, M. F. Shannon. In asking a dismissal of the charge, Mr. Selph recalled that the case had been tried twice, both trials resulting in jury disagreements. To bring a third trial, he said, would simply entail further expense for the county.

The jury at the first trial in December stood six to six. At the conclusion of the second trial last week the vote was seven to five for acquittal.

Eley was charged under a grand jury indictment a year ago with misappropriating $500, which had been ordered paid for the benefit of O'Neill from the Police and Firemen's Emergency Fund Association on May 3, 1916. O'Neill was then suffering from a fatal illness and died about two weeks later.

Attorneys for Eley produced certain receipts purporting to have been signed by O'Neill. The prosecution at the first trial attempted to prove these receipts forgeries by calling in several handwriting experts.

Government Prepares to Pounce on Income Tax Slackers.

A meeting having to do with the rounding up of the income tax "slackers" was held yesterday at the office of Collector Carter. Those present, in addition to the collector, were Assistant United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue David A. Gates, and W. W. Anderson, who is in charge of the big force of internal revenue agents who are about ready to pounce upon the slackers in the Sixth District.

Assistant Commissioner Gates will return from San Francisco in a few days, when a definite programme will be arranged. A sweeping campaign to get the "slackers" will be inaugurated, it was stated yesterday.

PORKLESS DAY IS ABOLISHED.

Cured and Fresh Products Freed from Ban.

Saving of Wheat Now Chief Object Here.

Milk to Remain at Present Price for Some Time.

There are to be no more porkless Tuesdays here, at least for the present. Orders were received yesterday by the local Food Administration from Sayre Macneil at San Francisco, stating that, beginning today, all pork products either cured or fresh, may be purchased on any day of the week. The order reads: "Porkless Tuesday rule will be suspended commencing Tuesday, April 9, and continues until at least May 1."

With the elimination of pork from the restricted list, there are now no meatless days in California. It is believed that the restriction on cured pork products has allowed the government to fill orders for the Allies, although this rule is not believed to be in force in all States.

"From now on, all efforts in food conservation should be directed to the saving of wheat products," Louis M. Cole, city Food Administrator, said yesterday. "The blanks that have appeared in the papers requesting all homes that have an over allowance of wheat flour to send in a statement of the quantity on hand, are coming in by the hundreds. We are now separating and classifying them, but so far we have not been able to find anyone who has a great quantity. However, there are some places in this city, of which we have information, which have not replied, and unless they report within a reasonable time we shall take steps to make them return their excess to the regular sources for sale.

NEED FOR WHEAT.

"There should be no mistake in regard to the seriousness of the wheat situation, and no one should relax his efforts for the continued conservation of all wheat products."

All of the large dairymen in this district met yesterday with the Los Angeles Fair Price Committee, in an effort to see if there was any way by which milk could be reduced in price. The meeting was a closed session, but it developed that there is no likelihood that there will be any change in the price of milk for at least sixty days.

According to Chester W. Thompson, chairman of the committee, the dairy men showed that Los Angeles is receiving a better grade of milk than any other city in the State.

"There are two branches of the milk inspection which all milk has to undergo before it reaches the consumer in this city," he said. "The State law says that all milk must contain at least 3 per cent. butterfat and the city ordinance says that it must contain 3½ per cent. butterfat. It has been proved that all of the larger dairies that are furnishing milk to Los Angeles are delivering on an average milk which contains 4 per cent. butterfat.

IN SAN FRANCISCO.

"In San Francisco, milk averages 3 per cent., the lowest that can be delivered in this State, and San Francisco is in the heart of the dairy district with no long hauls. Los Angeles obtains most of its milk from the San Joaquin and Imperial valleys and the long haul makes the price higher. Added to this is the high price farmers have to pay for all kinds of feed.

"Brans and other feeds have advanced over 100 per cent. and until the first cut of alfalfa, which will be about the first of May, there will be no change in the present price of milk. After that there is a possibility of a slight reduction. The dairymen have convinced us that the price they are now charging is fair, considering the quality they are delivering.

"Many persons think the Fair Price Committee is not trying to assist in the reduction of living costs, but we have had and now have several articles under consideration. Until we are sure of our ground, however, we shall attempt to quote no fair prices on products other than those already listed."

All grades of potatoes made some change yesterday, while butter declined a cent and a half. Within the last nine days butter has fallen about 7 cents a pound.

SAVANT TO LECTURE ON WILSON'S PLAN.

D. Frank J. Klingberg, well-known historian of the University of Southern California, has accepted an invitation extended jointly by the United States Committee on Public Information, the League to Enforce Peace, and the Church Peace Union, to make an extended lecture tour of the Middle West early this summer, in the interests of President Wilson's programme of internationalism.

Dr. Klingberg plans to leave for the tour at the end of May. It will conclude in time for him to organize his classes in the summer session, which opens June 23. It is the plan of the League to Enforce Peace and the Church Peace Union, to send out lecturers throughout the country in pairs, each pair consisting of one clergyman and one layman. The lectures will be delivered mainly in the larger churches.

ARREST EX-OFFICER.

BETTER HOMES SHOW LIBERALLY ATTENDED.

MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN SEE BEAUTIES OF BIG EXPOSITION.

That the people of Southern California love their homes and delight in things for home attractiveness was evidenced yesterday afternoon and evening. Indeed, not only throngs of Los Angeles and suburban residents, but hundreds of visitors from eastern and other distant cities, expressed their enjoyment of Barker Bros.' "pioneer" better homes show on the Pacific Coast.

These out-of-town guests remarked, particularly, upon the spaciousness, completeness and naturalness of the more than thirty model rooms exhibited—adding that, although successful home beautiful shows have been held in several communities east of the Sierras, stores in the more restricted sections of the country have not had sufficient floor space to "put on" expositions of the elaborate magnificence and consequent charm of reality which characterize this Los Angeles show.

Two orchestras sent strains of music through the buildings, while phonographs played "homily" in various rooms, and fragrant, fresh flowers and cheerful little birds added to the spring festiveness of the air.

The better homes show will continue (free, of course,) today and tomorrow, each afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock.

NEW ANGLE NOW IN BROADWAY OPENING.

RESTRAINING ORDER OF SUPERIOR COURT ALLEGED TO BE STILL IN EFFECT.

In the Broadway opening case, which was decided against the city by Judge Works, reversed by the Appellate Court, which held that the assessment for taking property between Tenth and Pico streets was valid, and sent back to the Superior Court for new trial, a legal question was raised in contempt proceedings in the hearing before Judge Shenk yesterday.

The plaintiffs in the action, who include the Rindge Company, allege that the Board of Public Works is in contempt for adding a 5 per cent. penalty on the assessment for nonpayment of the assessment, and this, it is said, is a violation of the restraining order issued by Judge Works before the issues were threshed out before that court.

After the trial, Judge Works made the restraining order permanent. It is contended that notwithstanding the reversal of the Appellate Court, the restraining order still is in effect.

The city, through Assistant City Attorney Burnell, contends that the restraining order is merged in the judgment. Authorities are being quoted by the attorneys engaged in the case.

Continued Story.

WHERE'S BEN LIVINGSTON?

Doesn't Appear in Court in Famed "Slacker" Case.

Bench Warrant is Issued as Detectives Join Chase.

Forfeiture of a Fortune in Bonds may Follow.

On motion of Assistant United States District Attorney Lawson, United States District Judge Trippet yesterday ordered the issuance of a brench warrant for the arrest of Ben Livingston, a member of the locally infamous slacker family, and increased his bond from $2500 to $10,000. The warrant was at once placed in the hands of Federal officers for service.

An interesting tale of what Federal court officials fear is another attempt of members of the Livingston family to avoid the orderly processes of the court was revealed by this action.

When Ben Livingston and his sisters, Misses Elsie and Clara Livingston, were arraigned before United States Commissioner Hammack, ten days ago, on an information charging them with concealing the whereabouts of their father and mother, Nathan Livingston and Matilda Livingston, and of their brother, Robert S. Livingston, under indictment on charges of making false affidavits before Exemption Board No. 11, for the purpose of securing the exemption of Robert S. Livingston, the date of the preliminary hearing was set for this morning at 9:30 o'clock. At the time they all gave bond in the sum of $2500 each.

IS REARRESTED.

That night, Ben Livingston was rearrested on the charge of conspiring with his father, mother and brother to evade the conscription law, in that on August 2, 1917, he had filed the alleged false affidavits upon which the prosecution of Nathan, Matilda and Robert S. Livingston is based. He gave a bond for $2500 for his appearance on the second charge, against the protests of Assistant United States District Attorney Lawson, who wanted the bond fixed at $5000 or more.

Last Friday, Ben Livingston was indicted by the Federal grand jury on the second charge, and his attorney, J. G. Rossiter, was on Saturday last told to have his client in court, yesterday, morning, for the purpose of pleading to the indictment charging him with conspiracy.

When the case was called yesterday in Judge Trippet's court, Livingston was not present. His attorney, Mr. Rossiter, stated that he had been unable to locate him. He said he had no idea where he was. Then the action, as noted above, was taken by Judge Trippet.

BEAT BOARD BILL?

It was stated yesterday at the office of the United States District Attorney that Ben Livingston had been the object of the quest of the Burns detective agency for some time, on a charge of "beating" board bills in various parts of the city, and the Angelus Hotel is mentioned as among the alleged victims.

If Ben Livingston and his sisters, Misses Clara and Elsie, do not appear before the United States Commissioner this morning for the preliminary examination on the charge of harboring and concealing the fugitives, a motion will be made for the immediate forfeiture of their aggregate bonds of $10,000.

GRANT INJUNCTION.

Fresno Supervisors are Temporarily Restrained in Fight Involving Short Staple Cotton.

United States District Judge Bledsoe yesterday granted a temporary injunction prayed for by Garth W. Ferguson, to restrain the Board of Supervisors of Fresno county from prohibiting him from planting and cultivating short staple cotton, as provided by a county ordinance.

It is said on the part of Mr. Ferguson that he had purchased six tons of short-staple cotton seed, spent $14,000 preparing the ground for planting, and $20,000 for equipment, etc. The case will be heard in the Federal court in May on its merits. The county authorities want only long-staple cotton planted.

ISSUES MANIFESTO IN WILCOXON CASE.

If the defense in the case of the people against Dr. L. O. Wilcoxon, charged with forgery, is not ready to proceed for trial today, Judge Houser asserted yesterday, after granting another continuance, he will grant no further motion. There have been a number of continuances since a former trial ended in a disagreement of the jury.

The complaining witness is Otis Lish, who charges that his name was forged to a deed by means of which money was raised.

A jury recently convicted Dr. Wilcoxon of obtaining $500 from Bessie Hale by representing himself as a detective. He filed an application for probation.
